On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the members of the House, on page 8 of this bill, line 27, "advertising the sale of liquors and malt liquors"; this line was inserted by the Senate and then stricken out.

On page 17, line 20, "and has been a resident of this State for at least three years immediately preceding the date of the application". This was inserted by the Senate and afterward stricken out.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate to this bill.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I move to amend the motion made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McClure, that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate, by moving that on page 18, line 10, there be stricken from the bill after the word "shall" the words "In the case of a hotel or restaurant and in the case of a club may."

Also on page 23, I move to amend the motion by striking out on page 23, line 16, after the word "final", the words, "the board may also after notice and hearing revoke a club license for any reason which would justify revocation of such license by the Court."

Mr. Speaker, may I say that I regret that my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Gartner, is not here, because I know that if he were here, he would make this motion to amend, and feeling the same as he does with respect to the clubs, I make this motion, and ask the sponsor of the motion if he agrees that this amendment may be made to his motion.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. Speaker, I accept the amendment of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, offered an amendment to the motion which is a strike-out on page 18, beginning with line 10, "in the case of a hotel or restaurant, and in the case of a club may," and also on page 23 beginning with line 16 "the board may also after notice and hearing revoke a club license for any reason which would justify revocation of such license by the court."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment to the motion?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, on page 24, line 15, the bracket before and after the words "other than clubs", are an amendment to the motion and accepted by the gentlemen from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia is informed that "other than clubs" is now stricken out of the bill.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, does the motion to amend the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny include the removal of the brackets?

The SPEAKER. It does not according to my understanding of the motion of Mr. Witkin.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, then I desire also to amend the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McClure, by striking out the brackets on page 24, line 15, in front of the word "other" and after the word "clubs."

The SPEAKER. Which would include the three words "other than clubs."

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, and that would restore to the bill the words "other than clubs"? I desire to add to my motion to amend that the bracket in front of the double bracket and the bracket after the double bracket——

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia inform the Chair and the members to which line he is referring to?

Mr. SOWERS. Page 24, line 8.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bracket in front of the double bracket, in front of the word "or," and the bracket back of the double bracket back of the word "club" be stricken from the bill.

The SPEAKER. So that the language would read as follows:—Will the gentleman proceed?

Mr. SOWERS. So that the language will then be "a hotel restaurant or club licensee."

The SPEAKER. I understand that the gentleman does not want to strike out the double brackets?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, the latter part of my motion I omit.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman kindly restate his motion?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McClure, be amended by——

The SPEAKER. The chair desires to state to the gentleman from Philadelphia that he is now amending an amendment.

Mr. SOWERS. All right, Mr. Speaker, I am amending an amendment.

Mr. Speaker, I move to amend the amendment of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, on page 24, line 15, by striking out the bracket in front of the word "other," and striking out the bracket after the word "clubs," so that line 15 will read "liquor may be sold by licensees other than clubs only."

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, offers an amendment to the amendment offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, on page 24, line 15 by striking out the bracket in front of the word "other," and after the word "clubs," which would make the line then read as follows: "Liquor may be sold by licensees other than the clubs only."

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. Speaker, as maker of the motion, I will not accept the amendment of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

On the question of the amendment to the amendment by Mr. Sowers, will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, will accept the amendment to his amendment, and then I take it then that it is necessary to go to a vote on that.

The SPEAKER. The question is a matter for the body to decide rather than an individual. Therefore the question before the House will be the accepting of the amendment to the amendment.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I will try to state to you briefly, just what this amendment to an amendment means. The House inserted on page 24, line 15, the words, "other than clubs," thereby meaning that clubs of this Commonwealth may dispense among their members on week-ends intoxicating liquors. The bill went to the Senate and the Senate by amendment struck out the words that the House had inserted, and thereby prohibited clubs on Sundays and week-ends from dispensing liquor. Now, gentleman, clubs are not of recent origin, Clubs have existed for many years. King Charles II endeavored to suppress clubs, and with all the power he possessed he only succeeded in keeping his proclamation in effect for three or four days, and then found it necessary to recall that proclamation. This amendment as inserted by the Senate is in effect the same kind of a proclamation or edict that King Charles in the days of tyranny issued to England. If you take from clubs the money that keeps them functioning, you destroy them. Clubs in the United States are very numerous. In the City of Philadelphia they are very numerous. I am informed that in the country districts clubs are more numerous than they are in the cities. Let me call your attention to just a list of clubs, that come to my mind, in a hurried way: Moose, Elks, Eagles, German Alliance, German-American, Owls, Polish-American Clubs, Italian-American Clubs, Turners', social clubs of all kinds, country clubs, women's clubs, tennis clubs, athletic clubs, farm clubs, the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. The membership of these clubs is numerous—and my friend back here mentioned the Indian club, and I know where it is. Now, I hope that the Indian Club won't scare any of you, and you will still have the courage that the original Americans had when they settled America and met the Indians in twelve successful battles.

Gentlemen, clubs are an institution. To destroy clubs means to destroy an institution, and whenever you destroy an institution or a custom of a people, you immediately create something else.

From the rostrum I heard the Governor of this Commonwealth, in years gone by, when he was younger and inexperienced, say that he had chased out, or destroyed the saloon in Pennsylvania, and I then guessed, and I know now that in its place he put the speakeasy, the bootlegger, the racketeer and the gangster. I prophesy to you that if you concur in this amendment of the Senate you will in place of a club substitute the racketeer, the bootlegger and the gangster. You will continue the speakeasy and the blind tiger. Pinchot destroyed the saloon, but he successfully created a worse evil. Gentleman, clubs have many voters; May is near, and they don't hesitate to remember who are their enemies and who are their friends. They are organizations already in existence; they will take militant action, and I submit that their wishes should be heeded, and be given attention. I ask the members of this House that you fear not the Indian Club, and that you vote "aye" to put in this amendment to the amendment of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. WITKIN. On page 24, line 8, do the numerous brackets that appear before the word "or" and after the word "clubs" mean that the words "or" and "clubs" are now in the bill or out of the bill? In other words, can a club, if the bill is passed as is maintain a bar, or can it not?

The SPEAKER. The chair will not go as far as the gentleman requests in the giving of information. The bill reads, "a hotel, restaurant, or club licensee."

Mr. WITKIN. Then, Mr. Speaker, I labored under the delusion that the words, "or" and "club" are out of the bill, and I take it that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, labored under a similar delusion when he withdrew his amendment. I now ask whether it is proper to further amend the amendments that I have offered, or whether I should reserve that right until after a vote on the amendment as made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, has been taken?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest to the gentleman from Philadelphia that he withhold this particular amendment until the House acts on the amendment of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

Mr. WITKIN. I shall so do.

The SPEAKER. Therefore, the question now before the House is on the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, on page 24, line 15, that the brackets be expunged, so that the line my read, "liquor may be sold by licensees other than by clubs only."

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call?

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I second the call for a roll.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question.

Mr. WILSON. I would like to have somebody inform me, and I imagine the Speaker, because I don't know who else to ask, whether these words, "other than clubs" in the bill, whether the effect of taking out those words, or rather making this amendment, will allow clubs to sell on Sunday. I am not asking in opposition, I only want to know?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, care to reply?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I did not get the inquiry.

Mr. WILSON. I am asking whether or not under this strikeout if this motion prevails, clubs will be allowed then to sell on Sunday; whether that is the effect? I am asking for information.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, as a lawyer I answer that clubs will not be permitted to sell liquor on Sunday. They will be permitted to distribute liquor among their members. Clubs never sold under the laws of Pennsylvania. All clubs did was to dispense liquor. When a club has liquor in its treasury, or in its possession, all of that liquor belongs to the entire membership, and a man cannot buy that of which he is a part owner, and there is a Supreme Court Case to that effect. I imagine my friend from McKean has often quoted that to the judge and argued it to a jury.

Mr. WILSON. May I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILSON. For my own information solely, with no effort to influence the House, if this strikeout prevails, will the bill then provide that clubs may dispense liquor, if you prefer that word, on Sunday?

Mr. SOWERS. The bill, if the amendment prevails, will restore the condition to the same condition as existed under the Brooks High License Law. Do I make myself clear?

Mr. WILSON. May I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McClure?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. McClure, if this amendment of Mr. Sowers' prevails, would clubs then be able to dispense liquor on Sunday?

Mr. McCLURE. In my judgment they would be.

Mr. WILSON. They would?

Mr. McCLURE. Yes.

Mr. WILSON. I am asking solely for my own information.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Sowers and Mr. Long and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendment to the amendment was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment to the motion?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I move to amend the motion that I made by striking out on page 24, line 8, the bracket appearing before the bracket before the word "or," and by striking out the bracket appearing after the bracket after the word "club." My intention being that the words "or" and "club" shall be stricken from line 8, and I make that motion as a result of the information given me by the Speaker, that such an amendment would strike out the words "or" and "club," and therefore leave the bill to read on page 24, line 8, "a hotel restaurant or club."

I also move to strike out before the word "or," line 8, the bracket appearing before the word "or," and after the word "or," and line 8 the bracket appearing after the word "or." My intention being that line 8 shall read, "a hotel, restaurant or club licensee shall not maintain."

The SPEAKER. Now, will the gentleman read the line as he desires it, for the information of the House?

Mr. WITKIN. I desire line 8, page 24, to read, "a hotel or restaurant or club licensee shall not maintain."

The SPEAKER. Is that clear to the members?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SOWERS. Will the Speaker be kind enough to read the line as it would be corrected by the motion of Mr. Witkin?

The SPEAKER. Line 8 would read on the motion to amend the amendment, "a hotel, restaurant or club licensee."

Mr. SOWERS. "Shall not maintain?"

The SPEAKER. Of course, that has not been changed at all.

Mr. SOWERS. Thank you.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The question now recurs on the amendment of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, to the motion made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McClure.

The Chair requests the Clerk to read the strikeouts in the amendment of the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The Clerk again read the amendments.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I was under the impression that you were going to order a roll call. I wanted to ask for a roll call.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I second the call for a roll call.

The SPEAKER. A vote "aye" is to strike out on page 18 and page 23, and a vote "no" is to retain.

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. Speaker, I have marked on page 17, lines 20 and 21—I understand that was included in Mr. Witkin's amendment.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Indiana that the Chair a few minutes ago stated that those words were inserted by the Senate and afterwards stricken out by the Senate, and that therefore, the House would not have an oppturnity to consider that section.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Sowers and Mr. Long and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendment to the amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion to concur in the amendments made by the Senate with the amendments made by the House?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question.

Mr. SOWERS. Will the Speaker be kind enough to read the words of the bill as it would now be?

The SPEAKER. Page 18, line 10, "in the case of a hotel or restaurant and in the case of a club may" will be stricken out.

Page 23, starting on line 16, "the board may also after notice and hearing revoke a club license for any reason which would justify revocation of such license by the Court," will be stricken out.

Page 24, line 8, will read as follows: "a hotel or restaurant licensee shall not maintain."

Line 15, that line will read, "liquor may be sold by licensees other than clubs only."

Is that clear?

Mr. SOWERS. Thank you.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to concur in the amendments made by the Senate with the amendments made by the House?

The Clerk proceeded to call the roll.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will tarry with the calling of the roll, and the Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question.

Mr. SOWERS. Does a vote "aye" mean that we concur in the amendments; and does a vote "no" mean that we do not?

The SPEAKER. A vote "aye" is to concur in the amendments made by the Senate with the amendments made by the House. A vote "no" is to non-concur in all of the amendments made by the Senate with the amendments made by the House.

Mr. SOWERS. Will you state that again?

The SPEAKER. If the members did not understand and voted under a misapprehension, the Chair will be glad to rescind the roll call as far it has been taken, and call for a new roll.

Mr. SOWERS. May we have a new roll?

The SPEAKER. The roll as called is declared null and void.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, but desires to inform the gentleman that there is nothing before the House now unless it is a point of parliamentary inquiry.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BLUMBERG. It is a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Do I understand correctly that by the previous two votes of this House this House has inserted certain amendments to the bill, that is definitely out of the way, and what we are now voting on is a motion to concur in the amendment made by the Senate only.

The SPEAKER. That is not correct.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Did I not understand that to be the case?

The SPEAKER. Because the amendments made by the various gentlemen were to a motion made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McClure, so that the two things must be voted upon now at one time. The House has concurred in the amendments made to the motion and therefore the question before the House is, will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate with the amendments made by the House. A vote "aye" is to concur, and a vote "no" is to non-concur.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WITKIN. Do I understand then, Mr. Speaker, that if the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McClure is defeated that that nullifies the action which this House has just taken with respect to the various amendments that have been made.

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, is it possible to divide the question so that the House can vote to concur in all of the amendments and then vote again on sustaining the amendments that were put in?

The SPEAKER. The Chair regrets to say that there is now nothing before this body, but the calling of the roll on the question as stated by the Chair.

Mr. SOWERS. Then, Mr. Speaker, would a vote "no" mean that this bill goes to a conference committee?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would rather not answer that question, because that is a matter for the Senate itself to decide. There is now nothing before this body if the members understand the motion, but the calling of the roll, and the clerk will proceed to call the roll.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Brown, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of rule 77, a member can only change his vote when he declares that he has voted under a mistake. Now, there are a lot of the members of this House who are changing their vote that did not vote under a misapprehension.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Washington, that the only alternative the Chair has is to believe the members.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, my only purpose is that the members should not be permitted, according to our House Rules, to change their vote.

The SPEAKER. The Chair again informs the gentleman from Washington that he has no alternative but to accept each member's word for his vote.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, under the rules that the gentleman from Washington has just read, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that at the present time there is nothing before the House but the roll.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would take it, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman would be required to state the nature of his misapprehension.

The SPEAKER. That question, if the gentleman were to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, would be out of order.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. MELCHIORRE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill continues the provisions that were contained in the Snyder-Armstrong law.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to take the time of the House at this late hour, but I do want to say to the members of the House, that this bill has been very carefully considered by the Ways and Means Committee of this House, and that the fees fixed in it for licenses have been reduced very materially at the request of the parties interested. I understand that the fees are satisfactory, and the bill is now in my judgment a very good bill, and I ask the members of the House to support the Ways and Means Committee after their work and vote "aye" on this boll.

On the question recurring

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ROOT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I fully realize that this is the wrong time to start an argument on House Bill No. 8. I fully realize that whatever I may say on this bill will not in any way effect one single vote.

However, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, last Monday at a public hearing on House Bill No. 8 before the Ways and Means Committee, one man appeared for the bill; about ten or fifteen men spoke against it. Over three hours were consumed in taking testimony and evidence. In this report of one hundred and fifty-three pages, the preponderance of evidence against this bill leads me to decide to vote against it, and I submit to the members of this House that it should be defeated for the following reasons:

The tax of one dollar a gallon as provided for in this act is a manufacturers' tax; it is not a consumers' or a sales tax. It is a producers' tax. It represents a wide and serious departure in the taxation policy of this state.

For a number of years this state has encouraged and asked industries to come into the Commonwealth. The purpose was specific. We needed the employment for our people. The legislatures have even given favorable tax legislation to manufacturing industries. This bill for the first time in the history of this State, if we enact it, will absolutely destroy what used to be prior to prohibition one of our most important industries.

The Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce reports that two distilleries which were considering opening in Philadelphia, have since cancelled their plans. At the meeting of the Ways and Means Committee representatives of the Chamber of Commerce of this city stated that a distillery was about to open in the City of Harrisburg and that with the introduction of House Bill No. 9, and House Bill No. 8, they have discontinued their plan to open in this city.

The plants that are now existing and have been operating have completely shut down throwing out of employment hundreds of thousands of people and adding them to our long list of unemployed in this State.

In the second place, this tax is discriminatory against the manufacturers in Pennsylvania. No manufacturer can exist in this State and meet the competition of manufacturers of other States when he is obliged to pay one dollar to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for a gallon of liquor produced in Pennsylvania to be consumed outside of this State.

Now, the sponsors of this bill fully realized that this was a most serious defect in the measure, and you may remember that the bill was recommitted to the Ways and Means Committee and they came back tonight with section 21, to which I desire to call your attention. Section 21 on page 19 of this act provides for a refund if the board finds there be any substantial competition with this State in the manufacture of alcohol or liquor of any kind for the privilege of manufacturing on which the applicant pays the tax.

I submit to you, gentlemen, that this section is merely a subterfuge for the purpose of eliminating the opposition that has arisen against this bill.

The Board of Finance and Revenue will very easily under this section say that Pennsylvania rye is the best rye in the United States and, therefore, no State is in competition with the State of Pennsylvania, and the Pennsylvania manufacturers will not be able to get their refunds.

This section, members of the House, will only lead to litigation, manufacturers will have to tie up their money and their working capital in taxes because the dollar has to be paid as soon as the liquor is produced, not when it is sold, and finally, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I submit that the tax rate of one dollar, as provided for in this act, plus the proposed Federal tax of about three dollars is entirely too high.

Because we desire revenue is no just reason for the employment of the tax raising powers as a means minimizing the drink urge. The desire for revenue should not place taxes of any kind on alcoholic beverages at a point where it becomes profitable for moonshining, diversion and smuggling. We cannot force and tax temperance into our people by legislation. Labor is against this bill. I have here a telegram addressed to John A. Phillips, President of the State Federation:

Philadelphia, Penna. 29 1229A

John A. Phillips, President-
State Federation of Labor DLR tonite care
Federation office or Capitol Harrisburg Penna-

It is vitally important in interests of labor that mention be made on floor of House tonight of ambiguous and misleading clauses in proposed amendments to House Bill number eight stop this bill also fails to cover phases which are governing in functioning and development of distilling industry within the Commonwealth stop first the bill makes no mention of United States territories and possessions which are heavy producers of spirits and mollasses Portorico Hawaii Virgin Islands and Phillippines which will offer most serious competition to distillers within this State as result of this omission stop second immediate financial burden imposes on distillers in meeting tax on shipment to other states by this levy is unsurmountable even to largest enterprises and would be so even in normal times for they would have to lay out millions of dollars while awaiting refunds that are made discretionary on the basis of hearings and the taking of testimony regarding competition in other states that necessarily will be delayed and furthermore no time of fund is specified and working capital of companies will in all probability be exhausted before such refunds are granted and paid stop third the new amendments specify that determination of competition shall be made quote of a kind unquote referring to liquor and this is subject to controversy and decision by a body which necessarily is not expert on liquor therefore this clause is liable to lead to all kinds of difficulties stop obviously in order to bring about for the benefit of labor the continuance and expansion of the Great Pennsylvania distilling Industry and allied trades it becomes necessary that the wording of House Bill eight shall be definitely to the point declaring in just so many words that all shipments made outside the Commonwealth shall be exempt from the payment of this tax stop this tax is the one dollar per proof gallon on liquor manufactured in Pennsylvania for shipment to any other state stop the proposed amendment makes this discretionary with a State Board which is delegated to return taxes if it is found that manufacturers in other states have an advantage stop this new clause leaves the manufacturers and laboring interests of Pennsylvania at the mercy of individual interpretation and shifting political situations stop it is necessary that these apparently unknown aspects of the case be forcefully presented to the Legislature tonight from the floor and duly emphasized to the end that all ambiguity be eliminated particularly as a concession to save the distilling industry for the State has been made already in the suggestion of a more reasonable policy as this amendment indicates stop this requires action and it is a case which merits your most aggressive service which will be of lasting benefit to labor in saving thousands of jobs—

SHERMAN ROGERS

Suffice it to say that labor has expressed through John A. Phillips its opposition to this bill because it will mean the destruction of the distilling industry in this State.

Excessive taxation will encourage not only the illicit distillery, but it will put back into power the bootlegger, the speakeasy and the racketeer. This law, together with the other laws that have been passed on this liquor question, means that there will be flagrant violations throughout the Commonwealth, and that the liberal electorate of this State will know that in defiance of the mandate of the people, the Governor by his prohibition tactics has defrauded them of their repeal victory.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, because this is a tax on manufacturing, because this bill is a discrimination against the manufacturer of Pennsylvania and because the tax as provided therein is entirely too high, I propose to vote against it and I ask the members of the House to vote against it.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I know that the hour is late, but the question that is before you is an important one.

The gentleman from Philadelphia just told you that this bill provides for excessive taxation and will encourage the bootlegger.

May I call his attention to the fact that this bill does not place one cent tax upon the consumer of liquor in the State of Pennsylvania? The working man, the poor man is not taxed at all, is not taxed a half a dollar or a half a cent. This bill exempts the consumer of liquor from the payment of the tax.

There is no tax upon the State of Pennsylvania who will buy the liquor and sell it to the consumer, so that the argument that this bill will lead to bootlegging in the State of Pennsylvania is a fallacious argument.

My friend has also said that it is discriminatory against the manufacturers of other states. He is again mistaken, because under the amendment introduced in this there is no discrimination.

I have sufficient confidence in the elective officers of the State of Pennsylvania, I have sufficient confidence in the Board of Finance and Revenue, and if they are mistaken, I have sufficient confidence in the courts of Pennsylvania, that they will not permit a capricious decision by the Board of Finance and Revenue.

Under the terms of this bill the Pennsylvania manufacturers are compelled to pay a tax of one dollar for all liquor that goes out of the State, but if the Board of Finance and Revenue find that any other State in the whole Union is in competition with the State of Pennsylvania, then the lowest tax rate of any other competitive State is the tax that the Pennsylvania manufacturer will have to pay, so that if the lowest State tax in the Union, of a competitor of the Pennsylvania manufacturer, charges twenty cents, there will only be a tax upon the Pennsylvania manufacturer of twenty cents, and if the lowest competitive State has a State tax of nothing, the tax on the Pennsylvania manufacturer will be nothing.

I say to the members of the House that this is not stifling, it is not discriminating, it is not a burden upon the Pennsylvania manufacturer, and may I stop here to say that merely because it is the Governor's bill, whom I have opposed and whom I will continue to oppose, if I think he is wrong, is no reason why we should vote against this bill that will bring revenue to help social legislation in the State of Pennsylvania.

There is a right of appeal to our courts, and if the gentleman from Philadelphia has no confidence in the Auditor General, no confidence in the State Treasurer, no confidence in the Attorney General, or the Secretary of Revenue, I have, and I have further confidence that if they make mistake, the courts of our state will decide whether or not there is another state that is in substantial competition with this state.

I say to the members of the House that there would be much more to say if the hour were not so late. You do not tax the consumer, you do not discriminate against the manufacturer. The state of Pennsylvania needs the revenue. We stand for social legislation, we stand to help the people and the only source or revenue that we could use for the purpose is the revenue that will justly and properly innure to the Commonwealth by the passage of this bill, and I urge upon you that you pass this bill, in order that liquor legislation may become a thing of the past, and in order that we may proceed in this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is not of minor importance. The best information I can obtain is that seventy per cent. of the distilling industry of the United States is in Pennsylvania. A great deal of it is in the southern part of Philadelphia. I have received, I guess two dozen letters from people that work in the distilling industry, telling me that they have been put out of work by the threatened passage of this bill.

We were called here in extraordinary session to look for jobs for people. We were called here recently in another extraordinary session for unemployment relief. We have repealed the 18th amendment for the purpose of relieving unemployment and helping the general welfare.

This bill, if it becomes a law, will drive out of Pennsylvania that industry. Do we want to part with it?

My friend argues and he argues in a circle. He says it taxes and it don't tax. It taxes and it don't hurt. Well, if it is a bill like that, what good is it? It either taxes or it don't tax. He says it taxes no consumer in Pennsylvania, then what good it is if it doesn't bring any money in. He said that if the distillery competitor outside of the state pays a lower tax than our distiller here, that our distiller will pay a less tax. Well if his argument is right, that if the distillery in Missouri is charged ten cents a gallon our distiller here will be charged ten cents a gallon, and when it goes into Missouri, he will have to pay the Missouri tax also. So we start handicapped in competition with the rest of the United States.

Our friend says that we must find revenue. Let us find revenue that will not drive out an industry and drive people out of jobs.

I ask the members of the House to vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. A number of bill remain uncompleted in the Legislative Reference Bureau. This is due to two causes—the last minute rush for bills, and the inadequate stenographic force resulting from the cut in the Bureau's appropriation.

The Bureau, therefore, suggests that the same procedure be followed as at the regular Session of 1933, and that permission be granted to complete all bills requested, after which the Bureau will file the same in the office of the Speaker for signature by the Members and for numbering, so that they may be referred to appropriate committees at the next session.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE SECRETARY OF EDUCATION

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communication from the Secretary of Public Instruction:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Department of Public Instruction,
Harrisburg, December 4, 1933.

Honorable Edward C. Shannon,
Lieutenant-Governor,
President of the Senate,
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. President:

The Senate is today observing the two hundred fifty-first anniversary of the opening of Pennsylvania's first legislative body at Chester on December 4, 1682. By an interesting coincidence yesterday, December 3, was also the one hundredth anniversary of the opening of that historic session of the General Assembly which later passed the Free School Act, approved April 1, 1834, abolishing the pauper schools and initiating Pennsylvania's system of free public education for all the children within its borders.

Pennsylvania's General Assembly has many progressive measures to its credit that have helped to make this great Commonwealth preeminent in industry and commerce, agriculture and the fine arts.

Pennsylvania has become the home of liberty and opportunity to millions of loyal citizens who have given our beloved Commonwealth first rank in many fields. A procession of Pennsylvania's great men and women, epitomizing Pennsylvania's progress during the years that lie behind, is a promise of the greater progress that lies ahead, if we preserve and strengthen the basic institutions and ideals that have brought us happily to this anniversary day. And what a procession it is: William Penn, founder of the Commonwealth; Benjamin Franklin, statesman, author, and inventor; Andrew Carnegie, whose ingenuity and foresight brought steel into general use in America; E. L. Drake, who drilled the first oil well in America at Titusville; John Wanamaker, who established the department store system, one price sales, and advertising in local papers; Benjamin West, founder of American art; Joseph Pennell, one of the world's greatest etchers; Edwin Austin Abbey and Violet Oakley, artists; John W. Alexander, mural painter; Francis Hopkinson, Stephen Collins Foster, and Ethelbert Nevin, musical composers; Oliver Evans, America's first mechanical engineer; Robert Fulton and John Fitch, inventors; George Westinghouse, inventor; Joseph Priestly, who discovered oxygen; Doctor John Morgan, founder of American medicine; Doctor Philip S. Physick, father of American surgery; and many others, too numerous to mention in this brief statement.

In appraising Pennsylvania's contribution to the nation, it should be remembered that the Declaration of Independence, the political Bible of our land, was written, adopted, and signed here; that the United States Constitution was written on Pennsylvania soil; that Lincoln delivered his immortal address at Gettysburg, one of the world's decisive battle fields; that Sir Walter Scott found his Rebecca in Pennsylvania; that Longfellow selected a Philadelphia Churchyard for the resting place for his Evangeline; that the first American text-book was written by Francis Daniel Pastorius; that America's first medical school, first college of physicians, first law school, first academy of fine arts, and first women's art school were organized in Philadelphia; that the first college of pharmacy and the first women medical college in the world were founded here; and that the flag of our country was designed, made, and adopted in Philadelphia.

Pennsylvania's contribution to National welfare and progress has been truly great—one to fill every Pennsylvanian with pride in her glorious past and with a feeling of deep responsibility for the future.

A vital factor in this advance of Pennsylvania to ever richer and higher levels of achievement has been our system of public schools wherein all the children of the Commonwealth may enjoy, presumably without discrimination, an efficient and thorough education as mandated in the Constitution.

Free public schools are maintained for but one purpose, and that is to prepare competent, loyal citizens for the Commonwealth during the difficult days that lie ahead. To this high task the teachers and officials of the public schools of the Commonwealth dedicate themselves without reservation.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES N. RULE.

BILLS INTRODUCED

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, in the newspapers of the State of Pennsylvania yesterday the Chairman of the Democratic State Committee issued a challenge to the Republican party. In that challenge he admits that the Republican party is the majority party. He called upon the Republican party to assume the responsibility of the passage of a humane and progressive programme. He laid the responsibility directly on the shoulders of the Republicans. In addition to that he expressed the thought that now that the control bills have been passed and the tax bills are about to be passed that the interest in this session would wane, that the Republicans would immediately attempt to adjourn without the passage of this humane legislation, the social legislation, the progressive legislation that has been outlined in the Governor's programme. We deny that charge. We believe that the Republicans are as much interested in the passing of this splendid programme of legislation as the Democrats. Let us lay aside all personal differences, all factional differences, all party differences; lay aside our personal business, if necessary, and all join and unite in harmony in the Republican ranks, so that when this session ends there will be a legislative programme adopted that will bring the approbation of the people of the Commonwealth to the Republican party. We are as progressive, even more progressive, than the Democratic party. I feel proud to belong to a party that our opponent concede is still the majority party. Now, there is one thing of which we must convince the people of Pennsylvania, and that is that we are still interested in the passage of this programme, and we are willing to stay here just as long as anybody else to carry out this programme.

Mr. President and members of the Senate, for the purpose of convincing the Democratic party and the people of Pennsylvania that we still stand for the passage of this humane and progressive programme, I offer the following resolution:

RESOLUTION URGING THE PASSAGE OF LEGISLATION COMPREHENDED IN THE GOVERNOR'S CALL

Mr. HARRIS offered the following Resolution which was twice read:

IN THE SENATE, December 4th, 1933

Whereas, The Governor's proclamation for this Extraordinary Session contains references to many subjects of legislation of the utmost importance to the Commonwealth and to welfare of the people of this State; and

Whereas, Various bills which have been introduced and which are clearly comprehended within the Governor's call remain unconsidered at this date by the committee of the two Houses to which the same have been referred; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of the Senate lay aside all personal business and forgetting all factional and party differences, pledge themselves to remain in session until all legislation comprehended within the Governor's call and pending before Senate committees has been given proper consideration to the end that this Extraordinary Session may fully accomplish the purposes for which it was convened.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I should be glad to be interrogated by the next Governor of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, his reason for objecting to the immediate consideration of this resolution.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, my objection to the immediate consideration of the resolution is that all resolutions should be considered by a committee. I do not know whether I misunderstood the wording of the resolution, but I understood something about socialistic legislation. I think we should be vary careful before we agree to pass any socialistic legislation at this session of the Legislature.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, because of my high regard for the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, I will ask for a third reading of the resolution for the benefit of the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, so he will understand there is nothing said about socialistic legislation.

The Resolution was again read by the Clerk.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I again desire to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, with much pleasure.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will ask the Senator now if he will withdraw his statement that there was anything socialistic about this resolution or words of a socialistic nature used in this resolution?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will withdraw that statement because on second reading I have heard the word "social" instead of "socialistic."

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I accept the apology of the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, and I ask him whether he will not, because of our long-standing friendship and the many times I have seconded his motions on the floor.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am not unmindful of the many courtesies received by me from the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, but it is not a question of courtesy, but the proper consideration of legislation; but for us to pledge ourselves to stay at this Extraordinary Session seems entirely out of order. I have not any objection to staying here a reasonable time, but if we pass this resolution we might be called to stay rather indefinitely and if we accomplish things in the nature of emergency legislation it seems to me we will be doing the Commonwealth a benefit as well as ourselves to close up shop and go home.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO MEETING OF THE CONVENTION TO REPEAL THE EIGHTEENTH AMENDMENT

Mr. HOMSHER offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

In the Senate, December 4th, 1933.

Whereas, The Act of Assembly approved May 3rd, 1933, No. 81, provides that the Convention called on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to ratify or reject the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States to repeal the eighteenth amendment, shall meet in the Hall of the Senate on December 5th, 1933, at twelve o'clock noon, and shall be presided over by the Lieutenant Governor, and that the Secretary of the Senate shall be the Secretary of said Convention; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania cordially welcomes the delegates of the Convention to the Hall of the Senate, and directs the officers and employes of the Senate to afford every convenience and facility possible to the Convention in order that the business of the Convention may be duly carried out;

Resolved, In order that the Convention may meet promptly at the time appointed by law, the Senate shall recess not later than 11:30 A. M. this date;

Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to the Convention by the Chief Clerk.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The Chief Clerk is directed to transmit a copy of the resolution to the Convention tomorrow.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I believe that before we go twenty-four hours further into this session we should know where we are going financially. We are asked to appropriate millions of dollars for various purposes. We have listened to estimates of huge receipts. But the State's fiscal officers for weeks have been warning us that we should go slow. Auditor General Frank E. Baldwin and State Treasurer Charles A. Waters tell us that we are headed for financial shoals—indeed that we are now paddling in shallow water.

I cannot bring myself to believe that the prediction of greatly increased revenue for the balance of the biennium is well-founded. I see no reason for the expectation or the belief that liquor-drinkers are going to put in the greater portion of their days and nights consuming whiskey so that the State can take care of its unemployed, relieve the serious threat to the schools and aid other worthy causes.

I have no doubt that were it not for the unexpected windfal resulting from the Dorrance estate, coupled with revenue which accrud from the sales tax levied some months ago, and the Philadelphia bridge bonds, Pennsylvania today would be deep in the red. But how long will it be before we are in the red? How long will it be until out-go exceeds all possible income? I think we should find out. The General Fund balance on May 31, 1928, was over $35,000,000. On November 30th last, it was $9,284,182.37. Out-go continues, and income falls.

The State tomorrow will open bids for the sale of bonds for $25,000,000. Before long we shall issue $50,000,000 in bonds to pay veterans' compensation, and $10,000,000 in bonds for purchase of toll bridges. In the long run these bonds will cost upwards of $61,000,000. We must look ahead to the time when unemployment relief money is exhausted again. The fiscal officers of the State tell us that time is not far distant, although we have not touched the $20,000,000 approved by the voters in the recent election. At the present rate of expenditure for relief, approximately $6,000,000 per month, the State Emergency Relief Board will very probably need money before May 1st. At least, I am informed that to be the opinion of Auditor General Baldwin and State Treasurer Waters.

Mr. President, I am firmly convinced that we should secure the facts from those who have the facts. We should find out exactly what our financial prospects are, and for that reason I offer the following resolution:

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE AUDITOR GENERAL AND STATE TREASURER

Mr. REED offered the following Resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, December 4th, 1933.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Auditor General and State Treasurer be requested to furnish to the General Assembly as early as possible, a joint statement of the existing and probable future financial condition of the State Treasury during the present fiscal biennium, which statement shall be in such form and contain such information as said officers deem necessary to enable the Members of the General Assembly to ascertain what moneys will be available for appropriation at the present Extraordinary Session, taking into consideration the revenues to be derived from taxes on liquor and profits and revenues to be derived from State liquor stores, permits, and license application fees.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection? The chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CLARK, from the Committee on Agriculture, re-reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 52 entitled:

An Act to amend the title and sections one, two, and three of the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws, one thousand two hundred twenty-nine), entitled "An act to safeguard human health and life by providing for the licensing and regulation of persons and entities dealing in milk for human consumption conferring powers and imposing duties on the Secretary of Health, and the Advisory Health Board, and otherwise providing for the administration of the act; and imposing penalties," as amended, by extending its provisions to all milk and by making acceptance of municipal permits optional with the Secretary of Health.

We remember with profound gratitude also that 100 years ago the memorable session of the General Assembly of 1833 the Common School System of Pennsylvania was founded.

Verily Lord God, thou hast blessed us with wise and godly leaders in the past, Lord God of Hosts be with us yet, lest we forget. Now vouchsafe to thy servants here assembled, sufficient grace for every trial and wisdom for every problem.

Hold us steady, to lofty ideals and high motives under the pressure of mighty issues. Help us to think clearly and constructively and work untiringly for the welfare of the Commonwealth.

ADDRESS IN COMMEMORATION OF ESTABLISHMENT OF SCHOOL SYSTEM.

The SPEAKER. In commemoration of the establishment of the school system in Pennsylvania, the Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, the House of Representatives is today observing the two hundred fifty-first anniversary of the opening of Pennsylvania's first legislative body at Chester on December 4, 1682. By an interesting coincidence yesterday, December 3, was also the one hundredth anniversary of the opening of that historic session of the General Assembly which later passed the Free School Act, approved April 1, 1834, abolishing the pauper schools and initiating Pennsylvania's system of free public education for all the children within its borders.

Pennsylvania's General Assembly has many progressive measures to its credit that have helped to make this great Commonwealth preeminent in industry and commerce, agriculture and the fine arts.

Pennsylvania has become the home of liberty and opportunity to millions of loyal citizens who have given our beloved Commonwealth first rank in many fields. A procession of Pennsylvania's great men and women, epitomizing Pennsylvania's progress during the years that lie behind, is a promise of the greater progress that lies ahead, if we preserve and strengthen the basic institutions and ideals that have brought us happily to this anniversary day. And what a procession it is: William Penn, founder of the Commonwealth; Benjamin Franklin, statesman, author, and inventor; Andrew Carnegie, whose ingenuity and foresight brought steel into general use in America; E. L. Drake, who drilled the first oil well in America at Titusville; John Wanamaker, who established the department store system, one price sales, and advertising in local papers; Benjamin West, founder of American art; Joseph Pennell, one of the world's greatest etchers; Edwin Austin Abbey and Violet Oakley, artists; John W. Alexander, mural painter; Francis Hopkinson, Stephen Collins Foster, and Ethelbert Nevin, musical composers; Oliver Evans, America's first mechanical engineer; Robert Fulton and John Fitch, inventors; George Westinghouse, inventor; Joseph Priestly, who discovered oxygen; Doctor John Morgan, founder of American medicine; Doctor Philip S. Physick, father of American surgery; and many others, too numerous to mention in this brief statement.

In appraising Pennsylvania's contribution to the nation, it should be remembered that the Declaration of Independence, the political Bible of our land, was written, adopted, and signed here; that the United States Constitution was written on Pennsylvania soil; that Lincoln delivered his immortal address at Gettysburg, one of the world's decisive battle fields; that Sir Walter Scott found his Rebecca in Pennsylvania; that Longfellow selected a Philadelphia Churchyard for the resting place for his Evangeline; that the first American textbook was written by Francis Daniel Pastorius; that America's first medical school, first college of physicians, first law school, first academy of fine acts, and first women's art school were organized in Philadelphia; that the first college of pharmacy and the first women's medical college in the world was founded here; and that the flag of our country was designed, made, and adopted in Philadelphia.

Pennsylvania's contribution to National welfare and progress has been truly great—one to fill every Pennsylvanian with pride in her glorious past and with a feeling of deep responsibility for the future.

A vital factor in this advance of Pennsylvania to ever richer and higher levels of achievements has been our system of public schools wherein all the children of the Commonwealth may enjoy, presumably without discrimination, an efficient and thorough education as mandated in the Constitution.

Free public schools are maintained for but one purpose, and that is to prepare competent, loyal citizens for the Commonwealth during the difficult days that lie ahead. To this high task the teachers and officials of the public schools of the Commonwealth dedicate themselves without reservation.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson, for his remarks. They will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

RESOLUTION

PRINTING 5000 COPIES OF BOROUGH ACT AND AMENDMENTS.

Mr. McCLURE offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 4, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Legislative Reference Bureau is hereby directed to have printed, as a legislative document, five thousand copies of the General Borough Act of May 4, 1927, P. L. 519, with all amendments thereto, to be distributed and sold by the Division of Documents of the Department of Property and Supplies in the manner provided by law.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION No. 7

URGING ACTION ON LABOR AND SOCIAL LEGISLATION.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 7, Printer's No. 34.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, November 28, 1933.

Whereas, The depression has emphasized the necessity for labor and social legislation such as old age pensions unemployment insurance prevention of evictions minimum wages restriction of hours of labor abolition of child labor regulation of wage payments and railroad safety measures and

Whereas, Our Joint Committee to investigate wages and labor conditions of children in the Commonwealth has recommended the adoption of many of these measures and

Whereas, The Governor has included all of these subjects in his call for this special session and will have us on the spot if we fail to act thereon and

Whereas, Bills along these lines have been introduced and referred to committees of this House

Whereas, Although this session is now in its third week and it is a generally expressed hope that we may conclude our labors within the very near future several of these committees have held no meetings and the chairmen thereof despite repeated requests have failed and refused to call such meetings and

Whereas, Our calendars have been very light with the result that the members have been compelled to waste a great deal of time that could have been spent profitably in considering legislation beneficial to the workers of this Commonwealth now therefore

Be It Resolved, That the chairman of the Committees to which these bills have been referred are hereby directed to immediately call meetings thereof and to report measures covering the aforesaid subjects to this House not later than Wednesday December sixth one thousand nine hunderd thirty-three

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments:

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend resolution by striking out on page 2 at the end of line 3 after the word thereof, the remainder of the said line and striking out lines 4, 5 and 6.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER. The amendments as offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, would strike out on page 2, line 3, after the word, "thereof" the words "and to report"; and lines 4, 5 and 6, so that the resolution clause would read: "That the chairman of the committees to which bills have been referred are hereby directed to immediately call meetings thereof."

This being a strike out amendment it can be brought up for immediate consideration.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is not a radical resolution. In fact, it is so mild and moderate that I am almost ashamed to sponsor it. However, I have found from experience in this House that it is sometimes desirable to bring up mild and moderate measures.

I think a word of explanation as to the amendment should be made. I was informed that it was the opinion of some members that if the resolution was left in the form that it was, it would be an attempt to discharge several committees of the House, or so close to it as to be of doubtful propriety, and in order to prevent the resolution being ruled out of order, I have made the amendment which has been suggested to me, so that the resolution really as it is now is to direct certain committee chairmen to call meetings of their committees.

The resolution refers to labor and social legislation, such as old age pensions, unemployment insurance, prevention of evictions, minimum wages, restriction of hours of labor, abolition of child labor, regulation of wage payments and railroad safety measures, none of which are very radical.

Some measures or some of the subjects have already since the introduction of this resolution been reported to this House. For instance, I think there are a couple of measures on old age pensions. I would like to call the attention of the House to the fact, however, that the measures that have been reported are those which may be adopted without constitutional amendments, namely, those applying only to indigent, aged persons over seventy years of age, "indigent" meaning absolutely destitute according to the interpretation of our Supreme Court. To have real, effective old age pensions, it is necessary to have a much broader measure than these are, and I wish to call the attention of the House to the fact that there are two proposed amendments to the Constitution, which have been submitted for the purpose of amending the Constitution and making it possisble to have adopted a real old age pension law.

On the subject of unemployment insurance, there have also been a number of measures introduced. Some of these measures have been introduced at several previous sessions, but the House has taken no action upon them.

At this point I would like to call attention, briefly, to the results of unemployment insurance in at least one other country. In the United States during the past few years and particularly in Pennsylvania, we have been very much afflicted or municipalities, school districts, cities, towns, boroughs or townships have had a great deal of trouble in collecting their local taxes owing to the fact that property owners were unemployed and unable to pay their taxes with the result that many of our municipalities are facing bankruptcy and are unable to carry on their municipal functions in the manner that is desired.

A little over a week ago I had the pleasure of discussing this subject with a well known English economist who has been the speaker of the city council of Norwich in England for the last twenty-four years. I asked him whether the cities in England were having any difficulty in collecting their taxes such as we are having in the United States and he told me that they were not, that their taxes were coming in practically the same as before the depression. I said, "How do you account for that?" He said, "The answer is that in England we have unemployment insurance. The workers have been receiving an income, less to be sure than what they have heretofore received, but sufficient not only to maintain them, to feed, clothe and shelter them, but also to make it possible for them to pay their local taxes." So, unemployment insurance is a desirable measure not only from the viewpoint of helping the unemployed directly, but also in making it possible for our municipalities to carry on.

I think it well known to this House that in this year, the one hundredth anniversary of the adoption of our free school system, many of our schools in this State are threatened with being closed because of the inability of the school districts to collect their taxes. Had we had unemployment insurance it is entirely probable that this situation would have been relieved to a very great extent.

The question of evictions has been coming to the forefront more and more ever since the depression started. The unemployment relief boards have held that thy did not have sufficient money to pay rents, and I do not think there is any doubt but that they are correct, that they do not have the money for that purpose, that they do not have the money to pay the rents. Some of the landlords have been taking advantage of the situation, some of them possibly compelled, because of their own economic position, to evict the unemployed with resulting hardship to them and their families. It is very desirable that we should have legislation on this subject. There is a bill before the House that covers that matter. which places it within the power of the courts to consider each individual case upon petition of the person threatened with evicition and to decide whether under the circumstances of that case the eviction or the sale of the household furniture should be stayed for a given length of time. Legislation of this sort was passed by this House at the last session, but did not get through the Senate. I think it is most desirable and necessary that it should be done, because we are now entering the winter with hundreds and thousands of families being thrown out on the street with no place to go. Families are forced to double up, four or five in a house that was intended for one, while some houses are standing idle with no occupants at all. In the name of the welfare of the people of this Commonwealth, it is desirable that we should have legislation to remedy the conditions with which we are confronted.

Restriction of the hours of labor and minimum wages: I think there is a bill on the calendar on this subject, so I shall pass over that very briefly, but I think it is worth while calling the attention of the members of this House to the fact that a joint committee which investigated employment in certain industries in this state of women and children reported that it found cases of women being paid less than three cents an hour, and that there were more than ten thousand getting less than ten cents an hour, that children were getting even less and that the hours of labor ranged from fifty to fifty-four per week.

It is generally recognized, I believe, since the advent of the NRA that it is necessary to drastically reduce the hours of labor. I think there is no doubt but that the Federal government's power to restrict the hours of labor in industries that do not enter into interstate commerce is, to say the least, very doubtful. So, I think it is most necessary that this Legislature should at this time consider legislation to reduce the hours of labor, so as to make it possible to re-employ a large number of the unemployed. To permit women and children to work fifty to fifty-four hours a week for wages from three to ten cents an hour, when men are walking the streets looking for jobs, is nothing short of criminal.

The total abolition of child labor is certainly desirable. Some fifteen states have already ratified the proposed child labor amendment to the United States Constitution. The Pennsylvania Legislature, to its disgrace, passed a resolution, not only refusing to ratify the amendment but directly repudiated it some years ago. I think that it is high time that we removed that strain from this Commonwealth, by acting favorably upon an amendment to the Constitution forbidding the employment of children particularly in times like this. As a matter of fact the amendment does not forbid. All that it does is to authorize the Congress to pass legislation forbidding the employment of minors under eighteen years of age, and certainly you can depend upon your representatives in congress not to go too far with it.

The question of the payment of wages is also a very serious matter. I think the members of this House will probably be surprised to learn that we have in this Commonwealth a number of fly-by-night employers who go in and rent a building, lease machinery and operate in a community for a few weeks or months and fail to pay the wages due to their employes or at least only pay a part of what is due each week and keep it up until they owe their employes—and I know this to be a fact in a particular case in which I was called to represent certain employes, that they were paid wages from three dollars to seven dollars a week, and the employer was back in his payments from one hundred to one hundred and fifty dollars to each of his employes.

At the present time there is no effective law in Pennsylvania to reach people of this sort. Of course you can sue them and get a judgment, but then the employer promptly pulls up stakes and leaves. He is not the owner of the building, he does not own anything, and therefore, there is no way to compel him to pay. It is high time that we passed an act that will make it a criminal offense for failure to pay wages under conditions such as that, and I think the committee of this House should consider this measure very carefully.

There are also railroad safety measures which will tend to increase employment and should be carefully considered by this House.

I don't want to take up more of your time. I could readily discuss a number of other measures. I did not attempt to include all the desirable legislation in this resolution. There are a number of others such as occupational disease compensation, just to mention one, which could have been very well included.

Pennsylvania has a reputation of being behind its sister states in labor and social legislation. Twenty years ago we were in the vanguard, but since that time we have done very little along those lines.

The only thing that this resolution, as amended, will do will be to direct committee chairmen to call meetings of their committees. I have one committee in mind in which I have several bills and in which other members have a number of bills. I think there must be twenty or twenty-five bills in that committee. I have asked the Chairman of that committee on repeated occasions when that committee was going to meet, and I have been uniformly put off with the statement that it would meet in due course, or some time or something to that effect.

I understand that there is a concerted movement on foot for this legislature to adjourn next week. Certainly unless that committee takes up these measures immediately, we will not get a chance to consider them. We have been here fully three weeks. We have considered very little outside of liquor and bonus legislation. I don't believe that the minds of the members of this House are so single tracked that they could not have been considering other legislation at the same time. I think that these committees could very well have met and passed upon this legislation so that we might at least have one bill on third reading on the calendar tonight, but as it is we don't have any at all. On many occasions we have only had one or two. Our calendars have been very light. Most of the members of the House have certainly not been overworked. We have been at ease awaiting action of the Senate, or awaiting action of some leaders that were outside or somewhere or things of that sort most of the time we have been up here, and I think we could have been very well acting upon some of this beneficient social and labor legislation. In order that we may get an opportunity to act on such legislation, at least at this time, I ask you to vote for this resolution, directing committee chairmen who have measures of this sort to call meetings of their committees.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mrs. WILSON. I second the call for a roll call.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOOPES. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman says that Chairmen have refused to convene their committees. What Chairmen have refused to convene their committees?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in view of the direct request for an answer I will say that I have asked the chairman of the Committee on Labor on repeated occasions when that committee was going to meet, and I have been put off from time to time with the statement that it would meet, but never have I been able to find out when, and it has not met yet, which seems to me to be tantamount to a refusal to meet up to this time at least.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if he will permit, I would like to interrogate the gentleman who is Chairman of the Committee on Labor.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Yeakel, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YEAKEL. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Has the Chairman of the Committee on Labor refused to convene his committee?

Mr. YEAKEL. I have not refused, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask, has the Committee met.

Mr. YEAKEL. It has not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Does the Chairman of the Committee plan to convene the committee?

Mr. YEAKEL. When I see so fit.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, on numerous occasions the Speaker of this House has requested the chairmen of the committees to get their bills. Presumably the Speaker requested the chairmen of the committees to get their bills in order that these bills might be considered. The Chairman of the Committee on Labor says he will convene that committee when he sees fit. The answer of this House should, I believe, be that the Chairman of the Committee on Labor should convene his committee forthwith.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution as amended?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Hoopes and Mrs. Wilson and were as follows:

RESOLUTION

FIXING DATE FOR FINAL ADJOURNMENT TO BE DEFERRED UNTIL COMPLETION OF LEGISLATION

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, December 4, 1933.

Whereas, His Excellency, the Governor, cognizant of the needs of the people of the Commonwealth, has called the General Assembly into extraordinary session to consider legislation set forth in thirteen items in his proclamation and covering many subjects of needed legislation; and

Whereas, The Members of the House of Representatives fully recognize their responsibility—like Israel Putman of old, their plows are in the furrow and they stand ready to do their part; and

Whereas, Various standing committees are taking little or no action on bills referred to them, thereby throttling needful legislation—having time for deliberation and consideration of this legislation. Shall we, like Nero, fiddle while Rome burns? Therefore be it

Resolved, That this House shall not consider the fixing of a day for final adjournment of this extraordinary session until all bills introduced are reported to the House for its action, and until all the purposes for which this session has been called have been accomplished.

URGING COMPLETION OF BUILDING PROJECT IN WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. FITZGERALD offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, December 4, 1933.

Whereas, The Roosevelt New Deal contemplates the carrying forward of the internal waterways system of the United States toward the ideals conceived by the forward looking statesmen of the Nation during the past quarter century; and

Whereas, The Mississippi River and its tributaries have been made available for the navigation of vessels to East Brady, via the Allegheny River, a 9,000 mile waterway that is now in use, carrying thousands of tons of freight; and

Whereas, The Congress of the United States has authorized the further development of the Allegheny River to at least Oil City, with ten miles of the unfinished project already provided for; and

Whereas, Available engineering reports and regional economic surveys indicate the feasibility of a canal running from Franklin, Pennsylvania, to Lake Erie at the City of Erie and terminating in the Harbor of Presque Isle, which is Pennsylvania's only lake port; and

Whereas, The completion of such an All-Pennsylvania waterway as the Northern limit of the Mississippi-Ohio-Allegheny waterway would provide western Pennsylvania with a new artery of traffic for the interchange of the mineral and agricultural products of the great northwest and the mineral and manufactured products of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and exchange of our mineral and agricultural products with the agricultural products of the great South; and

Whereas, The actual construction of a waterway from Franklin, Pennsylvania, to Erie, Pennsylvania, during the period of construction, would provide employment for thousands of presently unemployed Pennsylvanians; and

Whereas, Permanent benefits and wealth would be added to Pennsylvania by reason of the existence and operation of such a waterway; and

Whereas, The said All-Pennsylvania route may be constructed at a cost of less than fifty per centum of the cost of constructing any other proposed alternate route; and

Whereas, The All-Pennsylvania canal is the shortest route of any of those proposed by at least fifty miles; and

Whereas, The selection of any other route connecting the Mississippi Valley with the Great Lakes would involve the building of a harbor on Lake Erie at a tremendous and needless outlay of Federal money; and

Whereas, There is at Erie a natural landlocked harbor now available and affording complete terminal facilities for any volume of commerce which may desire to utilize said proposed Pennsylvania canal; and

Whereas, The said route would utilize Pennsylvania waters in Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, These several other routes proposed depend entirely upon Pennsylvania watersheds to make these several projects navigable; and

Whereas, Under the National Industrial Recovery Act, the Public Works Administration is in control of funds for the purpose and is desirous of expending funds for such purposes as the development of inland waterways; and

Whereas, It is apparently the desire of His Excellency, the President of the United States, and the Honorable Harold L. Ickes, Public Works Administrator, to speed the use of funds appropriated to the Public Works Administration for purposes of this character; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania pays the second largest amount of taxes into the Federal Treasury and should be rightfully considered in the development of this project as proposed; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania do respectfully petition His Excellency, the Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States, to authorize the completion of the Allegheny River project and the building of a canal from Franklin, Pennsylvania, to the City of Erie, on Lake Erie, in Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly further memorialize United States Senators from Pennsylvania and the Congressmen from Pennsylvania to use their best offices to bring about the immediate approval of this All-Pennsylvania project.

URGING PUBLIC EMPLOYMENT BE GIVEN TO PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED

Mr. JOHN M. FLYNN offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, December 4, 1933.

Urging that a suitable part of public employment be given to physically handicapped persons.

Whereas, The employment of crippled and other physically handicapped Persons in tasks which they are competent to perform is in accord with a wise social economy and was so recognized by the State of Pennsylvania in 1919 when it led other States of the Union in establishing a Division for the Vocational rehabilitation and placement of Disabled Persons, and

Whereas, In recent years the tendency to discriminate against the employment of physically handicapped persons has been increasing as a result of certain general industrial policies rather than diminishing as a social good requires, and

Whereas, A greater recognition of the physically handicapped in public employment would be beneficial both as an equitable course in itself and as setting an example for private industry and business.

Now Therefore Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania, the Senate concurring, that the appointing authorities in every State department, and in every county, city, and town, be urged to give consideration to the suitable employment of crippled and other physically handicapped persons, to the end that a fair proportion shall be represented in public employment, and that all rules and policies in conflict therewith be revised.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 4, 1933.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Auditor General and State Treasurer be requested to furnish to the General Assembly as early as possible, a joint statement of the existing and probable future financial conditions of the State Treasury during the present fiscal biennium, which statement shall be in such form and contain such information as said officers deem necessary to enable the Members of the General Assembly to ascertain what moneys will be available for appropriation at the present extraordinary session, taking into consideration the revenues to be derived from taxes on liquor and profits and revenues to be derived from State liquor stores, permits, and license application fees.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. DAVID R. PERRY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the resolution forwarded to this body from the Senate is a resolution suggesting that we shall know by intelligent report how we may act in the future. There has been presented and will be acted upon by this body very important and worthwhile legislation. However, there is this important fact to bear in mind, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is unquestionably facing today a future of financial uncertainty. Its fiscal affairs present a problem that should be carefully analyzed and seriously considered by all of us. Coincident with an admitted increase from the new liquor channels of revenue come danger signals of depleted income from other sources, and, at the same time advocacy that the Commonwealth enter upon new expenditures for various projects which, however desirable, may tax our fiscal resources to the danger limit.

A fundamental difficulty seems to be that we do not have a clear conception of our present financial status. The bonded indebtedness of the Commonwealth is being further increased by $85,000,000, in compliance with the will of the electorate. Future revenues must, however, undergo the added strain of retiring these bonds and carrying the interest. It has been estimated that, under certain conditions, the costs alone will amount to $50,000,000 or more. The cost of road bonds, met from the motor license fund, requires an appropriation of approximately $13,200,000 for a biennium. Anticipated revenues from the release of liquor by repeal of the 18th Amendment have already been put in jeopardy by litigation in the Federal Courts, involving the liquor floor tax, which had been estimated to yield about $25,000,000. Total revenues from the profits of the liquor stores and other taxes on liquor remain pure estimates.

We cannot be certain, on the basis of our present knowledge, where we are going financially. The fiscal officers of the Commonwealth, Auditor General Baldwin and State Treasurer Waters, have for some time been warning us all of the hazards and penalties if this Legislature fails to exercise a policy of strict economy. It seems obvious that the best practice would be for us to conserve judiciously the new revenues that are coming to us.

Before we can, however, consider this whole fiscal problem intelligently, we must have facts and estimates of our financial standing that are as accurate as it is possible to obtain. We cannot proceed satisfactorily without such definite and comprehensive information.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

STATEMENT BY MR. COHEN

Mr. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make a statement.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House: The facts which I expect to bring to your attention would now have been common gossip had the Committee of the Legislature, appointed for the purpose of investigating the Insurance Department, performed its functions; but since it has not done so I must take this opportunity to lay before the members of the House and the Committee appointed to investigate the Insurance Department the facts which will impress upon you the immediate necessity for the rejuvenation of that committee and the urgent necessity for a thorough investigation of the Department of Labor and Industry, both to be prosecuted without the white wash characteristic of such investigations.

The facts which I propose to bring to your attention are a fit subject for a get-rich-quick-Wallingford Story and makes Mr. Ponzie of high finance fame appear as a piker.

On May 28, 1931, the Insurance Department of the Commonwealth was requested by Carl Hansen, the principal owner of the American Mine Owners' Casualty Company of Huntingdon, Pa., to sanction a merger between that company and the Commonwealth Casualty Company, which company in turn was headed by W. Freeland Kendrick, a former mayor of Philadelphia. Within the Insurance Department objections were raised to this merger by a number of the employees due to the very apparent fact that at the time the merger was requested both companies were in a shaky or insolvent position. However, over the objections of certain trusted employees of the department, after pressure of higher ups, a merger was permitted under an agreement which provided that one stock holder was to receive $10.00 a share for his stock of which he had a large block. By a further provision of the merger the remaining stockholders of both companies were to pool their stock for a period of six months while the two merged companies would operate in order to ascertain the proportionate share of the business done by each company, and after that proportion was ascertained the distribution to the stockholders was to be made.

On September 16, 1931, before the six-months' trial period had expired a new request was made. This request came from the Independence Indemnity Company of Philadelphia and was sponsored by the same Carl Hansen. This request was to merge the Independence Indemnity of Philadelphia with the Commonwealth Casualty and the American Mine Owners. Objections by trusted employees of the Insurance Department were again raised to this merger on the very apparent grounds that the merger could not be equitably made until the terms of the stock pool agreement under the first merger had time to work out. The objections raised thereto were again overruled by the Insurance Commissioner and the three companies —American Mine Owners', Commonwealth Casualty and Independence Indemnity, all in a precarious financial position and on the verge of insolvency, were allowed to continue their operations in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On October 30, 1932, the companies were in such financial difficulty that in order to show some degree of solvency the liabilities of these three companies were assumed by the International Re-Insurance Corporation—a Delaware corporation of high sounding verbiage but with so little financial responsibility that they were chased out of the State of California.

After the absorption of these three Pennsylvania companies by the Delaware Corporation, the International Re-Insurance Company, which was also controlled by Carl Hansen, made a demand for the withdrawal of $665,000 worth of bonds on deposit with the State Treasurer. These bonds were originally the property of the three merged companies. Prior to this time application had already been made for the withdrawal of these bonds but in the Insurance Department was one friend of good government; he again raised the strenuous objections to the withdrawal and cited his authority for such objections, Section 403 of the 1921 Insurance Code which reads as follows: "No deposit (of bonds) when once made shall be wholly withdrawn or diminished so long as any liability to policyholders remains unsatisfied."

The 1931 statement of the Independence Indemnity Company showed over $9,000,000 of liabilities. The Bureau of Workmen's Compensation in charge of Director Stephen B. Sweeney, also had brought to his attention the fact that there were one thousand or more open compensation claims of Pennsylvania claimants which were unsatisfied. These claims represented monies due the laborers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, their widows, dependents and permanently and totally injured workers. These facts were brought to the attention of Mr. Sweeney, who in turn called them to the attention of the Insurance Department. Nevertheless, in view of the fact that one of the companies had liabilities of $9,000,000 and in view of the fact that approximately one thousand compensation claims remained unpaid and open, involving an approximate liability of upwards of $200,000 still the Insurance Commissioner under the advice of the Attorney General's office, under date of November 1, 1932, wrote to Edward Martin, State Treasurer, as follows:

Insurance Department, November 1, 1932.

Honorable Edward Martin, State Treasurer, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir:

Please be advised that the outstanding obligations of the Independence Indemnity Company, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, have been assumed by the International Re-Insurance Corporation, a Delaware Corporation, with executive office in Los Angeles, California, in consideration for which the Independence Indemnity Company has conveyed to the International Re-Insurance Corporation all of its property, both real and personal, of every kind, character and description and wheresoever situated.

The agreement referred to above was executed on October 31st, 1932, and was approved by a majority of the stockholders of the Independence Indemnity Company as provided by law.

You are hereby authorized to release the following securities, with aggregate par value of $635,000, deposited in the name of the Independence Indemnity Company, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, to Mr. G. R. Dette, Vice President of the International Re-Insurance Corporation, against his receipt:

(Here follows itemized description of the $635,000 worth of bonds.)

There will still remain in your custody, $30,000 par U. S. A. Treasury Bonds, Nos. E-00039665, E-00042465, F-00042466, in the name of the Independence Indemnity Company, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Very truly yours,

C. F. ARMSTRONG,
Insurance Commissioner.

CFA:vps

On November 3, 1932, two days later, apparently not being satisfied with depriving the injured workmen, employers and other claimants of the merged companies of $635,000.000 the Insurance Commissioner again requested General Martin for a release of the remaining $30,000. Not one penny would they allow to remain in the possession of the Commonwealth to be utilized to satisfy claims of injured and maimed workmen or their widows and orphans. The removal of the funds was an immoral disregard of the welfare of injured claimants which knowledge was in the hands of the Director of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, Mr. Sweeney, and which should have been utilized by Mr. Sweeney to prevent the unlawful disregard of the acts of assembly by the Insurance Commissioner.

On April 19, 1933, within five months after the removal of the $665,000 worth of bonds, International Re-Insurance Corporation was placed in receivership. The control and possession of the insurance department's $665,000 worth of bonds was lost forever and the obligation of the Commonwealth to protect policy holders and claimants was ruthlessly disregarded.

What has already been stated to you should be sufficient but apparently it was not sufficient either to the Insurance Department or to the Director of the Workmen's Compensation Bureau or to any of the powers that be, for on January 6, 1933, an additional $300,000 of securities were withdrawn from the custody of the State Treasurer and turned over to Lloyds Insurance Company of America which company had purchased the Constitution Indemnity Company of Pennsylvania.

The 1931 schedule of outstanding liabilities of the Constitution Indemnity Company shows liabilities of over $3,225,000. It might be possible to excuse the Insurance Department, the Attorney General's Department and the Department of Labor and Industry in allowing the withdrawal of the $665,000 worth of bonds but for these departments, without any objection, without any protection to allow the withdrawal of an additional $300,000 surely warrants the condemnation of this body.

On August 4, 1933, six months after the removal of the $300,000 worth of securities which were turned over to Lloyds Insurance Company of America. Lloyds Insurance Company of America were placed in receivership. Again the Commonwealth has been derelict in its duty to the injured workmen and policy holders.

And I am also informed that up to the present writing the Director of Workmen's Compensation has not advised the injured claimants who were insured by the Lloyds Insurance Company of America of their right under the Workmen's Compensation Act which would allow them to enter a certified copy of their agreement or decree as a judgment against their employer.

The statements that I have made are all at the disposal of the committee appointed to investigate the Insurance Department and are surely at the disposal of any committee appointed to investigate the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, directed by Mr. Sweeney.

Resolution No. 83, which appointed a committee to investigate the affairs and records of the Insurance Department contained a paragraph that "said committee shall make report of its findings to the next session of the General Assembly." So far this has not been done and I say to the gentlemen of that committee that I will be more than glad to present to the committee in deliberation the individuals who will personally substantiate the allegations that I have made.

The SPEAKER. The statement of the gentleman from York will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. HUTTON

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, in view of the remarks by the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, I desire to make a statement to the House.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections on the part of the House, the gentleman will proceed. The Chair hears none.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have listened very intently to the statement as made by the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen. Practically all of the information which he has read to this House has already been collated by the Insurance Investigating Committee. The committee has held four sessions. The last meeting that was called was for October 26th, but unfortunately, owing to the fact that this date was so near to the November election, it was not possible for the Committee to hold a full hearing at that time.

I can assure the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, that as Chairman of this Committee, and I think I speak for the members of that committee, that we will welcome any information which he can give to us in the further investigation of the situation which he has outlined to the House. I might say, furthermore, for the information of the gentleman from York, and also for the information of the House, that the Committee has labored under a very great disadvantage in not having any funds with which to carry on the investigation. I presume that I, as Chairman of the investigating committee, have probably been in touch with the same individuals who have furnished the statement which the gentleman from York has just read. Some of these statements can be substantiated from records. Other portions of the statement can only be substantiated by records which are not within the State of Pennsylvania at the present time. I want to assure the members of this House that as Chairman of the Insurance Investigating Committee, we intend to run all of these clues and all of these statements down to the very last and to the limit. Some of the situations that have been disclosed certainly need corrective measures. I understand from the remarks by the gentleman from York, that it was his idea that the committee should report at this session; it was not the view of the Chairman of the Committee that we were to report at this particular session. If there had been anything in the call of the Governor, then we might have been warranted in reporting at this particular session, but my interpretation is that the report must be made to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

In the meanwhile the committee is functioning, and I can assure the gentleman from York, and every member of this House, that there will be no shirking on the part of that committee in the full performance of the duties of the committee.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton, will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will declare a recess until 10:50 o'clock P. M. Are there objections? The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared (at 10:35 o'cock P. M.) until 10:50 o'clock P. M. today.

AFTER RECESS

The SPEAKER (Grover C. Talbot) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The time of the recess having expired, the House will be in order.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 15, page 18, line 12 by striking out after the word "million" and before the figures "(15,000,000)" the word: [dollars].

HOUSE MESSAGES

NEW EQUIPMENT REQUIRED FOR FRANKFORD ARSENAL

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations:

In the House of Representatives, November 22, 1933.

Whereas, The work of the United States Government in the Frankford Arsenal at Philadelphia is of such a nature as to require modern machine tools and equipment to cost approximately seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($750,000), more properly and economically to manufacture and perfect those items of ordinance material as may best serve the United States by their use as manufactured or as models for manufacture; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the attention of the Representatives of Congress from Pennsylvania be hereby invited to the need for said modern machine tools and equipment and, that said Representatives are hereby respectfully urged to divert the necessary funds from moneys now appropriated or to secure the appropriation of funds at the forthcoming session of Congress for the procurement of such modern or up-to-date machine tools and equipment for Frankford Arsenal as may be recommended by the Secretary of War;

Resolved, That the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works be urged to allocate the necessary funds to Frankford Arsenal as authorized by Section 202 of the National Industrial Recovery Act, which states, "provision for original equipment for the mechanization or motorization of such army tactical units as he (the President) may designate;"

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be furnished the President, the Secretary of War, the Assistant Secretary of War, the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works, each Senator and Representative in Congress from Pennsylvania, the Chief of Staff, U. S. Army, and the Chief of Ordnance, U. S. Army.

CONGRESS MEMORIALIZED TO EQUALIZE TAXATION BETWEEN RIVER AND RAILROAD TRANS PORTATION.

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations:

In the House of Representatives, November 27, 1933.

Whereas, In many cases boats on rivers are operated in open competition with railroad transportation and

Whereas, Boats so operated are not compelled to maintain rights of way in the manner required of railroads and as a consequence can offer lower rates for transportation and

Whereas, The belief prevails that river transportation is not subjected to a burden of Federal and State taxation equal to that imposed on railroads and

Whereas, Railroad transportation is essential to the development of the commerce and business of the United States and

Whereas, River transportation is in most instances a matter of interstate commerce over which the Federal Government has control therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly memoralize Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will equalize the burden of taxation between river and railroad transportation in order to enable railroads to secure a fair share of the business

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Represntatives of the United States.

STATE EMERGENCY RELIEF BOARD TO CONTRIBUTE AND COOPERATE WITH POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS IN SECURING HELP FROM FEDERAL CIVIL WORKS ADMINISTRATION

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Municipal Affairs:

In the House of Representatives, November 28th, 1933.

Whereas, Under the general rules and regulations issued by the Federal Civil Works Administration of Pennsylvania (No. 1, issued November 20, 1933), it is made clear that local and State Governments are expected to cooperate and contribute to the projects to be carried on under the Federal Civil Works Administration, it being specifically stated in such rules and regulations, paragraph 6, as follows:

"The greater the contribution the local government makes in supplying materials and supervision, the more speedily will this program be put in operation, * * *" and

Whereas, Many local governments in communities in which the need is greatest, are not in a position financially to make any contributions to such projects; and

Whereas, It is of paramount importance that projects be instituted in such communities with the greatest possible speed; and

Whereas, The amount of contributions desired by the Federal agency seems to be about ten per centum of the amount to be expended; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urge and suggest to the State Emergency Relief Board that said board:

(a) Ascertain from the proper Federal authorities the amount of money intended to be spent in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania through the Federal Civil Works Administration;

(b) Ascertain from such authorities the corresponding amount which will be expected to be expended by State and local governments;

(c) Set aside from the funds for relief purposes in the possession, or to come into the possession, of the board, sufficient moneys to enable expected contributions to be made for local relief projects by the State Emergency Relief Board in worthy cases;

(d) Immediately establish and put into effect a system whereby political and municipal subdivisions of this Commonwealth may apply to the State Emergency Relief Board or such agencies as may be established or designated by the board for State assistance to such political and municipal subdivisions in order that they may cooperate with the Federal Civil Works Administration in local civil works projects; and be it further.

Resolved, That since the program for Federal Civil Works is intended to expire of February fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four, the General Assembly urges upon the Board the necessity for haste; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution shall immediately upon adoption be furnished the members of the State Emergency Relief Board.

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING THE PRESIDENT AND SENATORS TO COMPLETE THE ALLEGHENY RIVER PROJECT

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Canals and Inland Navigation.

In the House of Representatives, December 4, 1933.

Whereas The Roosevelt New Deal contemplates the carrying forward of the internal waterways system of the United States toward the ideals conceived by the forward looking statesmen of the Nation during the past quarter century and

Whereas The Mississippi River and its tributaries have been made available for the navigation of vessels to East Brady via the Allegheny River a 9,000 mile waterway that is now in use carrying thousands of tons of freight and

Whereas The Congress of the United States has authorized the further development of the Allegheny River to at least Oil City with ten miles of the unfinished project already provided for and

Whereas Available engineering reports and regional economic surveys indicate the feasibility of a canal running from Franklin Pennsylvania to Lake Erie at the City of Erie and terminating in the Harbor of Presque Isle which is Pennsylvania's only lake and

Whereas The completion of such an All-Pennsylvania waterway as the Northern limit of the Mississippi-Ohio-Allegheny waterway would provide western Pennsylvania with a new artery of traffic for the interchange of the mineral and agricultural products of the great northwest and the mineral and manufactured products of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and exchange of our mineral and agricultural products with the agricultural products of the great South and

Whereas The actual construction of a waterway from Franklin Pennsylvania to Erie Pennsylvania during the period of construction would provide employment for thousands of presently unemployed Pennsylvanians and

Whereas Permanent benefits and wealth would be added to Pennsylvania by reason of the existence and operation of such a waterway and

Whereas The said All-Pennsylvania route may be constructed at a cost of less than fifty per centum of the cost of constructing any other proposed alternate route and

Whereas The All-Pennsylvania canal is the shortest route of any of those proposed by at least fifty miles and

Whereas The selection of any other route connecting the Mississippi Valley with the Great Lakes would involve the building of a harbor on Lake Erie at a tremendous and needless outlay of Federal money and

Whereas There is at Erie a natural landlocked harbor now available and affording complete terminal facilities for any volume of commerce which may desire to utilize said proposed Pennsylvania canal and

Whereas The said route would utilize Pennsylvania waters in Pennsylvania and

Whereas These several other routes proposed depend entirely upon Pennsylvania watersheds to make these several projects navigable and

Whereas Under the National Industrial Recovery Act the Public Works Administration is in control of funds for the purpose and is desirous of expending funds for such purposes as the development of inland waterways and

Whereas It is apparently the desire of His Excellency the President of the United States and the Honorable Harold L. Ickes Public Works Administrator to speed the use of funds appropriated to the Public Works Administration for purposes of this character and

Whereas Pennsylvania pays the second largest amount of taxes into the Federal Treasury and should be rightfully considered in the development of this project as proposed therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania do respectfully petition His Excellency the Honorable Franklin D Roosevelt President of the United States to authorize the completion of the Allegheny River project and the building of a canal from Franklin Pennsylvania to the City of Erie on Lake Erie in Pennsylvania and be it further

Resolved That the General Assembly further memorialize United States Senators from Pennsylvania and the Congressmen from Pennsylvania to use their best offices to bring about the immediate approval of this All-Pennsylvania project

The Chaplain, Rev. George F. Conner, offered the following prayer:

O God, Thou hast folded back the mantle of the night, and clothed the earth in the golden glow of the day. We thank Thee for this new day with its opportunities for service. If there is any vestige of darkness and gloom remaining in our hearts or minds, may Thy gracious spirit illumine us. Grant to the Speaker and members of the House, vision, courage and power commensurate with their responsibilities.

Keep us true to the traditions of this House,—old fashioned in principles, up to date in information and ideas, and ahead of our times in ideals. For Thy glory. Amen.

RESOLUTION NO. 6.

Mr. HABBYSHAW. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 6, Printer's No. 33.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, November 27, 1933.

Whereas Under the general rules and regulations issued by the Federal Civil Works Administration of Pennsylvania (Number one issued November twentieth one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three) it is made clear that local and State Governments are expected to cooperate and contribute to the projects to be carried on under the Federal Civil Works Administration it being specifically stated in such rules and reglations paragraph six as follows

"The greater the contribution the local government makes in supplying materials and supervision the more speedily will this program be put in operation * * *" and

Whereas Many local governments in communities in which the need is greatest are not in a position financially to make any contributions to such projects and

Whereas It is of paramount importance that projects be instituted in such communities with the greatest possible speed and

Whereas The amount of contributions desired by the Federal agency seems to be about ten per centum of the amount to be expended therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urge and suggest to the State Emergency Relief Board that said board

(a) Ascertain from the proper Federal authorities the amount of money intended to be spent in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania through the Federal Civil Works Administration

(b) Ascertain from such authorities the corresponding amount which will be expected to be expended by State and local governments

(c) Set aside from the funds for relief purposes in the possession or to come into the possession of the board sufficient moneys to enable expected contributions to be made for local relief projects by the State Emergency Relief Board in worthy cases

Resolved That since the program for Federal Civil Works is intended to expire of February fifteenth one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four the General Assembly urges upon the Board the necessity for haste and be it further

Resolved That copies of this resolution shall immediately upon adoption be furnished the members of the State Emergency Relief Board

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION NO. 3.

Miss BRANCATO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 3, Printer's No. 19.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, November 22, 1933.

Whereas The work of the United States Government in the Frankford Arsenal at Philadelphia is of such a nature as to require modern machine tools and equipment to cost approximately seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) more properly and economically to manufacture and perfect those items of ordnance material as may best serve the United States by their use as manufactured or as models for manufacture therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the attention of the Representatives of Congress from Pennsylvania be hereby invited to the need for said modern machine tools and equipment and that said Representatives are hereby respectfully urged to divert the necessary funds from moneys now appropriated or to secure the appropriation of funds at the forthcoming session of Congress for the procurement of such modern or up-to-date machine tools and equipment for Frankford Arsenal as may be recommended by the Secretary of War

Resolved That the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works be urged to allocate the necessary funds to Frankford Arsenal as authorized by Section two hundred and two of the National Industrial Recovery Act which states "provision for original equipment for the merchanization or motorization of such army tactical units as he (the President) may designate"

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be furnished the President the Secretary of War the Assistant Secretary of War the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works each Senator and Representative in Congress from Pennsylvania the Chief of Staff United States Army and the Chief of Ordnance United States Army

MODIFYING QUALIFICATIONS FOR POSITIONS IN LIQUOR STORES

Mr. QUINN offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, December 5, 1933.

Whereas, A knowledge of trigonometry, ability to explain the formation of an archipelago, define etymology or evolution is not essential in selling liquor, and

Whereas, The requirements of a college or high school education as a necessary qualification to a position in Pennsylvania State Liquor Stores eliminates a vast number of men who by training, experience and practical business knowledge makes them desirable for such positions,

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That a grade school education be sufficient qualification for positions in Pennsylvania Liquor Stores, and all other educational tests be waived by the examining board.

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM DEPARTMENT OF BANKING

Mr. SARIG offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, December 5, 1933.

Whereas, Many thousands of depositors in closed State banks in Pennsylvania have suffered great losses and the liquidation of these closed institutions has dragged on slowly over a period of many months, and meanwhile heavy administration costs have added further to the losses suffered by depositors; and

Whereas, A sum said to exceed $250,000,000, the distribution of which would help relieve the financial stringency suffered by thousands of depositors, is held in closed State banks; and

Whereas, The Federal Government has available and stands ready to advance immediately a loan of $100,000,000 to aid in the distribution of the funds due depositors in closed banks; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, in Special Session assembled, demand that the Secretary of the Department of Banking be required to furnish forthwith to the House an explanation of the delay by the Department of Banking in liquidating closed banks and the failure of the Department to take advantage of the offer of the Federal Government.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE EASTERN PENITENTIARY

Mr. BALDI offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, December 5, 1933.

Whereas, Several serious outbreaks have occurred recently at the Eastern Penitentiary in Philadelphia; and

Whereas, The public is entitled to know whether such outbreaks are the result of negligence in the management of said institution, and due to conditions which have existed for some time, or whether they were unavoidable and due to the character of prisoners detained in said institution; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three members, and the President Pro Tempore shall appoint two Senators, who together shall constitute a joint legislative committee whose duty it shall be to make a searching and impartial investigation of conditions existing at the Eastern Penitentiary, and to determine the causes of the recent outbreaks among the prisoners in said institution and to make report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly not later than February 1st, 1935;

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

RESOLUTION NO. 8.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 8, Printer's No. 54.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 4, 1933.

Whereas, His Excellency the Governor cognizant of the needs of the people of the Commonwealth has called the General Assembly into extraordinary session to consider legislation set forth in thirteen items in his proclamation and covering many subjects of needed legislation and

Whereas, The Members of the House of Representatives fully recognize their responsibility like Israel Putman of old their plows are in the furrows and they stand ready to do their part and

Whereas, Various standing committees are taking little or no action on bills referred to them thereby throttling needful legislation having time for deliberation and consideration of this legislation Shall we like Nero fiddle while Rome burns therefore be it

Resolved, That this House shall not consider the fixing of a day for final adjournment of this Extraordinary Session until all bills introduced are reported to the House for its action and until all the purposes for which this session has been called have been accomplished

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION COMMITTED.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this Resolution be committed to the Committee on Rules.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION NO. 4.

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 4, Printer's No. 21.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, November 27, 1933.

Whereas, In many cases boats on rivers are operated in open competition with railroad transportation and

Whereas, Boats so operated are not compelled to maintain rights of way in the manner required of railroads and as a consequence can offer lower rates for transportation and

Whereas, The belief prevails that river transportation is not subjected to a burden of Federal and State taxation equal to that imposed on railroads and

Whereas, Railroad transportation is essential to the development of the commerce and business of the United States and

Whereas, River transportation is in most instances a matter of interstate commerce over which the Federal Government has control therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly memoralize Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will equalize the burden of taxation between river and railroad transportation in order to enable railroads to secrue a fair share of the business

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION NO. 9.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 9, Printer's No. 55.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 4, 1933.

Whereas The Roosevelt New Deal contemplates the carrying forward of the internal waterways system of the United States toward the ideals conceived by the forward looking statesmen of the Nation during the past quarter century and

Whereas The Mississippi River and its tributaries have been made available for the navigation of vessels to East Brady via the Allegheny River a 9,000 mile waterway that is now in use carrying thousands of tons of freight and

Whereas The Congress of the United States has authorized the further development of the Allegheny River to at least Oil City with ten miles of the unfinished project already provided for and

Whereas Available engineering reports and regional economic surveys indicate the feasibility of a canal running from Franklin Pennsylvania to Lake Erie at the City of Erie and terminating in the Harbor of Presque Isle which is Pennsylvania's only lake port and

Whereas The completion of such an All-Pennsylvania waterway as the Northern limit of the Mississippi-Ohio-Allegheny waterway would provide western Pennsylvania with a new artery of traffic for the interchange of the mineral and agricultural products of the great northwest and the mineral and manufactured products of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and exchange of our mineral and agricultural products with the agricultural products of the great South and

Whereas The actual construction of a waterway from Franklin Pennsylvania to Erie Pennsylvania during the period of construction would provide employment for thousands of presently unemployed Pennsylvanians and

Whereas Permanent benefits and wealth would be added to Pennsylvania by reason of the existence and operation of such a waterway and

Whereas The said All-Pennsylvania route may be constructed at a cost of less than fifty per centum of the cost of constructing any other proposed alternate route and

Whereas The All-Pennsylvania canal is the shortest route of any of those proposed by at least fifty miles and

Whereas The selection of any other route connecting the Mississippi Valley with the Great Lakes would involve the building of a harbor on Lake Erie at a tremendous and needless outlay of Federal money and

Whereas There is at Erie a natural landlocked harbor now available and affording complete terminal facilities for any volume of commerce which may desire to utilize said proposed Pennsylvania canal and

Whereas The said route would utilize Pennsylvania waters in Pennsylvania and

Whereas These several other routes proposed depend entirely upon Pennsylvania watersheds to make these several projects navigable and

Whereas Under the National Industrial Recovery Act the Public Works Administration is in control of funds for the purpose and is desirous of expending funds for such purposes as the development of inland waterways and

Whereas It is apparently the desire of His Excellency the President of the United States and the Honorable Harold L Ickes Public Works Administrator to speed the use of funds appropriated to the Public Works Administration for purposes of this character and

Whereas Pennsylvania pays the second largest amount of taxes into the Federal Treasury and should be rightfully considered in the development of this project as proposed therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania do respectfully petition His Excellency the Honorable Franklin D Roosevelt President of the United States to authorize the completion of the Allegheny River project and the building of a canal from Franklin Pennsylvania to the City of Erie on Lake Erie in Pennsylvania and be it further

Resolved That the General Assembly further memorialize United States Senators from Pennsylvania and the Congressmen from Pennsylvania to use their best offices to bring about the immediate approval of this All-Pennsylvania project

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO SIT DURING SESSION OF HOUSE.

Mr. STEEDLE asked and obtained unanimous consent for the members of the Appropriation Committee together with the sponsors of House Bills Nos. 134 and 193, to attend a public hearing in the House Caucus Room on those bills.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE TO ASCERTAIN COST OF MANUFACTURE AND IMPORTATION OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES.

Mr. GARTNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, December 5, 1933.

Whereas, The General Assembly of this Commonwealth has enacted or will hereafter enact certain measures imposing taxes on distilled and rectified spirits and wines; and

Whereas, The General Assembly intended to fix the tax at such a point that the Commonwealth could receive necessary revenue, and legitimate dealers in alcoholic beverages could dispense them at a price which would eliminate bootleggers, racketeers and moonshiners by making their trade unprofitable; and

Whereas, It now appears that the price of legal liquors and wines to the consumer is going to be higher than that charged by illegal dispensers of such products; and

Whereas, It was the intention of this Legislature to make alcoholic beverages available to those who want them at a price which would stop illegal trading in them; and

Whereas, The Twenty-first Amendment to the Federal Constitution imposes on the States, meaning the Legislatures and Governors of the separate States, the power to control and regulate the handling of alcoholic beverages; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That a Joint Legislative Committee is hereby created to consist of three Members of the House to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, and two Senators to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, for the purpose of determining the exact cost of the manufacture and importation of spirituous alcoholic beverages and the price at which such beverages should be sold in order to make unprofitable the trade of those unlawfully engaged in the sale thereof.

The said committee shall organize immediately after the appointment of the members thereof, and shall make a report to the General Assembly as expeditiously as possible, and shall accompany the same with such suggestions as they may decide will effectualy discourage and prevent the illegal manufacture and sale of alcohol beverages; and be it further

Resolved. That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further Resolved. The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 87, entitled:

An Act appropriating the moneys in the State Stores Fund

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have no desire to hold up these proceedings; I realize the futility of it, but I just do wish to call your attention to this particular bill now before us. To my way of thinking this bill represents the loosest method of parceling out the public money that I have seen since I have come to this Legislature. It is simply a blanket bill giving them permission to use as much of the money that is taken in from these liquor stores as they see fit to use.

In the first place, of course, you gave them the power to fix their salaries as they saw fit, you gave them blanket powers to spend as much as they saw fit. Now, here you give them blanket powers to spend unlimited amounts of money without any restraint and without any check whatever. You are simply handing over to this control board the power to dip their hands into this fund and do with it whatever they please.

I have never in all the years of my experience in this Legislature seen so loose and so careless a method of handing out public money as this bill proposes. For that reason I shall vote against it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 119, entitled:

An Act to amend section seventeen of the act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seven) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes and in cities coextensive with counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment and collection of the same providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes" as amended construing the word "indebtedness" as used in said section and denying the right of the Commonwealth to collect taxes on deposits in banks banking institutions saving institutions and trust companies

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Union, Mr. Baker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Union, Mr. Baker permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, will the sponsor of this measure state its purpose.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the purpose of House Bill No. 119, Printer's No. 37, is to repeal the four mill tax on time deposits in banks.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if this measure will also deny to the State the right to collect any tax which has heretofore accrued, but which has not yet been collected?

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, this act will deny the State collecting the four mill tax on time deposit or savings accounts.

Mr. HOOPES. Whether it has accrued in the past or in the future; is that correct?

Mr. BAKER. Sir?

Mr. HOOPES. It applies also to taxes which have been accrued in the past but have not yet been collected, does it not?

Mr. BAKER. I would answer in this way, Mr. Speaker, that the intention of this act would be to relieve the banks of the four mill tax which prior to the last session of the Legislature was imposed on such deposits.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, last evening we were told that the financial condition of the State was very precarious, that it was very doubtful whether the liquor revenue was going to be anything like as heavy as has been estimated.

A number of measures for relief of aged persons, the unemployed and various other groups of the needy in this State have been introduced. It has been suggested that we are going to have a great deal of difficulty in finding money to take care of these people. We now have before us a measure to repeal a tax which is already in existence. No tax is very popular with the people who have to pay. Everybody would like to shift their taxes to somebody else if it were at all possible. In this instance the banks would like to get out of paying the four mill tax on savings accounts. I don't believe that with the Commonwealth in its present financial condition it is desirable to repeal an existing tax on banks, at least until we are sure that we are in a position to take care of the unemployed, the needy, the mothers who need assistance, our hospitals and our schools, if you please, and other institutions.

I ask you to vote no upon this measure.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is identical in purpose with Senate Bill No. 17 on today's calendar. Both measures are a tribute to the power of money as distinguished from the woes that have been visited upon the owner of real estate in Pennsylvania.

The bill is ostensibly designed to protect those supposedly poor people who have small savings accounts when, as a matter of fact, we all know that the poor people who have had saving accounts have spent them long ago. There are no longer widows and orphans and Aunt Janes and Grandmas with saving accounts that this Legislature should protect from a four mill tax.

Our friends the bankers say that the four mill tax will take money out of the bank. I reply to that that the present rate of interest upon real estate will take people out of their homes.

We only have a limited number of ways of raising money, and when we excuse money we penalize the property—no other alternative.

I do not see why the man with twenty-five hundred dollars in cash, which he has saved, does not owe the same duty to the State that is owed by the man who has a twenty-five hundred dollar home, and I object to the tribute that is implied in this bill, with its bid to the power of money.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish also to raise my voice in protest against the passage of this bill. I acquiesce in every word that the gentleman from Cambria has just uttered. I want to say to that gentleman that I introduced a bill at the last session, which never got out of committee, taxing this intangible wealth,—a sweeping a bill, that would have made the collection of this tax automatic by requiring stamps to be placed on these intangibles. That did not cover, of course, any cash on deposit in a bank.

Let me give you this illustration: In Erie County a careful survey has shown that there are over forty-three million dollars on deposit in the banks in Erie County, scarcely one cent of which has paid this four mill tax, while the real estate in that same county was taxed from thirty to thirty-five mills on the dollar. The cash in banks was only taxed or assessed four mills and did not pay it.

It is just as this gentleman says: You are making a privileged class out of the people who have a little money in the bank and you are making saps out of the man that owes a little home. One of our officials in our county used this argument: how do you expect to tax a man with a deposit of two thousand or five thousand dollars in the bank and maybe that is all the money he has, but at the same time we have to tax a man with the two thousand dollar home at the rate of thirty-five mills and who has to pay it or be sold out, while the man with the money in the bank is only assessed four mills and he does not pay that.

I also want to emphasize the question raised by Mr. Hoopes as to the four mill tax that is in arrears. The law now stipulates you can go back five years, and they are going back five years on inheritance taxes, and this money in the banks that has been there for the last five years has paid no four mill tax, the law now stipulates you can go back five years and collect it, but why should you make fish out of one and fowl out of the other.

If you are trying to equalize taxation in the state, now is the time to do it. Gentlemen, and if you do not do it in this House of Representatives, where is the taxpayer to look for any assistance or for any help? I for one want to protest against the passage of this bill.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I think we all realize and appreciate the burden of the tax upon real estate, but the fact that the tax upon real estate is burdensome is reason why we should not have this measure and relieve the many depositors with comparatively small amounts in savings accounts.

I am informed by the cashier of a bank of considerable size that the savings deposits and the money on certificates of deposit in banks are generally placed there by comparatively poor people and the amounts are invariably small amounts from one hundred to five hundred dollars.

Two wrongs do not make a right. We do not rectify the situation by placing this burden upon the small investors. I know banks that have paid the small amount of three per cent on certificates of deposit and since the enactment of the Senate Bill last session, they have reduced that very insignificant amount to two and one half per cent.

I think, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that this is a meritorious bill. It is one way of giving relief to the burdened taxpayer, and I ask you ladies and gentlemen to support this measure.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 111 (Senate Bill No. 7) as follows:

An Act authorizing the abtement of certain tax penalties and interest on city taxes in cities of the first class and on school taxes in school districts of the first class

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all penalties and interest imposed on delinquent city and school taxes in cities of the first class and in school districts of the first class for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one or any previous tax year may be abated by the council of any such city or by the Board of Public Education of such school district if Thirty-five and one third per centum of such taxes are paid in full on or before the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three and thirty-three and one-third per centum of such taxes on or before the twenty-eighth day of February one thousand nine hundred thirty-four and the remaining thirty-three and one third per centum of such taxes on or before the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four All penalties and other charges not including interest due on such delinquent city and school taxes for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two may be abated by the council of any such city or by the Board of Public Education of any school district if such taxes and the interest due thereon are paid in full on or before the thirtieth day of September one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four

This act shall be construed to apply to all city and school taxes whether or not liens for such taxes have been filed in the office of the prothonotary of the county or any proceedings for the collection of such taxes have been instituted in any court in said county

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MALINA. Mr. Speaker, is there anyone in the House who can explain this bill to us?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia asks if there is any member of the House who can explain the provisions of Senate Bill No. 7, House Bill No. 111, Printer's No. 40 now under consideration. Will any member assume that task?

Mr. MALINA. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MALINA. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia tell us the real story of the bill?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is an attempt by the city of Philadelphia to collect a large portion of its delinquent taxes covering the last three years.

At the present time the city of Philadelphia is functioning on a very short budget due solely to the fact that approximately forty millions of dollars are tied up in delinquent taxes from very large real estate holders, such as corporations, as well as individual small home owners, and the city has been giving consideration to the proposition that if the penalties that have accrued on these delinquent taxes would be abated an opportunity would be given to the small home owner to pay his delinquent taxes.

So as to encourage the payment of these delinquent taxes both by the small home owner and the large realty holders, this method has been devised: that providing these delinquent taxes are paid in three equal installments, the first one-third by December 31 of this year, the second one-third by February 28 of next year and the balance by May first of next year these penalties and other charges will be abated. In this way it is hoped to collect a very large portion of these delinquent taxes.

This bill meets with the approval of those in Philadelphia who are trying to shape up its financial affairs.

For those reasons I would ask the members of the House to support this legislation.

Mr. MALINA. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia tell us whether there are any other amendments to this bill coming forth?

Mr. BLUMBERG. No, Mr. Speaker, in voting on this bill the members are voting on it now as amended.

Mr. MALINA. This is as amended, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Yes, Mr. Speaker. Does the gentleman have Printer's No. 40 before him?

Mr. MALINA. That is, Printer's No. 4 on the file?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, Printer's No. 40 is the correct printer's number as it is amended.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Malina, that the printer's number now before this House is No. 40. Is the gentleman from Philadelphia now sufficiently informed?

Mr. MALINA. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. MALINA. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if the people who paid their taxes last week will also have their taxes abated?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Because of the pendency of this bill, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, practically no taxes have been coming in to the city of Philadelphia during the past two months. In the month of November of last year there were paid four million dollars in delinquent taxes. During November of 1933 there were paid but six hundred thousand dollars of delinquent taxes because of this bill.

Mr. MALINA. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, inasmuch as it is a fact that in Philadelphia the home is away behind in taxes, I am firm in the belief that as much consideration to them as possible should be given.

In Philadelphia we have a condition where taxes have not been paid for three or four years and more on small residences, by small home owners. These people have been without work for two or three years or probably four years. This bill has been sponsored for the purpose of relieving these people to a certain extent.

However, I want to say that I have in mind that this bill is more or less for the large corporations likewise—it is for their benefit.

I am compelled to go along with this bill for the reason that the district that I represent is a district that is behind in taxes. If this House had in the past passed such legislation as social legislation, for the purpose of eliminating the slums, I believe that most of these taxes would have been paid up to date.

We have in the city of Philadelphia a man who is on the fence and pussyfooting. When it comes to any real honest to God legislation for the poor man, he find his way out.

We are faced with a problem in Philadelphia on the housing situation, namely, the elimination of the slums. If this program was pushed through this House and the Senate, it would give employment to at least sixty or seventy thousand people for a period of probably two years or more.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, inasmuch as I am fully in accord with this bill, although I believe that it is likewise for the benefit of the big corporations and building owners, I am going to ask you to go along and pass the bills if for no other reason than the reason that the poor residents that I represent in the great northeast are behind in their tax payments.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether he realizes that the bill in its original form as it was passed by the Senate was very much opposed by the Mayor of Philadelphia, the city Solicitor of Philadelphia and by Councils of Philadelphia?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, that is true, in its original form.

Mr. LONG. And may I ask, Mr. Speaker, whether this bill in its amended form has been approved by the Mayor, the City Solicitor and Councils of the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Last week, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the City Solicitor's department of Philadelphia was represented in a conference and following that the assistant city solicitor in charge of this bill came to Harrisburg and suggested an amendment whereby the delinquent taxes be paid in two installments instead of three, fifty per cent of the delinquent taxes to be paid by December thirty-first. That amendment was prepared and the Mayor, the City Solicitor's office and Councils were in favor of that amendment. Over the week-end it was felt that the small home owner might not be able to raise half of his taxes by December thirty-first, a matter of practically only two weeks, and it was then agreed that instead of fifty per cent it be made thirty-three and one-third per cent. So, I can say in its present form the bill meets with the approval of the constituted authorities of the city of Philadelphia.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

JOINT SESSION

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SHANNON PRESIDING

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS OF THE SENATE. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you the committee appointed to escort the Governor of the Commonwealth to the Hall of the House to address the Joint Session of the General Assembly.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, who will address the Joint Session.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SHANNON. Members of the General Assembly, the Chair has great honor in presenting His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, who will now address you.

ADDRESS OF THE GOVERNOR

GOVERNOR PINCHOT. Ladies and gentlemen of the General Assembly:

I congratulate you upon an unprecedented achievement. Pennsylvania Legislatures have often spent a month or two, or even longer, in preliminary skirmishes before getting down to the real business of a session. You have followed no such precedent. In three short weeks you have made a greater contribution to the welfare of the people than most legislatures have made in three months.

You have discussed and adopted what I believe to be in principle the best system of liquor control yet devised in America and have sent it to the Governor for his signature in ten working days.

Doubtless the Liquor Control Bill is not completely satisfactory to any one of us. Certainly it contains provisions I would change if I could. Nevertheless, and on the whole, it is good.

The unexampled speed and efficiency with which you have handled one of the most controversial questions that has ever come before a session of the General Assembly deserves high praise.

In three weeks you have not only disposed of the question of liquor control, but you have made notable progress in legislation dealing with recovery and other highly important matters, such as the soldiers' bonus.

Taken altogether, your record is without a parallel in any previous session of the General Assembly.

Our mutual cooperation so far in this session has had results of which you and I may both be proud. It is wise and right that we should continue to work together for the public good, as we have done so far.

I offer you all the help at my command in further efforts for the general welfare, and I hope most earnestly that our cooperation may go on, to the advantage of the people of our great Commonwealth.

The one thing above all others which makes your achievement a shining example for all future sessions is that you have given the mass of the people what they needed and what they wanted without allowing yourselves to be sidetracked by the selfish opposition of small interested minorities.

You declined to be turned from the line of your duty to the people by a liquor lobby of almost unprecedented size and activity. You refused its demand that the welfare of the people generally should give way to the desire of the liquor interests to save money or to make money at the expense of the public.

I ask now, and I am certain that I speak the will of our people in asking, that the same lofty spirit of public service, the same refusal to sacrifice the interest of the many to the profit of the few, the same readiness to cooperate in the public interest, shall mark your attitude toward social welfare legislation, toward legislation in the interest of the farmers, the miners, the workers, the home owners, and the masses of our people generally during the remainder of this session.

You and I cannot afford to let the people believe that the Executive and the Legislature fail to understand and sympathize with their problems and their troubles. Basing my judgment on what you have done already, I do not for one moment believe that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will allow itself to be controlled or dominated by any special interest or combination of special interests. You have but to continue in the same attitude which you have already shown toward the liquor problem to convince the whole State that the Legislature and the people are working to the same ends.

As a body you have demonstrated conclusively that, as I said in my recent message, "the best politics for all of us is to play no politics at all, but simply do what the people want done." By standing squarely for the greatest good of the greatest number as against the profits of the few you have earned the respect and the gratitude of your constituents.

LEGISLATION FOR THE PEOPLE

Not a single subject was included in the call for this session of the General Assembly that is not for the benefit of the masses of our people. Opposition, if it comes, will originate in the pockets of the few.

The test of every item of legislation before you is whether or not it does in fact promote the greatest good of the greatest number. If it does, it should be passed. If it does not, it should be killed. You do not need my warning to to know that special interests of every sort will do their best to turn you aside from this strait and narrow path.

Above all others the people who should have the advantage of the New Deal, of which the legislation before you is a part, are those who have been wrongfully deprived of advantages under the old deal. The New Deal and the Square Deal are for the many. The old deal was for the few.

You and I are fortunate in the opportunity to help in equalizing inequalities, correcting injustices, and promoting the security, welfare, and happiness of the great mass of our people. Such a chance neither you nor I can afford to miss. But we cannot take advantage of it without treading on some new paths.

ANCIENT SLOGANS

When legislation clearly in the public interest is in question, it is no longer a sufficient answer to say that it is new, or that the Fathers of the Republic never had it in mind, or that nothing like it has been done before, or that it would put the Government into business. The question is not whether this or that measure required by modern conditions is in accord with some ancient slogan. The question is whether the people need it. If they do need it, they ought to have it.

You will be judged not by whether you have conformed to some time worn shibboleth, but by whether you have shown a due and proper regard for the present-day needs and the present-day will of the mass of the people of Pennsylvania.

If you and I join together to follow the will of the people we shall deserve, and we shall receive, the commendation of the people, as you have deserved it and are reciving it for what the present session has already accomplished.

If you and I oppose the will of the people, we shall deserve the condemnation of the people, and without question we shall get it. You and I are responsible, and will properly be held responsible, for doing what the people want done. And it will not avail us to say that our eyes were shut to new facts, or our minds closed to new thoughts. We shall be judged by results.

TIMES CHANGE

The situation we face today is now. New conditions require new action. New remedies are necessary for new disorders. Physicians today do not apply even to old diseases, far less to new ones, the remedies used by their forefathers. Times change, and we must change with them or be left behind.

The people who are encouraging revolution in America today are not those who advocate new measures to meet new troubles. The best missionaries of disorder—the best preachers of Bolshevism and anarchy—are (next to certain big bankers) those who stubbornly refuse to admit that change has come upon us, those who insist that nothing shall be done that was not done a generation ago, those who close their eyes to the facts of modern social life, those who demand, as it were, that oxcart laws and oxcart points of view shall be applied to an automobile and airplane civilization.

They forget that damming the stream of progress always has produced great and destructive floods, and always will.

SOCIAL LEGISLATION

No subject mentioned in my call is more important than legislation to improve the condition of the great mass of our working people. I recommend to you no novel or untried social legislation. I merely urge you to catch up with the progress already made by many other States, and to put this Commonwealth in step with the times.

On every hand there is evidence that the public attitude toward social legislation has changed, and nowhere more clearly than in national legislation. That attitude is far different from what it was, both in Pennsylvania and in the Nation.

No party can safely blind itself to this change or refuse to give the people the social relief to which they know they are entitled. Social legislation is not socialism. On the contrary, social legislation is a strong defense against socialism.

When legislation to protect the workers is first proposed, it is almost always fought by employers. But when, after a long struggle, such legislation is enacted, it is found, with hardly an exception, that it benefits the employers as much as the employes. That is because justice is good for both sides.

When your ears are filled with prophecies of disaster if forward looking social laws are passed, think back a moment.

When the forerunners of these very laws were up for passage under Governor Brumbaugh, the air was filled with forecasts of blue ruin. The laws were passed, and then what happened? Instead of disaster, there followed about the most prosperous years the manufacturers of Pennsylvania have ever known.

If, as I urge most earnestly upon you, you pass legislation at this session for the protection of the workers, the miners, the farmers, and the great masses of our people generally, I predict that in no long time the very interests which have been fighting such legislation hardest will be found among its defenders.

Secretary Frances Perkins sent me this telegram two days ago:

"I have noted with appreciation the program of social legislation proposed in the special session of the Pennsylvania Legislature stop To many persons the enactment of industrial legislation seems unnecessary at the present time because of the progress made by the Federal Government under the National Recovery Act stop It is even asserted that State legislation will only duplicate Federal action stop. Through the codes there has been widespread agreement among employers as to standards of hours wages and conditions of work stop The enforcement machinery of the State Departments of Labor may well be utilized to uphold and implement the Federal codes while these are in effect stop Far from relaxing efforts now is the time for concerted action in the various states to embody the approved standards in permanent State legislation stop Then the emergency is over we must rely upon State laws to prevent a possible return to sweatshop conditions."

Remember that opposition to sound new social legislation is usually based at least as much on resentment against what is new as on reasoned antagonism to what is actually proposed.

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE

To give security to the worker is the most important thing that this or any other session of the General Assembly can do for him. A job now is most desirable, but it is of far less consequence than to secure working men or women against the misfortunes which may fall upon any of them in their old age.

The worker who has a job now may not be interested in getting another one. But every worker, in or out of a job, is vitally interested in knowing that whatever else may happen, that crowning misfortune—helpless poverty in old age—will not bring upon him the most pitiful of all misery—the misery of the aged without resources who can no longer work.

I urge upon you in the strongest terms the pressing necessity for passing the Old Age Assistance Bill. The need is clear, the money is available, and the Talbot Act decision of the Supreme Court assures its constitutionality.

There can be no argument against Old Age Assistance except from an outworn point of view still held by a small fraction of our people, and which the whole Nation is now casting aside.

CHILD LABOR

It is unfair to the children of Pennsylvania to let them work at a younger age than in other States, and thus deprive them of the education which is their right. It is equally unfair to let children take the jobs adults ought to have, especially at a time when a million adult workers are desperately in need of work.

The nation and the Commonwealth are straining every nerve to find work for the unemployed and to care for those for whom work cannot be found. Child labor stands in the way. It should be taken out of the way.

Can we do less than uphold and perpetuate the standards of the NRA on child labor? If we can help bring back prosperity by temporarily ending child labor, why is not the permanent elimination of child labor a good thing?

There are those who believe in leaving the child labor problem to Washington and the NRA. To those I heartily recommend approval of the Federal Child Labor Amendment. If they have a sincere desire to have Washington handle the problem they will give Washington the power to do it.

My reasons for urging passage of the Child Labor Amendment are different. I want to establish a limit below which no state in the Union can fall in the protection of the children.

I recommend most earnestly the passage of legislation to prevent children under sixteen working during school hours.

No one can doubt that child labor legislation is in the interest of the many. Opposition to it can come only from personal interest and from the few.

SCHOOLS

I remind you that shrinkage of local school revenues is likely to lead to the closing of several hundred schools in this Commonwealth by the first of January. If so, many thousands of young Pennsylvanians will be deprived of the schooling which is their right. We cannot afford to let these children suffer.

The recommendation in my previous message for an emergency appropriation of $5,000,000 from the proceeds of the liquor floor tax I now urgently repeat.

Further, I renew my recommendation for the enactment of a graduated income tax devoted exclusively to school purposes. Real estate in this Commonwealth cannot and should not continue to carry the whole increasing load of school taxation.

The cardinal principle of fair taxation is that it shall bear most heavily on those who are best able to pay. If that be true, then the graduated income tax is the fairest of all taxes.

There is every reason why the burden on real estate should be lightened and the danger of closed schools should be avoided by the adoption of the graduated income tax.

If it be argued that the Supreme Court is likely to declare such a tax unconstitutional, then I invite you to let the Supreme Court make that decision instead of making it yourselves.

SWEATSHOPS

The natural resources of our Commonwealth are unequalled by those of any other State in the Union. That fact should have made it possible to give our working people better pay and better conditions of work than elsewhere.

The fact is, however, that wages paid in Pennsylvania are lower than those paid in any other northeastern State of the Union except one. On that score the working people of Pennsylvania have had fair cause for complaint.

As a first and most necessary step toward correcting this injustice, I urge the enactment of legislation providing for minimum hours of work and minimum wages for women and children. You will be told that such measures are dangerous to industry. I deny it. They are for the protection of industry. No legitimate industry will leave Pennsylvania, or keep out of Pennsylvania, because this Commonwealth is wise enough to do justice to its women and children.

I commend to your earnest attention the report of the Joint Committee to Investigate Wages and Labor Conditions of Children in the Commonwealth. The "economic atrocities" disclosed in that report imperatively demand relief not only in the interest of the victims of sweatshops but also in the interest of decent employers.

The two purposes of your action should be "to protect the womanhood and childhood of the Commonwealth and to protect legitimate industry against unscrupulous and disreputable competition." Those are sound purposes to which you can safely lend your support.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

There is state-wide interest right now in the subject of workmen's compensation. Unquestionably our system needs overhauling.

Last spring I appointed a well qualified Committee to investigate this subject. Hearings were held throughout the State and intensive studies were made of the records of the Workmen's Compensation Bureau. A preliminary report has been submitted and legislation based upon that report has been drafted.

There is no excuse when men injured in industry are forced to seek public relief because of weaknesses in our Workmen's Compensation Law. I hope that you will hasten to remedy this wrong.

DEPUTY SHERIFFS

In my recent message I emphasized the imperative need for reducing disorder in the coal fields by abolishing the company-paid deputy sheriffs.

Examples of brutality by these men are of almost daily occurrence. Deputy sheriffs should be paid by the county, and never by any coal company or other private interest. The General Assembly will fail in its duty to the workers of the State if it does not end this evil system, which has caused so much needless bloodshed.

BANKING

The exposure of financial crookedness in high places, the uncovering of fabulous salaries of bankers still further increased while the meagre salaries of employes were being cut down, the cheating of the investing public with worthless securities on a gigantic scale, and generally the refusal of great bankers to acknowledge the ordinary obligations of good citizenship—these things and others have made it perfectly clear that closer supervision over banks is absolutely required.

I urge you to enact legislation which will bring the banking laws of this Commonwealth into conformity with recent Federal legislation, and especially to provide for State supervision of private banks.

PUBLIC UTILITIES

A most glaring example of sacrificing the interest of the many to the profits of the few is found in excessive public utility rates. Nearly every householder in Pennsylvania suffers from unfair and unnecessary increases in rates made without the consent of the Public Service Commission.

No increase in rates should go into effect without the permission of the Commission. Thus the burden of justifying a raise in rates would always be on the company which originates the rates, as it should be.

I remind you of my recommendation that no company should be allowed to increase any rate until after such rate has been submitted to the Public Service Commission and permission has been given to put it in effect. No other single provision of law dealing with public utilities would so greatly help the householders of Pennsylvania or so clearly result in the greatest good to the greatest number.

THE FARMERS ROADS

The road interests of the farmers of Pennsylvania have been too much neglected. Ever since the Sproul highway system started the cities have had the advantage. Inhabitants of cities are not required to drag through the mud; their children are not kept from school by the mud; their products are not prevented from reaching the market by the mud.

There can be no justification for refusing to the farmers this long needed relief. Failure to do so will naturally and properly be attributed by them to neglect of their interests by the General Assembly.

The cities cannot, in my judgment, afford to oppose the just demands of the farmers for their fair and proper share in the benefits of highway construction in Pennsylvania.

The farmers are the heaviest taxed people in this Commonwealth. In all fairness their taxes ought to be reduced. Taking over the 53,000 miles will do it.

Opposition to this measure appears to come mainly from the township road supervisors. I understand their desire to continue their work, but I do not believe it should stand in the way of better roads and less taxes for the farmers.

The provisions made at the last session for the 53,000 miles of second class township roads still remaining are impracticable and unworkable.

I recommend again and most strongly that the State take over the remaining second class township roads under like terms as it has already taken over 20,000 miles of them with such striking success.

MILK CONTROL

The creation of a Milk Control Board is, in my judgment, the one and only way out of the mess in which the decisions of the Federal Milk Administration has involved us. About the only thing certain in the present milk situation is that many farmers get too little for their milk, many consumers pay too much for their milk, and many distributors have been making excessive profits.

I repeat my recommendation for the creation of a Milk Control Board.

TRUCKS

I remind you that the highways of Pennsylvania are for the service of the people of Pennsylvania. They should be built, regulated, and restricted in whatever way will best promote the greatest good of the greatest number in this Commonwealth.

There are 18,317 huge trucks, trailers, and semi-trailers registered in this State. There are 1,410,000 licensed passenger automobiles, or nearly one hundred times as many. On legal holidays, Saturday afternoon, and Sundays the few trucks make life miserable for the many automobiles.

These huge trucks, as defined in my recent message, should be kept off the roads at these times, with certain exceptions, such as milk trucks, to be provided for by special permits.

Such a step would be welcomed by nearly everyone in Pennsylvania, for nearly everyone at one time or another rides in automobiles. Opposition to it can originate only from a handful of truck owners intent on private profit at no matter what inconvenience to the general public.

RECOVERY

The American people have come to understand and accept the truth that to increase the purchasing power of the masses is the key to recovery. Everything else is subordinate. Purchasing power comes first.

If that be true, then nothing should be left undone to support and assist the Federal Government and the Commonwealth and its subdivisions in restoring purchasing power by putting men and women back to work.

I urge the immediate passage of the measures now before you which are necessary to complete the cooperation between State and Nation toward recovery, and especially the bills without which Pennsylvania cannot take full advantage of Federal offers of help.

The purely financial return from cooperation with the Federal government is a small part of what this state may gain. The standards of living, the working conditions, and the wages that have resulted from the National Recovery Program must be made permanent in Pennsylvania in order that purchasing power may be raised and kept high.

CIVIL WORKS ADMINISTRATION

The decision of the President to supply funds for putting a quarter of a million unemployed workers at work in Pennsylvania has met the enthusiastic approval of the whole State. This great recovery movement is completely free from politics, as was proved when the Democratic National Administration appointed a Republican as Civil Works Administrator in this Commonwealth.

The Republican selected is Eric H. Biddle, Executive Director of the State Emergency Relief Board. We may take this appointment as the highest possible compliment to the efficiency with which unemployment relief has been administered in Pennsylvania.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

I repeat my recommendation that $20,000,000 be appropriated from the proceeds of the State liquor stores for unemployment relief. Whether recovery comes soon or late, this appropriation is necessary.

The Civil Works Administration does not in any way diminish the need for appropriating this money for unemployment relief. It merely makes it probable that this sum will last much longer than we expected, and in consequence that the necessity for providing additional relief funds will be further postponed.

CLEAN ELECTIONS

Elections which truly reflect the will of the people are the foundation stones of government by the people. Fraud in elections has but one purpose—to deprive the people of their right to rule.

Fraud in elections enables a minority to nullify the will of the majority. Fraud in elections is un-American, unclean, and contemptible. And so are those who practice it.

The people are conscious as never before of the connection of low grade politics with fraud and crime. Amazing and abhorrent conditions of political corruption have been uncovered. It is well within the truth to say that the people have signified in unmistakable terms their desire for cleaner politics in Pennsylvania.

Under these circumstances no party can expect to win or to retain the confidence of the people unless it sets its face like flint against crooked politics and especially against fraud at elections.

I urge you most earnestly to enact at this session laws to prevent election frauds and to secure elections that will truly represent and give effect to the will of the people. Among them are permanent registration for cities, and a law to make certain that no candidate who cheats or condones cheating at elections may ever occupy the office he cheated to get.

EXPENSES OF THE SESSION

If the necessity for passing legislation on the subjects mentioned in the call should extend by a week or two the length of the present session the additional expense would be small. Already the larger part of the cost of this session has been incurred and paid. The additional cost of a few more days would be entirely insignificant compared with what may be accomplished for the people of the State.

There is no reason that I can see why with proper cooperation the legislature cannot pass the legislation I have recommended and still adjourn before Christmas.

PUBLIC WATCHFULNESS

The people are watching the Executive and Legislative Branches of their Government more keenly than ever before. All of our people—the workers, the home owners, the veterans, the parents of school children, the users of public utility service and the rest—are more alive to their own needs and their own rights than ever before in my experience.

The people demand, and with justice, that their needs shall not be refused, their rights shall not be denied, for the profit of any special interest. What you and I may do, or fail to do, is being more carefully and understandingly noted by a larger percentage of the voters than at any other time in our public lives.

IN CONCLUSION

I have not attempted to present reasoned arguments for all of the proposed legislation you have before you. It would be impracticable to do so within the reasonable limits of this message. But I am confident that if you apply the principle of the greatest good to the greatest number to every problem which comes before you it will lead you to the proper answer. No one can dispute that this principle is sound; no one can deny that the public good must come first.

And when your record and mine come to be examined by those who have the right to call us to account I, hope it may be said of us that, in spite of every effort to turn us aside, we have followed the will and the needs of the people as our guides, that we have dealt with things as they are, not as they used to be, and that we have left nothing undone to advance the interests of the people of this Commonwealth, whose servants we are.

In plain language, it is your duty and mine to give the average man a break.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. MALINA. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 1, page 3, line 4, by inserting after the word "Aged" the following: "Of the members appointed, four shall at all times be members of the majority political party, and three shall at all times be members of the minority political party."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. PETERS. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Peters that the question will be determined by a vote on the question of adopting the amendments.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, we have now before us a bill on second reading to which, apparently, amendments have been offered. The amendments are not offered by the sponsor of the bill, which the gentlemen have a right to do. I am now asking the Speaker if he will be kind enough to state how we will get the sentiment of the House on such an amendment, so that we may understand the mechanics of it.

The SPEAKER. The vote is on the adoption or the rejection of the amendments as offered and would be by viva voce vote. If the Chair could not determine the result of the vote it would naturally follow that a division and count would be had, unless two members asked for a roll call.

Mr. WILSON. That does not quite answer my inquiry, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed with his inquiry.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, maybe I don't make myself clear. The ordinary statement of the Chair is "Will the House agree to the amendment" and we ordinarily have nothing to do with that because a question does not arise. While I have nothing to do with it, and just wish to clarify it, I would like to know how the members who desire to vote for it and those who wish to vote against it will know what they are doing?

The SPEAKER. The Chair says further, that when the Chair puts the question before the House those in favor of the adoption of the amendment will vote "Aye" and those opposed will vote "No."

The Chair lays before the House the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Malina and for the information of the House will read the amendment as offered: "Amend Section 1, page 3, line 4, by inserting after the word 'Aged' the following: Of the members appointed, four at all times shall be members of the majority political party, and three shall at all times be members of the minority political party."

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

Mr. MALINA. Mr. Speaker, I request a roll call.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman requested a roll call too late; the question has been decided.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second, third, fourth and fifth sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 The Secretary of Welfare shall appoint a State Supervisor for assistance to the aged qualified by training and experience. The State Supervisor shall in addition to his or her salary be entitled to all necessary traveling and office expenses The Secretary of Welfare shall appoint such assistants to the State Supervisor as may be deemed necessary to perform the duties imposed by this act

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 125, Printer's No. 41, on page 3, of today's calendar, entitled:

An Act for the protection of the health safety and welfare of women and minors in any occupation trade or industry except domestic service in private homes and farm labor by regulating under the police power of the Commonwealth the minimum wage which shall be paid to such women and minors providing for wage boards their powers and the procedure to determine the necessity for and to establish the minimum wage standard in any industry where the health safety and welfare of women and minors is jeopardized by the payment of an oppressive and unreasonable wage creating powers and imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry the Secretary of Labor and Industry and such director as he may appoint to carry out this act imposing certain duties on employers and requiring certain records to be kept and information to be furnished by him permitting publication after hearing of the names of violators of minimum wage standards prohibiting contracts for and payment of less than the minimum wage standards and providing penalties was order to be transcribed for a third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there were inserted in this bill this morning amendments which conflict with the entire bill and which will render the bill impossible if passed in that form. The purpose of the motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed second reading is to strike out these amendments and to give you an opportunity to vote on this important legislation, which calls for a minimum wage without any interference to that end. I earnestly hope that you will give to the employees of the sweat-shops in Pennsylvania an opportunity to be heard.

This bill was passed at the last session by a vote of 172 to 0, right in this House, and it is identically the same bill, but now an amendment is slipped into this bill to put our women and children on the basis of the wages paid in the south. The Federal Government recognized this in all of its wage dealings and threw this United States into four separate zones and it would be shameful now if the Legislature of Pennsylvania would lower that standard by accepting this amendment. I earnestly ask you to support me in reconsidering the vote on this bill so that I may offer amendments to strike out from this bill this very objectionable form.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Shugarts and were as follows:

BILL SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon), announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was public read sembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 7, entitled:

An Act authorizing the abatement of certain tax penalties and interest on city taxes in cities of the first class.

Whereupon,

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. REED, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 93, entitled:

An Act to amend section ten of the act, approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 284), entitled "An act imposing a State tax, payable by those herein defined as manufacturers and distributors, on certain alcoholic beverages used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth; prescribing the method and manner of evidencing the payment and collection of such tax; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Revenue, and those using or engaged in the sale, at retail or wholesale, of alcoholic beverages taxable hereunder; and providing penalties;" regulating the refund of taxes paid on malt liquors.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM, from the Committee on Canals and Inland Navigation, reported as committed, the following Resolution:

In the House of Representatives, December 4, 1933.

Whereas The Roosevelt New Deal contemplates the carrying forward of the internal waterways system of the United States toward the ideals conceived by the forward looking statesmen of the Nation during the past quarter century and

Whereas The Mississippi River and its tributaries have been made available for the navigation of vessels to East Brady via the Allegheny River a 9,000 mile waterway that is now in use carrying thousands of tons of freight and

Whereas The Congress of the United States has authorized the further development of the Allegheny River to at least Oil City with ten miles of the unfinished project already provided for and

Whereas Available engineering reports and regional economic surveys indicate the feasibility of a canal running from Franklin Pennsylvania to Lake Erie at the City of Erie and terminating in the Harbor of Presque Isle which is Pennsylvania's only lake port and

Whereas The completion of such an All-Pennsylvania waterway as the Northern limit of the Mississippi-Ohio-Allegheny waterway would provide western Pennsylvania with a new artery or traffic for the interchange at the mineral and agriculture products of the great northwest and the mineral and manufactured products of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and exchange of our mineral and agricultural products with the agricultural products of the great South and

Whereas The actual construction of a waterway from Franklin Pennsylvania to Erie Pennsylvania during the period of construction would provide employment for thousands of presently unemployed Pennsylvanians and

Whereas Permanent benefits and wealth would be added to Pennsylvania by reason of the existence and operation of such a waterway and

Whereas The said All-Pennsylvania route may be constructed at a cost of less than fifty per centum of the cost of constructing any other proposed alternate route and

Whereas The All-Pennsylvania canal is the shortest route of any of those proposed by at least fifty miles

Whereas The selection of any other route connecting the Mississippi Valley with the Great Lakes would involve the building of a harbor on Lake Erie at a tremendous and needless outlay of Federal money and

Whereas There is at Erie a natural landlocked harbor now available and affording complete terminal facilities for any volume of commerce which may desire to utilize said proposed Pennsylvania canal and

Whereas The said route would utilize Pennsylvania waters in Pennsylvania and

Whereas These several other routes proposed depend entirely upon Pennsylvania watersheds to make these several projects navigable and

Whereas Under the National Industrial Recovery Act the Public Works Administration is in control of funds for the purpose and is desirous of expending funds for such purposes as the development of inland waterways and

Whereas It is apparently the desire of His Excellency the President of the United States and the Honorable Harold L. Ickes Public Works Administrator to speed the use of funds appropriated to the Public Works Administration for purposes of this character and

Whereas Pennsylvania pays the second largest amount of taxes into the Federal Treasury and should be rightfully considered in the development of this project as proposed therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania do respectfully petition His Excellency the Honorable Franklin D Roosevelt President of the United States to authorize the completion of the Allegheny River project and the building of a canal from Franklin Pennsylvania to the City of Erie on Lake Erie in Pennsylvania and be it further

Resolved That the General Assembly further memorialize United States Senators from Pennsylvania and the Congressmen from Pennsylvania to use their best offices to bring about the immediate approval of this All-Pennsylvania project

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RESOLUTIONS

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE STATE EMERGENCY RELIEF BOARD

Mr. QUINN offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, December 6, 1933.

Whereas, A Resolution requesting an accounting of the salaries and expenditures in various specified counties of this Commonwealth by the State Emergency Relief Board was passed by the General Assembly in the Regular Session of 1933, and

Whereas, Said information has not been furnished to date, and

Whereas, There are widespread charges of incompetency, extravagances, waste, and a deliberate indifferent attitude toward those who apply for assistance on the part of employees in various relief stations, and

Whereas, The necessity for a university education, as a qualification for appointment to a position in relief stations, is deliberate favoritism for sons and daughters of wealthy parents, and

Whereas, Such charges cannot go unanswered by this House, but the Members thereof and the people of this Commonwealth are entitled to know the truth or falsity of such charges therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of five Members of this House whose duty it shall be to fully and impartially investigate the charges and ascertain the expenses, wages, etc., of the State Emergency Relief Board in the various counties of the Commonwealth, and make report thereof to the House as early as possible.

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

RESOLUTION NO. 12.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call upon at this time Resolution No. 12, Printer's No. 63.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 5, 1933.

Whereas Many thousands of depositors in closed State banks in Pennsylvania have suffered great losses and the liquidation of these closed institutions has dragged on slowly over a period of many months and meanwhile heavy administration costs have added further to the losses suffered by depositors and

Whereas, A sum said to exceed $250,000,000 the distribution of which would help relieve the financial stringency suffered by thousands of depositors is held in closed State banks and

Whereas, The Federal Government has available and stands ready to advance immediately a loan of $100,000,000 to aid in the distribution of the funds due depositors in closed banks therefore be it

Resolved That the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania in special session assembled demand that the Secretary of the Department of Banking be required to furnish forthwith to the House an explanation of the delay by the Department of Banking in liquidating closed banks and the failure of the Department to take advantage of the offer of the Federal Government

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

STATE EMERGENCY RELIEF BOARD REQUESTED TO CHECK MOTOR VEHICLE REGISTRATION

Mr. LANE offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, December 6th, 1933.

Whereas, The local relief boards in some localities have required all recipients of relief to surrender the registration plates of their motor vehicles before granting relief, and

Whereas, In certain cases such actions have resulted in hardships since the owners of vehicles have been deprived of their use in necessary cases; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives request the State Emergency Relief Board to instruct local relief boards to exercise care in enforcing the requirement that motor vehicle registration plates be surrendered by recipients of relief and that such plates be immediately restored to any person if the same will enable the person to secure work, or is required by such person for the transportation of water or other necessaries of life;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the State Emergency Relief Board by the acting Chief Clerk.

RESOLUTION NO. 11.

Mr. QUINN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 11, Printer's No. 62.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 5, 1933.

Whereas, a knowledge of trigonometry ability to explain the formation of an archipelago define etymology or evolution is not essential in selling liquor and

Whereas, the requirements of a college or high school education as a necessary qualification to a position in Pennsylvania State Liquor Stores eliminates a vast number of men who by training experience and practical business knowledge makes them desirable for such positions

Therefore, be it resolved, That a grade school education be sufficient qualification for positions in Pennsylvania Liquor Stores and all other educational tests be waived by the examining board

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM SECRETARY OF BANKING

Mr. ANDREWS offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, December 6, 1933.

Whereas, In the liquidation of closed financial institutions, in the possession of the Secretary of Banking, the money of depositors is being expended in various ways and through various channels, and the amounts expended never become public, record thereof being found only in the various accounts which are filed in the offices of the prothonotaries of the various counties, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of Banking be directed to furnish to the House of Representatives, at the earliest possbile date, a complete analytical statement showing, by institutions in his possession,

(a) The amount expended for salaries of persons employed in liquidation;

(e) Any other moneys expended;

(f) The number of employes;

(g) The several classes of employes;

(h) The terms of service of employes;

(i) The date when each institution was taken over by the Department.

Resolved, That said statement shall cover the period from January 1, 1930 to the latest date available from the records in the possession of the Secretary of Banking.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution shall be transmitted to the Secretary of Banking by the acting Chief Clerk of the House.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 6, 1933.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Secretary of the Commonwealth be authorized to have printed in the Pamphlet Laws of the Extraordinary Session of 1933, a full and complete copy of the certificate of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and of the Chairman and Secretary of the Convention, together with the resolution adopted by the Convention convened December 5th, 1933, in the Hall of the Senate ratifying the amendment to the Constitution of the United States to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 9

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 4, 1933.

Whereas The Roosevelt New Deal contemplates the carrying forward of the internal waterways system of the United States toward the ideals conceived by the forward looking statesmen of the Nation during the past quarter century and

Whereas The Mississippi River and its tributaries have been made available for the navigation of vessels to East Brady via the Allegheny River a 9,000 mile waterway that is now in use carrying thousands of tons of freight and

Whereas The Congress of the United States has authorized the further development of the Allegheny River to at least Oil City with ten miles of the unfinished project already provided for and

Whereas Available engineering reports and regional economic surveys indicate the feasibility of a canal running from Franklin Pennsylvania to Lake Erie at the City of Erie and terminating in the Harbor of Presque Isle which is Pennsylvania's only lake port and

Whereas The completion of such an All-Pennsylvania waterway as the Northern limit of the Mississippi-Ohio-Allegheny waterway would provide western Pennsylvania with a new artery of traffic for the interchange of the mineral and agricultural products of the great northwest and the mineral and manufactured products of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and exchange of our mineral and agricultural products with the agricultural products of the great South and

Whereas The actual construction of a waterway from Franklin Pennsylvania to Erie Pennsylvania during the period of construction would provide employment for thousands of presently unemployed Pennsylvanians and

Whereas Permanent benefits and wealth would be added to Pennsylvania by reason of the existence and operation of such a waterway and

Whereas The said All-Pennsylvania route may be constructed at a cost of less than fifty per centum of the cost of constructing any other proposed alternate route and

Whereas The All-Pennsylvania canal is the shortest route of any of those proposed by at least fifty miles and

Whereas The selection of any other route connecting the Mississippi Valley with the Great Lakes would involve the building of a harbor on Lake Erie at a tremendous and needless outlay of Federal money and

Whereas There is at Erie a natural landlocked harbor now available and affording complete terminal facilities for any volume of commerce which may desire to utilize said proposed Pennsylvania canal and

Whereas The said route would utilize Pennsylvania waters in Pennsylvania and

Whereas These several other routes proposed depend entirely upon Pennsylvania watersheds to make these several projects navigable and

Whereas Under the National Industrial Recovery Act the Public Works Administration is in control of funds for the purpose and is desirous of expending funds for such purposes as the development of inland waterways and

Whereas It is apparently the desire of His Excellency the President of the United States and the Honorable Harold L Ickes Public Works Administrator to speed the use of funds appropriated to the Public Works Administration for purposes of this character and

Whereas Pennsylvania pays the second largest amount of taxes into the Federal Treasury and should be rightfully considered in the development of this project as proposed therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania do respectfully petition His Excellency the Honorable Franklin D Roosevelt President of the United States to authorize the completion of the Allegheny River project and the building of a canal from Franklin Pennsylvania to the City of Erie on Lake Erie in Pennsylvania and be it further

Resolved That the General Assembly further memorialize United States Senators from Pennsylvania and the Congressmen from Pennsylvania to use their best offices to bring about the immediate approval of this All-Pennsylvania project

JOINT SPONSORSHIP OF BILL

Mr. LOSE. Mr. Speaker, I arise to ask for the privilege to make a statement.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. LOSE. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 193, Printer's No. 88, on page 1 of today's calendar, which is on first reading this morning, contains my name only. This bill was somewhat of a compromise measure, and Mr. Rectenwald, a member from Allegheny County, is very much interested in the bill, and if such a thing is possible. I would like to ask that his name appear along with mine in the heading.

Mr. Speaker. I move that Mr. Rectenwald, of Allegheny County, be noted as a joint sponsor with me of House Bill No. 193, Printer's No. 88, on page 1 on today's calendar, bills on first reading.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 37.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I wish to offer the following motion, which is sponsored by myself and the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. McElwee, that the vote by which House Bill No. 37, Printer's No. 30, on page 6 of yesterday's calendar, bills on third reading, was defeated, be reconsidered.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from McKean vote?

Mr. WILSON. I voted in the negative.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. McElwee, vote?

Mr. McELWEE. I voted in the negative.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I called the attention to the nature of this bill yesterday, and the House defeated it. I am not opposed to providing money to operate these State Stores, but this bill creates a monstrous precedent. This bill asks us to sign a blank check and hand it over to the Liquor Control Board in that shape, and under this bill the sky is the limit. There is no limit whatever. Only yesterday the Governor of this Commonwealth came before us in a Joint Session and asked——

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine himself to the motion before the House.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, our attention has repeatedly been called to the fact that we have responsibility. This is our responsibility. If we are going to appropriate this money without any string to it whatever, practically hand over a blank check, we are creating——

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, the only question before the House is whether or not the bill on this vote shall be reconsidered and not the merits or demerits of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The point or order is well taken, and the gentleman will confine himself to the motion before the House.

Mr. SARIG. I ask the House to vote this motion down. I think that this bill should contain a provision that would set a limit.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, yesterday afternoon while I was attending a meeting of the Appropriations Committee, which was considering then two measures which seek to bring relief to the sightless, this measure came before the House on third reading for consideration in my absence.

I have the honor to be the sponsor of this bill, and I have no reason to regret that my name is attached to it. I desire to call to the attention of the House, and more particularly to my honored and experienced colleague from Berks, Mr. Sarig, that in the eighteen years that I have had the honor to serve as a member of this House, I can recall no instance when a measure of such tremendous importance as this is, was considered on third reading in the absence of the sponsor. This, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in my opinion, is the controlling reason why this House should vote to reconsider this measure. There may be two sides to every argument. but as I understand it, yesterday afternoon in my absence, and because of my absence only, the opponents of this bill had an opportunity to speak. I ask every member of this House to join in the fairness of the proposition that the proponents of the measure should have an opportunity to speak on it, and for this reason, if no other. I belive the motion made by the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson, should prevail.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, inasmuch as this bill has now been placed on the calendar, I merely wish to call your attention to the fact that there should be some limitations placed in this bill.

In 1927 we passed a bill almost identical with this in regard to the Highway Department, and this Legislature has never been able to find out just how much of that money was used in overhead since that time.

This Legislature has a right to know what this money is being used for, how much of this money is being used for overhead expenses. Under this bill the sky is the limit. You place before them the entire liquor fund and say, "Now, dip into it and take as much as you want to," and if that is not irresponsible legislation, I don't know what responsible legislation is. If this Legislature expects the people of Pennsylvania to respect it and look up to it, as we have a right to expect them to do, then certainly we must show more responsibility than we are showing under this bill.

This precedent is monstrous in its effect. This bill establishes a precedent whereby this particular department can collect millions of dollars and they can dip into it and use as much of that money as they see fit for any overhead purposes mentioned in this bill. While I am not opposed to providing money for State liquor stores, I do feel that this creates a monstrous precedent, I do feel that limitations should be set upup the use of this money.

We require that the school fund shall set a definite figure and we require that all of the other departments except the Highway Department, should set a definite estimate, a definite figure on what they will use. Why should these two favorite babies, the Highway Department and the Liquor Control Board, enjoy special privileges which the other departments of the Government have never enjoyed, and which we don't think they should enjoy. Let us be reasonable and let us be responsible and let us try to act like men and face the responsibility that is now before us.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am particularly happy this morning that the opposition to this measure comes from my friend, Mr. Sarig, of Berks, the accredited leader of the minority party representation in this House. I am particularly gratified that he has chosen as his keynote to oppose this measure the unlimited authority to spend money which this bill might give to the Liquor Control Board, but I ask him whether or not in assuming that keynote he is consistent with the confidence which has heretofore been expressed by his representatives in the national Congress when it gave to the national leaders and those to whom he has delegated authority, unlimited authority to control and spend billions and billions of dollars without any accountability to the citizens of this Nation. But I will not digress at this moment into that field of argument.

The proposition which presents itself to you in this measure is simple. In the first place no general fund moneys are involved, only State Liquor Store moneys are involved. The State store experience is a new experience in the State of Pennsylvania. It is not possible even to estimate what the gross receipts may be from the State stores' undertaking. There is not a man in this room whether or not he is closely associated with business who does not know that the amount of money it costs you to operate a business, including overhead and the cost of merchandise, depends altogether on how much business you do. It has been estimated that this State store income may be seventy-five millions yearly or it may be one hundred million dollars millions yearly or it may be one hundred and fifty million dollars yearly. Suppose for the purpose of argument that this Legislature, agreeing with the idea of my friend from Berks, Mr. Sarig, would say in no event shall the amount of money spent by the Liquor Control Board, exceed fifty per cent. of the gross receipts; suppose that in the operation of this business the gross receipts are so high that they command the purchase of so much merchandise that fifty per cent. of the gross receipts would not be sufficient to supply the merchandise. Is it not obvious to you that you would be a merchant who would have not money with which to buy your merchandise; is it not obvious to you then if that situation would arise that the enterprise would be obliged to close its doors? Isn't it obvious to you that this House has already appropriated forty million dollars for unemployment relief out of this fund and are soon to appropriate a large amount of money for old age assistance out of this fund, but you, by defeating this measure, in effect say, we have declared dividends on this enterprise, but we have stopped the receipts out of which dividends may be declared. No business can go on without merchandise and no man undertaking a new business can tell how much merchandise he will be obliged to buy in the year. Just as that is impossible so does it become impossible for the men who are attempting to administer this law to determine how much merchandise they will have to buy during the year. Consequently, answering specifically the argument of my friend from Berks, Mr. Sarig, here we have a new undertaking and there is no experience behind us and no records whatever behind us, and no data from which you can safely determine the amount that should be appropriated for the administration of the State store business, including, of course, the purchase of merchandise.

Now, I say to you, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that your confidence in the Control Board was expressed yesterday when you passed a companion bill in this House, House Bill No. 18, which by its provisions will take out of the General Fund two millions of dollars with which to purchase whiskey. That two million dollars is to be returned just as soon as it comes in from those receipts.

There is no one one in this House, who, more than I, would like to see a limitation put upon this measure, but we are facing a situation which makes that impossible, impracticable and by all means inexpedient.

For these reasons, I ask that you vote yes on the bill.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in order that there may be no misunderstanding and that the record be clear as to the argument of the two speakers who preceded me, may I state to you that Mr. Sarig, in addressing you, did not speak officially for the Democratic Party through any caucus or official action on its part. I believe we have set up a structure of government in this particular issue, and I believe we are in duty bound to furnish the funds with which it may proceed lawfully and legally. I also want to call the attention of those who fear that there shall be no accounting of this money to a resolution which was introduced by the Senator from my county, Mr. Zeisenheim, which provides for an investigation of the installation and operation of these State Liquor Stores, and sets forth and provides a fund of $10,000 wherewith it may function. As to the attitude of the Democratic Party on this measure, I feel satisfied in saying that the majority of the Democrats will support the measure, and I trust in good common sense and past precedent they will do so.

Mr. J. J. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have no intention of taking up the time of the House to talk on this bill, but I could not sit idly by and listen to the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sterling, when he inferred that the President of the United States was spending the peoples' money without any record or accounting to the people. I want to say to the members of this House that we have been discussing the liquor question, and that the Republican Party in the State of Pennsylvania and in the Nation, did not have the courage to bring this question before the people, and it took the Democratic Party and a Democratic President to bring liquor back. We have been listening to——

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the question before the House.

Mr. J. J. KANE. All we have done since we have come to Harrisburg has been to stand by and wait until the Republican Party Caucus——

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine himself to the question before the House.

Mr. J. J. KANE——and bring these measures before the House, and this is not the measure that we want, but we realize that you must start somewhere. This bill and the other bill dealing with Liquor Control, the Democrats gave no consideration whatever, they were never called into any conference, and we were voting blindly most of the time on matters of importance like we are here. We have no desire to block this bill, but we are not going to be put on record as party to a program that we had nothing to do with.

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDERER. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I cannot let this act be voted on without saying a few words. First of all, I want to go on record as being in favor of the provisions of this bill.

I am voting in the negative on this measure and desire to file my reasons for so doing.

I am heartily in accord with the provisions set forth in this bill, am sincerely, honestly very strongly in favor of high wages and shorter hours but not at the expense of our Pennsylvania industries and labor.

In my humble opinion, laws of this nature should be enacted by our national congress so that each state in these United States be in a position to compete with other states.

At the present time we are working under the NRA making the provisions as set forth in this act a national matter.

We cannot predict how long the NRA will be operative. Our government frankly admits it is but an experiment.

Should this experiment fail and should this bill, House Bill No. 125, Printer's No. 72, be enacted into law, Pennsylvania will find herself in a non-competitive position with the result that industry will be forced to leave this Commonwealth and migrate to those states which appreciate the value of those industries and do everything within their power to encourage them rather than to continually harras them as has and is being done in Pennsylvania.

Industrialists and labor have everything in common. By voting in the affirmative on this measure you are voting Pennsylvania labor out of a job, you are voting Pennsylvania industries and the enormous income the state derives from them. out of the state.

The south has already been greatly enriched by the exodus of industry out of the north.

I know of entire cities in Massachusetts that are completely deserted due to misguided although well intentioned legislation of this nature.

I appeal to you to save Pennsylvania industry and labor by voting in the negative on this measure.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not going to burden you with a long discussion of the merits of this bill. I think you all understand it. We had it before us in our last session. It is the bill of the American Federation of Labor and I think that they answered the arguments of the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ederer, in open letter the other day to you, wherein they stated, "The NRA codes will not last forever. When they are taken off it is imperative that there should be a bottom level below which the standard of living of women and children in Pennsylvania should not be allowed to go. We urge that you pass the same minimum wage bill which passed the House of Representatives in the regular session."

My friends, I told you yesterday, how the federal government had attempted to handle this. I have on my desk figures and compilations that would burden you. But I am going to merely ask you, and I am going to call your attention to one item in the Governor's speech which he called to your attention, and that was when he referred to the idea that acts of this kind are supposed to drive industry out of the state resulting in a loss of revenue. As this state is one of the largest industrial states in the United States I want to ask you in common, plain English, to give the women and children of this state a break and to do it by voting yes. To you who will vote no, I say, remember that they will have your vote before them and will see where you stand on this question.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think that one brief statement should be sufficient. If there are industries in the state of Pennsylvania that are unable to pay their females and minor employes a wage which will permit them to maintain a decent standard of living, those industries do not deserve to be considered. If you are in favor of having the women and children in this state who are employed in these industries paid a living wage, and that is all this bill provides for, it sets up a commission which may only regulate wages when they find wages are being paid and which are insufficient and unfair and if there are industries which cannot pay wages of that kind they ought not to be permitted to go on. Let us protect the women and children of Pennsylvania by voting favorably on this measure

It was agreed to.

Mr. JOHN L. HOLMES. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to speak on the merits or the demerits of the bill. I just wish to ask the question whether it would be legal for us to pass the bill in its present form.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill?

Mr. JOHN L. HOLMES. No, Mr. Speaker, I merely want to point out an error in the printing, on lines 6 and 7. They are transposed. Is it legal to pass this bill in its present form?

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Centre, Mr. Holmes, that typographical errors can be corrected in the Senate, when the bill reaches that body and if not corrected there it can be corrected under the law by the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to be on record as opposed to this measure. It is the same old Einstein Bill, dedicated to the theory, the Einstein theory, that real estate should pay all taxes. This measure appeared in the regular session, and at the regular session the proponents of this particular idea pased the measure, and as they thought, repealed the four mill tax. When the smoke had cleared away, they found that instead of repealing the four mill tax they had simply transferred the four mill tax to the bank. At the present time the bank pays the four mill tax. This measure is designed to relieve the bank from that obligation, an obligation which I presume the bank can transfer to the depositor. Having spoken upon this measure yesterday, or upon the principle contained in the Baker measure, I shall not take the time of this House to discus it further. The proposition is as I stated to you yesterday. Any tax that you take off of money you put on real estate, and I protest against the theory that money should be exempt and real estate penalized, and therefore I oppose this measure.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I too want to be on record as being aginst this bill for the same reasons that I stated yesterday against the Baker Bill. We were told Monday evening of this week that the financial condition of this Commonwealth was precarious, and it is very doubtful whether we would get as much money from the various liquor measures as has been estimated, and even if we do, we will have difficulty in meeting the needs for old age pensions, old age assistance and mothers' assistance, for unemployment insurance, for the schools, and other matters which we must take care of. This is not a time to repeal a tax measure. I do not consider this an ideal tax measure. I can think of several tax measures that are much better than this. Nevertheless, it is one that we have and one from which we have been deriving considerable revenue heretofore. At the last regular session by the action of this House, it was transferred from the depositors to the banks. The banks will probably, as the gentleman from Cambria has suggested, transfer it back to the depositors, and I suspect that they have already done that in having reduced the interest rates on savings accounts and I doubt very much if they will add it again if this bill passes. I don't think we should relieve the banks before they relieve the unemployed and the aged, and our financially handicapped school districts. I therefore urge you to vote against this bill and to keep this tax measure on the books.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have no interest in this matter except that I want to make a statement to the House to clarify the situation, if I can.

At the last session of the Legislature certain legislation was attempted. After that legislation was all over, it was announced in the papers, but not announced with the consent of the Attorney General or with his name attached to it, that we had put the tax on the banks instead of on the depositors. That was not so. This question was taken into the courts, and we have a decision which was handed down by the courts of Allegheny County, in which they decided that the tax was not on the banks nor on the depositors, due to the fact that the word "indebtedness" does not apply to bank deposits. In other words, the only way it could be a tax on the bank or the depositors was in case that that it was decided that this was a debt due to the depositor from the bank, but the courts have decided that it is not a debt, and I think that every member of the House who will look at this question seriously will see that you could not institute a suit at any time to recover it, and if that is the case, it is not a debt of the bank. It is money that they hold on deposit for you, but the banks don't owe you that money.

This tax will not be on the bank and it will not be on the individual. We will not get the money any way. These taxes will not come out of the treasury of the State of Pennsylvania. I think that no lady or gentleman in this House would accuse me of asking for this if I thought it would take the money out of the treasury.

I realize that we are not going to have enough money to get through, leaving out the social legislation which is proposed. If none of it was passed you are not going to have money enough to go through the biennium; you are not going to have money enough to go until your next session of the Legislature. If I thought or if I had a suspicion that this would take any money of the treasury, I would not vote for it. The money will not come to the treasury any way, whether you pass it or do not pass it, but this measure clears up the situation and puts us in accord with what the courts have held in deciding this question. It won't take a dollar from the treasury of Pennsylvania, because we won't get it any way, whether the tax is on the bank or on the individual.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when the Einstein Bill was finally enacted at the last session, the Attorney General issued a statement that it imposed the tax, or shifted it from the depositors to the bank, and that $8,000,000 would be thereby collected. That $8,000,000 had been taken into consideration by the leaders of the House and by the Administration and Organization leaders of the House, and there was no denial at that time by any of these so-called leaders that they contemplated receiving the $8,000,000 from the bank. That $8,000,000 of a tax imposition on the banks was undoubtedly known to the leaders on both sides, but only after the banks of the State created opposition to the bill and an attempt made to destroy that bill. We passed the Coyne Bill, which you know was vetoed by the Governor, because that had made no provision for the $8,000,000, and the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Wilson, intimates that the courts will not hold this act constitutional or will not hold the act as an effective tax measure. I say to the gentleman from McKean, let that burden rest on the courts, and not on the membership of the House. We have heard a whole lot about the money that was on deposit in the banks in the State of Pennsylvania. I don't know exactly how much money is on deposit in the Commonwealth, but I think that the gentleman in the discussion in the last session intimated there was three and a half billion on deposit in savings accounts. If that sum of money can exist in this Commonwealth, three and a half millions of dollars, without any attempt being made in any manner to make them share in bearing the expenses of the Government. I think that we are not justified in passing this measure and imposing additional taxes on real estate. I say it is not right that three and a half million dollars should go untaxed when we have numerous and innumerable landlords who are not getting any rent for their properties, innumerable property owners who cannot pay their taxes. I say that the responsibility should be placed on the courts to decide this question, and not on the membership of the House, and I ask the membership of this House to defeat this bill.

Mr. STORB. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I think this bill is the same bill that was passed at the regular session or the Spring session of the Legislature, the Einstein Bill which was passed, which relieved depositors in savings bank and trust companies from taxes on deposits. That Act was unconstitutional because the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania says that you cannot tax John Brown's money and let John Jones' money go free. You cannot tax money on interest and mortgages and promissory notes four mills, and let the man that has his money in savings deposits go free. It is unconstitutional. Another thing, you cannot tax the banks for moneys which they don't own.

Banks don't own these deposits; they belong to the depositors and not to the bank. The National banks particularly are the creature of the Federal Government and they allow the tax to be placed by the State of Pennsylvania on National banks of a four mill tax, the same as they tax other citizens of Pennsylvania, and the capital stock, surplus and other funds. You cannot tax National banks. This will clear up the situation as it was before the law was passed and leave the tax on the depositor where it belongs. It is the depositor that gets the interest and he should pay the taxes. The banks don't get the interest, they pay interest. I think this would get the State of Pennsylvania out of the hole. The Governor knows that he cannot collect these taxes and he is willing to go along. You should vote for this bill and clear up this situation and let the State of Pennsylvania collect the taxes from the owner of the money.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't like to disagree with my colleague from York but I want to say I think this is a very meritorious measure and should be enacted. Very considerable thought was given to the passage of the Einstein bill last session and the net result has reduced the interest on savings deposits. I think there is an erroneous impression on the part of the members of this House that the passage of this bill would place an additional burden on real estate and that if he attempted to put this act on the statute books real estate would be relieved of some of the burden it carries. Whether we pass this act or not I think that real estate would bear the same burden of taxation as it has heretofore because since I have been a member of this House, for three or four sessions past, we have passed many measures imposing taxes on the people of the Commonwealth. We have all talked about tax reductions and here is one opportunity for a reduction of taxes, a reduction of taxes upon a class of people who are not at all wealthy. This tax is not paid by the wealthy man. The cry is that we want to soak the rich. This bill doesn't do it because the rich man is not investing his money in saving accounts, he invests his money in tax-free securities.

I know of a bank that has a great many saving accounts and the treasurer told me just recently that few of them run as much as a thousand dollars. The average savings accounts are in moderate sums running from one hundred to five hundred dollars and often less. It is the little money that the working man, the mechanic, the man of small means has placed aside for a rainy day, or an emergency, or a time when sickness comes to his family, or times when it may be necessary to bear some funeral expenses or some other vital expenses that he may have the funds on hand. I think in deference to the small man, the man of small means, the man who has saved for a rainy day, I think there is nothing better than we can do than to vote for this measure.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't want to weary you but I just want to get myself on record as to the effect that this bill will have on the present situation. There is no tax now on bank deposits bearing interest, or on the bank and there is an uncertainty in the banks of the State of Pennsylvania whether or not they have to pay this tax and they are uncertain what they should pay on time deposits. There is no way on earth to collect this tax and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has never attempted to collect it, no money has been collected from this tax and no money will be. The only way that it could be collected would be to determine that an interest bearing account was a debt from the bank to the owner of that account, and the courts have held that it is not a debt, and for that reason there won't be a dollar coming to the Commonwealth. The passage of this bill will only let the banking authorities know what their position is. We thought in passing this bill that we took the burden off the interest bearing accounts and that we were relieving them of that and putting it on the banks. That is not the law. We didn't do that. I want to call the attention of the Legislature to this fact. We thought we were putting the tax on the bank instead of on the account. We didn't do any such thing. That was not the fact and there cannot be and there is no tax today on these accounts. The only thing that this bill will do will be to clear the situation and let the banks know where they are at, and let them know that they do not have to pay this tax and relieve the entire situation. I think that we should pass it.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this same bill in another form came up yesterday. This is one of those controversial questions that appear from time to time. If a question is controversial, that indicates it is not good for everybody, or else they would not controvert it.

I wonder if you know that this bill that is referred to here, dates back to 1913, twenty years ago, when this four mill tax was changed from a State tax to a county tax and was put on all classes of intangibles, including deposits in banks and would go to the counties, but during these twenty years the county commissioners in nine-tenths of the sixty-seven counties in the State of Pennsylvania who were elected to represent the people, have neglected their jobs. They laid down on their jobs, which you elected them to do, by not instructing their assessors to assess this intangible property. I will take for instance Erie County. There are between one hundred and thirty and one hundred and forty millions of dollars of intangible taxes in Erie County, and only thirty million dollars have ever paid this four mill tax, and it is an injustice to every man who owns a farm or owns a home, because his taxes have been increased, till he is paying now nine times as much tax as he did in 1913. In Erie County there are over forty-three million dollars in the banks on interest bearing accounts, and only ten per cent. of that has ever been acknowledged to the assessor and paid this four mill tax. If you are going to pay taxes, there is only one way to pay them. You have to pay taxes with money, you have to have money to pay your taxes, and you have to have an income of some kind. If you put it in the bank you get interest and you have an income from it. Where you have a man with a two thousand dollar home, he will be assessed at thirty mills. If he has two thousand dollars in a savings account, he is only assessed four mills. You ask this man with a savings account to pay four dollars on a thousand, and you ask a man with a home to pay sixty-six dollars on his home. I know that this is a controversial question, and I say to you that if you vote yes on this bill you will vote to make the home and the farm owner pay that much more tax. I protest against this, and every thinking man should say the same thing, vote no on this bill.

Mr. J. E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't know as I am going to make you a flowery speech, but I am familiar with some of the points of this, and I think I would not attend to my duties unless I attempted to say a word or two.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am a little ashamed of myself that I have not attempted to speak a few words before. I am not a banker, but I happen to know a little bit about this. To start with, last January I was handed a letter by my banker which had been received from the Banker's Association, asking that a bill be presented to dispense with the four mills tax on savings accounts. It didn't look right to me. I have a property and I pay taxes on it. I am also going to tell you that I have a little bit of money in the bank, not very much, but it is there because I cannot get it out, and sometimes I go to another bank and try to borrow a little money when I need the money. I am willing to pay four mills on that money which I have in bank, and I have pretty nearly as much money in the bank as I am assessed for my property. I am only assessed four mills on my savings account, but I am assessed probably twenty-five or thirty mills on my home. I have never objected to that. I would not care how much money I had in the bank; I would be perfectly willing to have a lot of money in the bank and pay taxes on it. We stand for an equalization of taxes. We have a lot of young folks who make a small salary and who put it in a bank in a savings account. We want these young people to learn to pay taxes. As long as the money is well spent I have never bucked a tax yet. If they don't get the money, if there is no money derived from these savings accounts, it is the fault of the officers. . We have the law. . Every year the assessor comes around to my house, and I am usually not at home, and he leaves me a slip asking if I have any savings account, and I fill out the slip and I say "yes" and I pay my fourteen dollars. Therefore, I cannot see how the member from McKean, Mr. Wilson, can say that no one derives any revenue from this source. I know I pay my fourteen dollars. That is certainly revenue. We want an equalization of taxation. This tax will help reduce our tax on real estate. It should be collected. There is no question but what we are liable to need a whole lot more money than what we are getting. You will find in the next year that we will be short of revenues. This State cannot be drunk in order to raise money on liquor taxes. We cannot drink enough whisky to raise revenue enough to run this State. I am for equalization. The only way to get money is to go where it is. Don't try to tax the farmer and the home owner who don't have any money to pay his taxes. You cannot get any money from a turnip, therefore I certainly will vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 119, Printer's No. 37, on page 11 of today's calendar, bill on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Baker,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 119, entitled:

An Act to amend section seventeen of the act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seven) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes and in cities coextensive with counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment and collection of the same providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes" as amended construing the word "indebtedness" as used in said section and denying the right of the Commonwealth to collect taxes on deposits in banks banking institutions saving institutions and trust companies

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Union, Mr. Baker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BAKER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask, what does this bill do that the one which we just passed doesn't do?

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, this does the same thing that the other bill does.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, why should we do the same thing twice.

Mr. BAKER. Because it is a House Bill, and the other is a Senate Bill.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this bill can be dropped from the calendar. I cannot see any earthly reason why we should pass this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair asks the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, if he makes a motion to that effect?

MOTION TO DROP BILL FROM CALENDAR

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is one of the measures upon which action has been taken by the Democratic members in caucus, and I have been asked to explain their attitude on this measure.

The Democratic delegation, of course, as heretofore, still stands first, last and all the time, for a real old age pension bill, but inasmuch as the last regular session of the Legislture defeated the joint resolution necessary for such a referendum, we accept the substitute in lieu thereof. If we were forced to vote only on one bill, we would support this bill. As it is, however, there are two substitutes placed before us, either one of the them being an old age assistance. Between the two we favor the other bill, because on this bill half of the burden reverts back to a tax on real estate. In other words, the county will have to furnish half of the money and the county must raise this money almost entirely by a tax on real estate. It so happens that a great many counties in Pennsylvania are not in a financial position to take advantage of this matter and if this bill were to become a law it would mean that we would have old age assistance only in spots instead of having old age assistance over the State in general. For that reason we prefer the other bill, the Blumberg bill, which places the entire burden upon the State, and in other words, provides for the money to be taken out of the State Stores Fund.

We have already passed an appropriation bill for $8,000,000, providing this money is available. If we now pass this bill, we are already throwing back into uselessness one half of that money, because under this act only one-half would be paid by the State. For this reason we prefer the other bill inasmuch as it does not add to the burden of real estate more than the setting up of the machinery, which is not such a very heavy item.

Mr. QUINN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, brevity is the soul of unit and I am going to try to merit your everlasting admiration by being brief on this measure, one of the many pieces of social legislation that we hear so much about, one of the things that the newspapers call "human interest," and which is going to be paramount, I believe, for the next few days, and I believe for the rest of the session. It is well at this time that we get a comprehensive view of this proposition, that we get a mutual understanding, that we get a close view of the subject at hand, so that we may better understand it.

My dear men and women, this thing of socialization has been man's highest ambition and desire since he came out of the woods as a semi-savage. He socialized the thing nearest to him, the tree, and he created the greatest invention ever made, the round wheel, because it lifted him from the class of the beast of burden.

Society, civilization, religion, morality, has travelled in cycles. We have socialized everything except the human being. We have never been able to keep social measures at a high plane. War has brought on degradation, misery and poverty, that period through which we have passed. Great wealth of this nation brought to us an era of immorality or unmorality, if you wish; then followed an era of dire need or direst hunger and misery. As the poet says "One touch of nature makes the whole world kin." Then men began to think in new ways of things; they began to think that they should socialize that thing. the noblest work of God, man.

My dear men and women, it is inevitable. We are in a new day, we are in a new era, we are, if you please, if you choose to accept the Democratic term, in a New Deal, or Better Deal. Fellow feeling makes equals of all mankind, and this sort of feeling we will develop to the highest altitude, so that we can better realize the Divine command "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

In the socialization program today I am amazed that a small group represented by certain manufacturers, by certain commercial bodies should be so narrow, so contracted that they fail to see the handwriting on the wall.

I question whether in the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania any real industry, any big league manufacturer, having outstanding prominence or eminence opposes socialization, knowing as does every man who employes labor that the most vital factor he has is labor, that the happy and contented workmen are the best workmen. If he fears that the slight burden of taxation that may be imposed upon him will force him to leave this State then I say that he should leave this State. The manufacturer who cannot pay more than a living wage has no business to clutter up the avenues of industry, and stop the prograss of progressive manufacturers. Any commercial body which poses as an exponent of high ideals after all appreciates the fact that the greatest thing that Pennsylvania has is its manhood and its wormanhood. The one dread and the one worry of man has been poverty, dread of the poorhouse, that in the twilight of his life he and that aged companion must travel over the hills to the poorhouse.

My dear men and women we must remove that worry; we must remove that fear, that dread which overshadows man. We must make him a free man but before doing that we must deny the rich, the small portion of greedy rich, who unfortunately need education when they oppose the progress of humanity.

This bill has been explained to you, and our attitude as Democratic members of this House, by the former speaker as a makeshift. Let us face this issue of social legislation manfully, heroically, courageously. Let us say "We are my brother's keeper." Let us be true to ourselves, let us be true to our State, let us place Pennsylvania where it rightfully belongs with this social legislation, in uplift, in progress, among the great states of the Union. Let us vote for every social bill, even if it helps but one man or one woman it will be better than having nothing.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I too, like my friend from Allegheny County, Mr. Quinn, will be brief, but I feel that I would be remiss in my duties as a Republican member of this House to sit in my place and hear my distinguished colleague speak of the New Deal by the President nationally and tying it up wrongly with social legislation in the State of Pennsylvania. I wish to call to the attention of my friend and colleague from Allegheny, the statement made by our distinguished Governor when he addressed this body yesterday and spoke of the social legislation that had its inspiration and beginning and inception during the administration of former Governor Brumbaugh of this State, a Republican. At any time, and it doesn't take any stretch of imagination or memory, to know that the minority party in this House numbered less than twenty, and that the inspirer and the creator and the backer, and the man who did the heroic work and who put over that legislation, the Mothers' Assistance Fund and various measures aimed at the improvement and benefit of mankind and of labor, and I speak very directly for those who labor, since I learned my trade in my youth and spent ten years at it, the leader of that party at that time was the late Senator Edward Vare of Philadelphia, the Republican leader then of the city of Philadelphia. When they speak of social legislation for the State of Pennsylvania, and by inference and by innuendo seem to impeach and indict this great glorious State and its people, employe and employer alike, let us go back to what the gentleman who has just taken his seat has said, and let us call his attention to what was mentioned recently by Miss Perkins of Washington, who belongs to the Cabinet of the New Deal, when she said that the people of the South were shoeless and that the shoe industry of the north and of the east would increase their production and their wealth a quarter and would reap a glorious harvest if it were made possible to purchase a pair of shoes for each person in the South.

I do not like, and I refuse to sit in this House and have the State of Pennsylvania indicted by men who can very well turn their attention to the most heinous offenses that are committed against society in the direction of labor conditions in the south below the Mason and Dixon Line, that is the father and mother and home of the perpetuators of the great Democratic Party that has been in existence in this country since the beginning of this Nation. As far as I am concerned, as an humble man, without investment in mine, mill, foundry, factory or farm, I don't presume to set in this House at any time and allow any member of the minority party, with all due respect for them, speak in the sense of any narrow partisanship or any provincialism or parochialism, I don't intend to sit here, to repeat again and hear this great State's name villified and indicted by tying up every piece of social legislation with the New Deal. I take my hat off to the New Deal. I give it endorsement, as I said here two weeks ago that the Republican Party nationally are giving it, and I don't speak for my party. I am a meek, halting, inarticulate voice almost in the great party that I belong to, but as a single member of the great party to which I belong, I do hope and pray that the same loyal cooperation and the same fine patriotic service that has been given since the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt to the presidency by the leaders of the Republican Party in Congress, will continue unalloyed, unadulterated and as patriotically as it has been given in the past eleven or twelve months. But notwithstanding that, I do say that as a member of that party, as a citizen of this State, I will not sit here at any time and hear the villification and indictment by dragging every mention of social legislation under the banner of the New Deal.

The Republican Party since the days of the Civil War when it struck its mightiest blow for the abolition of slavery and the improvement of social conditions, when it raised its banners, spent its money, spilt its blood on the fair fields of this land, North and South; they struck the first great blow for social justice and social legislation which they abolished slavery by the blood of hundreds of thousands of the fairest men and women that ever graced civilization in the North. From that day the Republican Party has no apology, it has nothing to retract, it has everything to be proud of when it comes to social legislation. It began with the abolition of slavery in the Nation. This grand, glorious prosperous, unique, Keystone State, led by an overwhelmingly Republican vote, led by Republican leaders, governed by a Republican governor and the members of this House and Senate on the other side, overwhelmingly Republican, passed the most recent, most constructive and the most humanitarian piece of social legislation, and I have been connected in that endeavor for the past twenty years, when it passed the Mothers' Assistance Fund in this House and made it a Republican measure in committee deliberations in enactment and in fact. I hope that the men, the members and my friends and colleagues who are here to which I might say appropo the words of the great Alexander Pope, the famous poet will apply,

> "A little learning is a dangerous thing;
> Drink deep or touch not the Pyrem spring;
> For shallow draughts intoxicate the brain,
> While drinking deeply sobers us again."

Let them not be so intoxicated with sixty-five members in this House as to think they can indict not only the living but the dead men who have ruled this State and filled the executive seat and this membership of this deliberate body for the past seventy years, I will not plead guilty to that indictment; I will not remain silent, and I have no brief for my party.

I do say in conclusion, the Republican Party as far as timber is concerned is for every social measure that comes before this House; the Republican Party has stood for every social measure and enacted it by acts written in our statute books. I will not sit here and hear my State nor my party indicted nor its component members in their efforts in behalf of humanity in the name and under the seemingly hypnotic plea of the New Deal. I hope the New Deal does not turn into a Raw Deal, but whether it does or does not, that is not the responsibility of this House, and speaking for myself, let us enact here a legislation that belongs in Pennsylvania, without forever this seeming intimation that if you don't do so you are opposed to the President of the United States. We have never been disloyal to a President of the United States, the Republican Party, since it came into being. We have given constructive advice, cooperation and service, and we have written the greatest page of human history that the world has ever recorded from the days of ancient Babylon to the present era, in the history of the Republican Party for the past seventy years in this great Nation. I thank you, my friends.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. RUBY. I vote against House Bill No. 18, Printer's No. 79, because the next bill on the calendar is a better method of extending Old Age Assistance. House Bill No. 18 would put an additional burden on the already overburdened real estate of every county.

The next bill to be voted on, House Bill No. 77, provides that the cost of Old Age Assistance shall be paid by the State. That is only fair since the State is deriving the entire profit of the State Liquor Stores, established for that very purpose.

I realize that either bill is only a substitute for real Old Age Pensions, which I favor. Nevertheless I support a substitute in the belief that half a loaf is better than none and feeling it is a step in the right direction, a forward step to eliminate the inhuman and wasteful poorhouse.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 77, entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating subject to certain restrictions limitations and liabilities assistance to and the burial of certain aged indigent persons and the administration of this act by the Department of Welfare the trustees who administer mothers' assistance in the several counties and others making counties liable for certain expenses providing penalties and making an appropriation

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHN J. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am going to support this bill because I believe in giving those who are sincerely interested in old age pensions to the people of the State of Pennsylvania a start in that direction.

There is only one way that we can have a satisfactory old age pension bill in the State of Pennsylvania and that is by the procedure of amending the Constitution, which was attempted in the regular session this year and defeated by the interests who domineered the Republican party in the State of Pennsylvania at that time.

The gentleman from Philadelphia got very far away from the question, and I am not going to trespass on the time of the House to say that I will do the same thing, but Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is too late now for an act of contrition. The record of the regular session on social legislation will stand in so far as the people who are interested in the cause of the working classes of the State of Pennsylvania are concerned. I am not speaking particularly now for political parties, I am speaking for the groups interested in the economic organizations, labor organizations and social and welfare organizations, which asked and pledged with the General Assembly in 1933 to abolish from Pennsylvania such laws as the coal and iron police, to establish a minimum wage and abolish sweat shops, and it was necessary in that session as the records will indicate that we were compelled to discharge committees in this House in order that we could get an opportunity to express our opinion on legislation of that kind.

So, in supporting this bill, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am supporting it with one provision: It is the best we can get at this particular time. It is not going to fool those sincerely interested in establishing a substantial old age pension law in the State of Pennsylvania.

I say in conclusion that the records of this session will not be taken by the people who are interested in the real, sincere endeavors to establish favorable conditions for the working classes of Pennsylvania. The record of the regular session is the record that will stand, and it is too late now for an act of contrition.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I regret very exceedingly that the question of partisan politics has arisen in this discussion as to the merits of the two bills that we have here today. They are not political in character, they are real, social humanizing legislation.

May I remind the members of this House that the Philadelphit delegation in this House at the regular session was compelled to resort to a move to discharge a committee in order to bring this legislation within the House, and that this House gave its approval to old age pensions.

Now, unfortunately, it was impossible to enact the resolution for an amendment into law. We now have before us the only process by which we legally can render old age assistance. The Attorney General of this State has said that this method is legal, and he is fortified, he tells me, by excellent legal authorities.

I do not believe it necessary to discuss with you or argue with you either the necessity or the desirability for old age pensions. This House has spoken before. I might point out to you, however, that the United States is probably the only civilized country in the world that does not have some sort of state administered old age assistance. In the last ten years twenty-five of the states have enacted some form of old age assistance either by contribution by the counties or completely by the state. All of our neighboring states have it.

So far as this particular bill is concerned, might I state that it applies to citizens of the United States and residents of Pennsylvania who are seventy years of age and who are indigent. It provides the amount of thirty dollars a month for the first member of the family and fifteen dollars for every additional member of the family who can qualify.

The system will be administered by the Department of Welfare and the board of trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund. It was felt that in that way there would be no more new boards or commissions created with the large expense attendant thereon. The work will be done by the same investigators and employers so far as possible of the Mothers' Assistance Fund. The only contribution that the county makes in the administration proposed under this bill is for the services of such investigators as may additionally be needed, and that in no event is to exceed six per cent of the amount allotted to that particular county. There is also a provision in this bill than an aged indigent citizen over seventy years of age may be buried if he leaves an estate not sufficient to take care of those expenses, that amount, however, not to exceed one hundred dollars.

The bill, of course, is not completely perfect, but it is felt that a start ought to be made.

An amendment yesterday was offered to reduce the age to sixty-five. By doing so we might cause a practical nullification of the bill, because the State's finances would not permit of so large a grant.

Based on the statistics of Massachussetts and Maryland and comparable with the population, industrial in character, that we have in this State, we think there will be about four out of every thousand or probably thirty-eight thousand people in this State who may become eligible.

As the administration of this bill continues it is hoped that further amendments will be introduced so that my friend might rest assured that in a short time we will have a perfect old age system in Pennsylvania.

This is a conservative start, and we ask your approval of that start.

Mr. SOWERS. I would feel, Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, that I would be derelict if I did not on this occasion say something.

I am for old age pensions one hundred per cent and not being able to obtain them at this time, I am for this assistance bill one hundred per cent, nothwithstanding my own personal thought is that the bill ought to fix the age at sixty-five and I say that for this reason: I feel that when you fix it at seventy you are granting an old age pension or assistance to a dead man.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, my reasons for being for old age assistance are little different from those that have been advanced by others. I regard this bill as a step in the right direction for unemployment relief. To me it seems that the rule, that is the rule of rugged individualism should be changed so that there should be competition for strong, healthy and robust workers, and that the rule should be changed to give to the old and the decrepit and the blind a preference in the way of a pension or assistance.

I say it is a step in the right direction for this reason: We have mass production, we have machinery that is taking the first place and human labor the second place. We have machinery that is putting out of employment the old and the aged, and this bill means that you give them a preference, you give them compensation, you give them assistance when they retire. You cannot have mass production unless you have mass consumption, and this bill is a step in the direction of giving to the retired workers compensation so as to keep on the mass purchasing power.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WEIDEMANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday evening, December 11, 1933, at 9:00 o'clock.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, before we pass upon a motion to adjourn, I would like to arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the Speaker interpret the parliamentary meaning of the word "immediately."

The SPEAKER. "Immediately" means "at once." It is the antithesis of "mediate."

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, this House on Monday evening, December 4th, passed a resolution that the chairmen of the committees to which bills have been referred are hereby directed to immediately call meetings thereof——

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, there is nothing before the House except a motion to adjourn, which is not debatable.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken, and the only matter now before the House is on the motion to adjourn.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I am rising to a question of parliamentary inquiry. I am not debating the motion at all.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is out of order. There is only one question before the House and that is the motion to adjourn.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I ask for the floor on that motion.

The SPEAKER. On the motion to adjourn?

Mr. HOOPES. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The motion to adjourn, the gentleman is informed, is not debatable.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. MELCHIORRE. I second the call for a roll call.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be called, the question being whether this House will adjourn on the motion of the gentleman from Delaware Mr. Weidemann, adjourning until Monday, December 11, 1933, at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

Those voting in the affirmative vote to adjourn. Those voting in the negative vote not to adjourn and the House will then remain in session.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker, may I respectfully call to your attention the fact, before the roll is called, that quite a few members have left their seats and have gone to the cloak room at the present moment.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be called.

The roll was called by the Clerk.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Brown, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I want to ask if those members who have not answered to their names will be recorded on the roll.

The SPEAKER. In answer to the question of parliamentary inquiry of the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Brown, the Chair desires to state that every member who is within the hall of the House has the constitutional right to vote. He may arise and state to the Chair that his name was not heard or that he voted under a misapprehension, and whatever statement or reason the gentleman sees fit to give to the Chair, the Chair must accept that statement.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would ask that the doors be closed and no members who were not here when the roll call was made be permitted to enter.

The SPEAKER. The order has been made for the verification of the roll and the affirmative roll will now be called.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, do I not have a right to make that request? In other words, if members come in under your former ruling and say they were in the House they could be counted.

The SPEAKER. The Chair informs the gentleman from Berks that the roll will be properly protected by the Chair.

There is nothing in order except the verification of the roll.

Mr. JOHN E. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, according to Rule 76, no member shall be permitted to record his vote who neglects to vote when his name is first called by the Clerk.

The SPEAKER. In answer to that question of the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Brown, the Chair recalls that the other day the same question was placed before the Chair. The point is that if a member is within the hall of the House at the time of the calling of the roll he is entitled by constitutional law to his right to vote.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Mr. PETHICK offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

In the Senate, December 11, 1933.

In the death of Major General Charles H. Muir, on December 8, 1933, at Baltimore, Maryland, one of the great figures of the World War so intimately associated in that struggle with the young men of Pennsylvania has passed away. General Muir commanded the Twenty-eighth Division from December 15, 1917, until October 21, 1918, and participated in all of the major operations, winning for his troops and himself imperishable glory.

General Muir was assigned to command the Fourth Corps, Second Army, October 22, 1918 and served with the Army of Occupation until April 17, 1919 when he again was reassigned to command of the Twenty-Eighth Division remaining with it and returning with it to the United States where it was demobilized May 17, 1919.

General Muir was a great soldier. He was born in Michigan, July 18, 1860, was appointed to the United States Military Academy July 1, 1881, graduated eighth in the class of 1885 and advanced through the various grades of the regular army until he became a Major General of the National Army, November 28, 1917. General Muir retired from the United States Army, permanent establishment, July 18, 1924, being at the time in command of the Third Corps Area with station at Baltimore, Maryland.

General Muir was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action at Santiago, Cuba, during the Spanish American War, the Distinguished Service Medal for meritorious service during the World War as commanding general of the Twenty-eighth Division and the Silver Star Citation in 1900 for gallantry in action during the Philippine Insurrection. He was decorated with the French Legion of Honor, the French Croix-de-Guerre with Palm and was a Knight Commander of the British Order of St. Michael and St. George.

The Senate of Pennsylvania recognizes in the death of General Muir the passing of a distinguished soldier whose name will forever be associated with the splendid achievements of the troops of Pennsylvania and it, therefore, adopts this minute of respect to his memory, realizing the serious loss sustained by the State. The sympathy of the Senate is hereby extended to his widow, to whom a copy of this minute will be sent.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like someone to explain the need of this bill, or the picture of the State finances with reference to welfare and relief. I understand that this bill appropriates $40,000,000.

We made a fair appropriation at the regular session of 1933, and I would like to know the need for this much money at this time; and where the money is coming from. Otherwise, I shall be obliged to vote against the bill.

HOUSE MESSAGES

FINAL ADJOURNMENT

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 11, 1933.

RESOLVED (if the Senate concur), That this Special Session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die Thursday, December 21, 1933, at 12 o'clock noon.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be adopted.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I would not be consistent if I did not oppose this resolution. On last Monday night I presented a resolution to this body asking them to remain in session until such time as the programme of social legislation could be passed. I predict to you, and I say this advisedly, that if this session adjourns without the passage of a real programme of social legislation it will spell the defeat of the Republican party next November.

The people of this State demand this legislation. It has been prepared carefully; it has not even yet been properly considered by this body; and I urge every member of this Senate to think well before casting his vote on this resolution.

In the House just now there was a very close vote on this resolution. It is time now, and there is still sufficient time, to save the Republican party. Everyone here knows that this is a piece of political strategy in an effort to stifle and kill this programme of social lgeislation that the Governor has proposed; and I ask every member of this Senate to think long and carefully before he casts his vote on this resolution.

Let us stay here, as I said last Monday night, until we finish our work. I predict, if the passage of this resolution results in the failure of the programme of social legislation, that every member of this body who votes for this resolution will have to answer for it to his constitutents. I ask the members of the Senate to vote "No" on this resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Harris and Mr. Bennett.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The roll will be verified.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Harris and Mr. Bennett, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—30

Aron,	Coyne,	Hunsicker,	Salus,
Batchelor,	Ealy,	Krause,	Scott,
Baumer,	Einstein,	Norton,	Shapiro,
Bell,	Fay,	Quigley,	Sones,
Boyd,	Frazier,	Reed,	Sordoni,
Buckman,	Harvey,	Rice,	Williamson,

Clark	Howell,

NAYS—12

Armstrong,	Harris,	Pethick,	Staudenmier,
Bennett,	Mansfield,	Prince,	Thompson,
Brandt,	Miller,	Snyder,	Trainer,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, and members of the Senate: The Philadelphia delegation voted for this resolution on adjournment. They voted on it with an express understanding that all this social legislation will be considered by this Senate after adjournment. There is a lot of time for us to consider every piece of this legislation; and it was with the express promise that all this legislation will be considered thoroughly, and acted on, by this Senate between now and the twenty-first; and I, representing the members of this Senate from Philadelphia, and also the members of the House from Philadelphia, wish to go on record and serve warning that our delegation from Philadelphia will be active in every way possible to see that this social legislation is acted on; and if any effort is made by any committee to prevent the reporting out of any of this legislation, we shall be compelled to ask for the discharge of any committee that holds any of this legislation back, without giving this Senate an opportunity to act on it.

For the first time in my experience as a legislator I now say that I, personally, will make a motion to discharge any committee that fails to report any of this legislation to the Senate for action. The report may be negative or affirmative,—that does not interest us; but a report must be made on this legislation or else the entire Philadelphia delegation will vote to discharge any committee that attempts to hold up these bills, without reporting them to the Senate.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I hesitated for some time to vote on this resolution to adjourn December 21st; but, on the asurance that had been given, as expressed by Senator Salus, I voted "Aye" on it.

I take the position that this Senate should not adjourn until it has at least considered and acted upon every piece of legislation which is the subject matter of the call of the Governor of this Commonwealth. As I have been assured that it can be done,—that there is sufficient time to enable us to do that before adjourning on the twenty-first, I am voting in favor of this resolution. Otherwise, if the development should be that it cannot be done, that we shall not be able to consider all of this legislation, I, too, personally reserve the right to ask for a reconsideration of this action.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Frazier, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I want to say, along the line of the remarks of the Senators from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus and Mr. Shapiro, that I was placed, by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, on a very important committee having to do with the work of this welfare legislation. And I wish to state that our committee reported in favor of the enactment of certain legislation along the line of social welfare, and that the recommendation of our committee was put into the form of bills, which bills have been approved by the House and are either on the way over here or are over here.

I feel, as my colleagues from Philadelphia feel, that if this resolution to adjourn on the twenty-first is an attempt to stifle this so-called social legislation, it is contrary to the report of our committee on those bills, which I reported out, on welfare legislation; and I reserve to myself the same right that has been reserved by the other Senators from Philadelphia.

RESOLUTION NO. 13

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 13, Printer's No. 64.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 5, 1933.

Whereas Several serious outbreaks have occurred recently at the Eastern Penitentiary in Philadelphia and

Whereas The public is entitled to know whether such outbreaks are the result of negligence in the management of said institution and due to conditions which have existed for some time or whether they were unavoidable and due to the character of prisoners detained in said institution therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three Members and the President Pro Tempore shall appoint two Senators who together shall constitute a joint legislative committee whose duty it shall be to make a searching and impartial investigation of conditions existing at the Eastern Penitentiary and to determine the causes of the recent outbreaks among the prisoners in said institution and to make report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly not later than February first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five

Resloved That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committee may deem necessary Such subpoenas may be served upon any any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have no special interest in this resolution which it seems sets up a legislative inquiry with reference to the riots or break-outs, that lately we have read, and know, occurred at the Eastern Penitentiary in Philadelphia. But I believe before the membership of the House should vote on the resolution that it should know that there is presently in process two investigations seeking to find the information that this resolution seeks to find. It is true that this body is entitled to know the cause for the riots, but it seems to me that adding a third inquiry to the two already in existence will be confusion more confounded and more especially is that true when one of the bodies making the investigation is the Grand Jury of the County of Philadelphia, lately appointed and instructed to proceed by His Honor, Judge McDevitt.

There appeared in the public press within the last few days a distasteful, embittered quarrel between Judge McDevitt and Mr. Robinson, an appointee of Governor Pinchot, but not yet confirmed by the Senate.

A committee was appointed by the Governor some weeks ago to make an investigation of the causes of the rioting. That committee was composed of our own Mr. Adams, Major Adams, the head of the State Police, Mr. Robinson, a well known penologist, and T. Henry Walnut, of Philadelphia, an outstanding lawyer and ex-district attorney. Now, with that one group, proceeding with the investigation, as I have previously stated, Judge McDevitt of Philadelphia County has lately ordered and instructed the Grand Jury to make a similiar investigation. It seems to me that two investigating bodies working concurrently will be quite sufficient in an institution of that type, and it seems further to me that this Legislature should bide its time and ascertain, first, the result of these two investigations, or at least one of them, before it proceeds to embark on its own individual investigation. For the sake of the institution and for the sake of the inmates of that institution, considering its nature and their nature, it seems to me the best interests of the Commonwealth will be served if this resolution is defeated at this time.

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I listened attentively to my colleague, Mr. Sterling, from Philadelphia, relative to House Resolution No. 13. He told the truth of the two investigations going on at the present time. When I introduced this resolution, I was aware of the first investigation, but it so happened that at about the same time Judge Harry S. McDevitt instituted the thought of making an investigation through the Grand Jury.

I believe this legislative body, the body which appropriates the money for the Eastern Penitentiary, and other penal institutions, is the proper body to make an unbiased investigation. We all know the disturbances that have taken place in the Eastern Penitentiary recently and no doubt the same affairs are going on in our other penal institutions. My thought is, if upon investigating the conditions at the Eastern Penitentiary they warrant a further investigation of the other institutions, I then say we should proceed.

I hold no brief for either Judge Harry S. McDevitt or the Governor, who are in the midst of investigating the Eastern Penitentiary. I am asking you men to support this resolution. It is a resolution that will not take one cent of the State money to investigate. If after we investigate we find that the conditions are such that they are hampering the warden, then I say we are the ones to start a change. So far as the other two investigations are concerned this one will not interfere and I ask at this time that you support this resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON RULES

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following resolutions from the Committee on Rules.

The resolution was twice read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 11, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That this Special Session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die Thursday, December 21, 1933, at 12 o'clock noon.

Committee on Rules:
GROVER C. TALBOT.
A. J. WHITE HUTTON,
THOMAS B. WILSON.
MORTON WITKIN,
JOSEPH G. STEEDLE,

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't think that any one of you is any more anxious to get through with this special session and get home than I am, but I am not so anxious to go there that I want to quit without having passed the labor and social legislation which was included in the Governor's call and which has been introduced in this House, a considerable part of which has been reported from committees here tonight.

We have been in session now five weeks I believe. If these bills had been reported out promptly, earlier in the session, they undoubtedly could have received full consideration, not only by this House but also in the Senate and we could have been through by December 21st. As it is now they cannot possibly pass this House before Wednesday and some of them possibly on Thursday, if we stay that long, of this week, and then allowing for a reasonable delay in the committees of the Senate, they will not be up for final passage by December 21st.

I arise at this time to oppose the fixing of a date of adjournment until we have acted upon this labor and social legislation, not only in this House, but also in the Senate. I do not want to tie the hands of the House at this time. I want it to be in a position to continue and vote for what we have agreed in so far, for these measures. If we fix the date for final adjournment tonight, it will be very easy for those who oppose this legislation to obstruct it in committee and in ways well known to these gentlemen in the Senate, assuming that it passes this House, by failing to get it out of committee in time to be passed in the Senate by December 21st.

We came into session for a special purpose. The people of Pennsylvania expect us to accomplish that purpose. They expect us to ratify the child labor amendment; they expect us to adopt the minimum wage laws; they expect us to amend the child and the women law of Pennsylvania, limiting the hours of labor much more than they are at the present time, and in the case of children increasing or raising the age limit; they expect us to pass other measures to cooperate with the United States Adminstration under the NRA; they expect us to do this before we go home. So we should not tie our hands and put ourselves in a position where we will bind ourselves to adjourn at a fixed time, regardless of what is done. When we have finished this legislation no one will stop us from adjourning. They could introduce a resolution on the last day and adopt it and go home. We don't have to adopt a resolution two weeks or ten days in advance.

I hope the members of this House who are in favor of labor and social legislation will oppose this resolution at this time with the understanding that we will vote for it as soon as the purposes of this session have been accomplished.

Mr. JOHN J. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I agree with Representative Hoopes that this resolution should be voted down. It appears to me that the same procedure is now being attempted to be put into effect that was in effect in the General Assembly in the early part of this year. There has been a concerted drive for the enactment of social legislation, which I charge is being done at this time for political purposes. It appears to me that the program is to release this legislation to the floor of the House and to set the date of adjournment and kill these bills in the Senate. If they are successful in passing in the Senate against the Mellon-Grundy-Pinchot trio, they yet have a last recourse in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. I am not satisfied that even the accomplishment or the enactment of social and labor legislation in the General Assembly is going to bring about the things that are needed and wanted and desired by the people of Pennsylvania, because sitting on the Supreme Court bench, ladies and gentlemen of this House, there are men who are on record as having received favors from the house of J. Pierpont Morgan, and so how can we sit idly by and adopt a resolution such as this one is and then adjourn.

I say that I have more reasons than any man in the House to wish for an early adjournment, but I am not going to go along with a resolution such as this one is that is in my opinion only put before the House for the purpose of killing whatever effect the reporting of these labor bills from the Labor Committee may have.

The program is clear to me, and I am not being fooled by any maneuvering by the leadership of this House. The pressure of public opinion has caused these labor bills to be reported out of committee, and the same pressure will follow that has always followed in this House, that they will be killed in the Senate. No pressure of public opinion is strong enough—they may be passed on here and they may be passed in the Senate but they will be passed on afterwards by the members of the Supreme Court by men who have no right to be here. I ask you to vote this down.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is necessary for us to agree at some time to adjourn. By fixing December 21st as the date for adjournment, it is giving notice to everybody that has bills to get busy. Sitting around here means nothing. All we can accomplish is to go on record. The bills are here. Anybody that wants to move for the discharge of a committee can do so and get a record vote. If the bills pass, as no doubt they will, and many already have, they will go to the Senate and the people will know where to put the blame. Tarrying around here will not add anything to it. We, at some time, must agree to adjourn. Now is the proper time to give everybody notice; they know they have ten days, and that means, "Now get busy". I ask everybody to vote in favor of this resolution.

Mr. LENAHAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia and my colleague, the gentleman from Allegheny. The House can accomplish nothing by prolonging this session, and whether we adjourn on the 21st of December or whether we adjourn on the 21st of January, as far as the members that are interested in social legislation are concerned, it will accomplish nothing, because as I, a member here for the purpose of representing the people that are vitally interested in social legislation am concerned, it makes no difference whether we adjourn today or whether we adjourn six months from now. The House of Representatives, I am sorry to say, as it exists today, is opposed one hundred per cent. to social legislation, and we might as well get out of here today as adjourn six months from now.

The people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania imposed on us an important duty; to come down here an try to pass through this Hall legislation that will affect the poor men and the poor women that toil, but here we are, aghast, as it were, amid a House of Representatives that is opposed one hundred per cent. against social legislation.

To the members of this House and to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I say to you that if we were to adjourn today we would save the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania money, because the majority of this House is diametrically opposed to any legislation that will favor the man that has to toil for a living. The house of Grundy and his cohorts are all set against labor, and the labor proposition, and I say that the proponents who propose to pass through this Assembly this legislation, will not get anywhere with it, because this group is diametrically opposed to it. I say to you in the ten days that is now ensuing if we want to pass labor and social legislation, the time is now at hand, and if we want to expose who are the followers of Grundy and the followers of Pinchot and those who are diametrically and diabolically opposed to labor, now is the time to put them on the spot.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman to confine his remarks to the motion before the House.

Mr. LENAHAN. And I say to the Speaker and members of the House that I am speaking on this motion, and as a member of this House I know the causes that have been fortified against labor legislation. It is impossible, I say to the Speaker and members of the House, we might just as well adjourn now and save time as far as putting through any special legislation is concerned. This House is opposed to it and we know it, and there is no use wasting time. If we do adjourn on the 21st, let us adjourn, but let us put on record those members of the House who are opposed to labor and social legislation.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, after what has already been said, there is very little to add other than this; that the State Federation of Labor has circularized among you a request asking you not to adjourn until you have taken care of the labor propositions in the call of the Governor, and likewise the two unanimous actions of the recent two Democratic Caucuses has been to oppose adjournment until social legislation is property taken care of. Feeling that that has not been done at this time, I will ask those of my friends and the friends of labor and the Democratic members of the House to oppose this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Hoopes and Mrs. Wilson.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. TAHL offered the following reasons for voting on the resolution to adjourn sine die.

I am in favor of the resolution because the old age pension bill, which I have supported, has already passed the House. There is ample time left between now and December 21, 1933, to pass the remaining proposed social legislation.

DISCHARGING COMMITTEE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 59

Mr. BERNHARD offered a resolution which was twice read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 11, 1933.

Resolved, That the Committee on Railroads and Railways be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 59 known as the "Train Limit Bill" for the following reason.

1. This bill was introduced on November 20 and referred to Committee on November 21.
2. In accordance with the House rule this bill has been in said Committee since that time and the only action taken was to refer the same to a committee.
3. This committee has had this bill in its possession since that time and have failed to take any action whatsoever.
4. This bill is known as the Train Limit Bill to promote the safety of employees and traveling public upon railroads by limiting the length of freight trains to seventy cars.
5. This bill has been in said committee more than ten days.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. MYERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Carbon, Mr. Barnhart.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Carbon, Mr. Bernhard, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERNHARD. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MYERS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Carbon know that there is a notice on the desk for a meeting tonight of the Committee on Railroads and Railways?

Mr. BERNHARD. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MYERS. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, for the past five weeks all of my time has been taken up with the bonus legislation. Perhaps I have neglected my duties as a chairman insofar as the gentleman who sponsored this bill is concerned, but on Tuesday or Wednesday of last week, a gentleman approached my desk and asked me if I would call a meeting of the Committee on Railroads and Railways, and I told that gentleman that I had forgotten that I was chairman of that committee, in view of the fact that I was pushing the bonus legislation. I promised that gentleman that I would call a meeting of the committee. It was satisfactory to him. I have carried out my part of the program by putting a notice to that effect on the desk of the clerk.

Mr. BERNHARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I had a similar bill in the last general session and the Chairman of the Committee on Railroads and Railways made the same promise to me at that time. I waited until practically two months of the General Session had gone before we had a meeting of the Committee on Railroads and Railways and we were in session practically twenty minutes.

I have now been waiting twenty-one days for the chairman of the committee to call that committee together and he promised that he would get the committee together in the near future. However, we have taken a vote tonight and it is the intent of this special session to adjourn within ten days. Now, it isn't fair to leave a committee waiting twenty-one days to be called together and then make a motion and pass a resolution to adjourn within ten days without getting that bill out. I would appreciate very much if you would allow that bill to come out with the other bills that came out from the Committee on Labor.

Mr. THOMAS J. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Myers.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Myers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MYERS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. THOMAS J. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, whether he is in favor of bringing this bill out of the Committee?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the query of the gentleman from Allegheny is not a proper one.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken, and the gentleman from Allegheny will confine himself to the motion before the House.

Mr. THOMAS J. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, during the last session of this House, the same motion was made to discharge the committee. We moved to discharge the committee and we received ninety-nine votes, and that is the reason why I am asking the Chairman of the Committee if he is in favor of bringing this bill out.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's inquiry is out of order.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, if it is in order, I would suggest that the clerk read the call for a meeting of the Committee that the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Chairman of the Committee on Railroads and Railways, has placed upon the desk.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the House, the clerk will read the notice that has been placed upon the desk by the Chairman of the Committee on Railroads and Railways.

The Clerk read the announcement of the Committee meeting on Railroads and Railways as follows:

There will be a meeting of the Committee on Railroads and Railways immediately after this session. Signed Frederick H. Myers, Jr., Chairman.

The SPEAKER. Before the announcement of the decision, the Chair desires to read rule 40 to the House:

WHEN COMMITTEE MAY BE DISCHARGED FROM CONSIDERATION OF BILL

"That when a bill or resolution has been ten days in the hands of a committee after having been referred to it any committee may be discharged from the further consideration of the bill or resolution by a majority vote of all the members elect."

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Bernhard and Mr. Hoopes.

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

MOTION TO RECESS

Mr. BERNHARD. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now recess for twenty minutes in order that the Committee on Railroads and Railways may meet. It has not had time to do so in the past.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

COMMITTEE ON RAILROADS AND RAILWAYS DISCHARGED FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 60.

Mr. JOHN J. PERRY offered a resolution which was twice read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 11, 1933.

Resolved, That the Committee on Railroads and Railways be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 60 better known as the "Full Crew Bill" for the following reasons:

1. This bill was introduced on Nov. 20 and referred to Committee on Nov. 21st.

2. In accordance with the House rule this bill has been in said Committee since that time and the only action taken was to refer the same to a committee.

3. This committee has had this bill in its possession since that time and have failed to take any action whatsoever.

4. This bill is an act known as the full crew bill to promote the safety of employes and travelers upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to man locomotives, trains and other self propelled engines or machines with competent employes, to provide the least number of men that may be employed on locomotives, trains, and other self propelled engine or machines, to provide the qualification of certain employes and provide a penalty for the violation thereof.

5. This bill has been in said Committee more than ten days.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. MYERS. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I just wish to repeat that the gentleman from Cumberland had entered into the gentlemen's agreement that I call a meeting tonight of the Committee on Railroads and Railways, and I have put a notice to that effect on the desk of the clerk.

Mr. BECHTEL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it might appear useless for me to say a few words in favor of this resolution at this time, in view of the vote of the House on the resolution to discharge this same committee, just rejected.

I wish to say that I sincerely regret the necessity of my having to vote in the affirmative on this resolution, but I feel that it is necessary. I feel that it is necessary nothwithstanding what the Chairman of this Committee has stated to the members of the House and that the order for the calling of this committee has been read. Nevertheless if that bill is not reported on to the floor of this House until tomorrow morning that bill will not have a chance for its life. In the last general session, I sponsored a similar bill. I waited at the time long and patiently for some committee action on the bill.

Other members of this House who had an interest in the measure also waited long and patiently until such time as patience ceased to be a virtue, and then a motion was made to discharge the committee. The vote at that time showed that we fell five short of discharging the committee on the bill, which was an indication that that bill was of such serious import as to have received the general consideration of the membership of this House on the floor of the House.

In this session we find history repeating itself and tonight we sit here with the call of this committee having been delayed so long that it is well nigh impossible now for this bill to have a chance. I do not wish, as a single member of this House, to set up my poor opinion against the consensus of opinion of that committee, but I do say, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that any measure in times like these which has for its purpose the aid of unemployment, the safety of the employes and the safety of the public is of such serious import that it should have the consideration of the members of this House, and I say to you now that if you feel that unemployment should be aided, if you feel that the safety of railroad employes means anything to you, if you feel that your own safety as travelers and passengers upon the railroads means anything to you, then you should direct this committee to deliver this bill upon the floor of the House immediately, so that at least it might have a chance if it is reported out now for first reading to get into the Senate and have a chance for its life.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, at the regular session I voted to discharge the committee from the custody of a similar bill. If the motion to discharge the committee from the custody of this bill had been made last Monday night, I would have voted to discharge the committee. I cannot, Mr. Speaker, go along with a movement to discharge a committee when the motion has been delayed by the advocates of the measure until the very moment that the committee has been called. It is unfair to the committee. The advocates of this measure have had twenty-one days and they are the ones who have failed. I believe under the circumstances the House should stand with the committee, and I can say that in all sincerity because at the regular session I voted to discharge the committee.

Mr. JOHN J. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Hutton, McKay, Schrock, Griffith, Wade, Wall, John J. Perry, Powell, Gillette, Rectenwald, Duffy, Bennett, Baldi, Baker, Peters, Ederer, Stiteler, Craig, Zimmerman, John L. Holmes, Rice and others

On the question,

Shall the main question be now put?

It was agreed to.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. John J. Perry and Mr. Powell.

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll

The roll was verified and was as follows:

RESOLUTION No. 14

Mr. GARTNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 14, Printer's No. 65.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 4, 1933.

Whereas The General Assembly of this Commonwealth has enacted or will hereafter enact certain measures imposing taxs on distilled and rectified spirits and wines and

Whereas The General Assembly intended to fix the tax at such a point that the Commonwealth could receive necessary revenue and legitimate dealers in alcoholic beverages could dispense them at a price which would eliminate bootleggers rackteers and moonshiners by making their trade unprofitable and

Whereas It now appears that the price of legal liquors and wines to the consumer is going to be higher than that charged by illegal dispensers of such products and

Whereas It was the intention of this Legislature to make alcoholic beverages available to those who want them at a price which would stop illegal trading in them and

Whereas The Twenty-First Amendment to the Federal Constitution imposes on the States meaning the Legislatures and Governor of the separate States the power to control and regulate the handling of alcoholic beverages therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That a Joint Legislative Committee is hereby created to consist of three Members of the House be appointed by the Speaker of the House and two Senators to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate for the purpose of determining the exact cost of the manufacture and importation of spirituous alcoholic beverages and the price at which such beverages should be sold in order to make unprofitable the trade of those unlawfully engaged in the sale thereof

The said committee shall organize immediately after the appointment of the members thereof and shall make a report to the General Assembly as expeditiously as possible and shall accompany the same with such suggestions as they may decide will effectually discourage and prevent the illegal manufacture and sale of alcohol beverages and be it further

Resolved That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committee may deem necessary Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases and be it further

Resolved That the members of such committee shall be reimbursed for amounts actually expended for railroad fare and hotel accommodations and shall have the power to appoint and fix the compensation of necessary stenographers payments for which expenses and compensation shall be made out of an item to be inserted in an amendment to the general Appropriation Bill of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

EXPRESSING SYMPATHY UPON DEATH OF HONORABLE JOHN R. FARR

Mr. JOHN J. WILLIAMS offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 11, 1933.

The sad news of the death of the Honorable John R. Farr, a former member of the National House of Representatives from the County of Lackawanna and the Speaker of this House during the Session of 1899 has just been made known.

Born in Hyde Park, Scranton, on the 18th day of July, 1857, he passed through the public schools of that city, and after securing an apprenticeship as a typesetter, he entered Lafayette College.

He was later editor of the Scranton Republican and the Courier-Progress of Scranton, in 1891 was elected a member of this House and was later elected to the National House of Representatives. He gave to the County of Lackawanna and to the Commonwealth the best that man can give, therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives that in the death of the Honorable John R. Farr, the County of Lackawanna has lost one who gave many years of faithful service to the people he represented and by his official acts brought credit to them and to the Commonwealth, and be it further

Resolved, That this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and a copy thereof be forwarded by the Chief Clerk to the surviving family of the Honorable John R. Farr.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 40, Printer's No. 90, entitled "An act providing compensation for the residents of this Commonwealth who served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the World War, the war between the United States and Spain, the China Relief Expedition or in the Philippines or Guam; imposing certain duties on the Adjutant General; making an appropriation; and repealing inconsistent legislation; and providing penalties," now in the hands of the Governor, be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO BAN IMMIGRATION

Mr. SHUGARTS offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

Whereas, Leaders of Mexico, Canada, France and many of the other countries have upheld the right of each nation in time of distress or unemployment to pass such legislation as they deemed wise to protect their citizens, and

Whereas, Common horse sense reasoning compels the thinking Americans to realize that with the increased use of labor saving machinery along with the merging of banks railroads and corporations plus the cutting down of what we produce and ship to other countries plus the flooding of foreign goods in the United States, all has a bearing on the large increase in our army of unemployed, and

Whereas, Government officials and National Labor Leaders claim there are now over nine million (9,000,000) out of employment in the United States today, and

Whereas, There is no let up in sight in the demand upon public officials in Local, County, State and National Government to raise hundreds of millions of dollars to feed and take care of this increasing large army of unemployed, and

Whereas, Members of Local, County, State and National Legislative bodies along with the other public employees have had to aid this unemployed fund by accepting a cut in their salaries, and

Whereas, Surplus American labor can be transported as easily as new immigrants to where seasonable labor is needed at the same time feeling sure that the wages of American labor will be spent in America, and

Whereas, The United States Census of 1930 for Pennsylvania shows that the number of aliens with first papers .. 87,565 that the number of aliens were 342,928 that the number of unknown aliens were 38,298

Total number aliens that were unnaturalized in vania in 1930 were 468,791

and

Whereas, The burning question to the public officials and members of every Legislative body charged with raising the money to relieve the distress of the poor and unemployed is how much less would it cost the American tax payers if the estimated number of one to two million aliens that have entered America illegally were deported out of the country, and

Whereas, Another burning question is how many of the unnaturalized aliens who have entered America legally but did not care enough for America to become one of her citizens are working while Americans and the naturalized aliens are walking the streets begging for work, and

Whereas, Congress has given the President free power to act in any move he believes would help to decrease the army of unemployed,

Resolved, That it is the consensus of opinion of the members of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania that we request the President of the United States in the interest of relieving the present and future distress of the poor and unemployed to at once by executive order close the doors on immigration from all countries on those seeking employment in America for two years, and be it further

Resolved, That we request the President in the interest of cutting down the cost of the distress of the poor and unemployed plus reducing the cost of crime and racketeering to at once by executive order set up the machinery for the registration of both Americans and aliens as a war measure to lose no time in picking up and deporting all aliens that have entered United States of America illegally, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be instructed to send copies of this resolution to the presiding officers of both House of Congress at Washington, District of Columbia with the request they have it read and referred to the proper committee for their consideration, also a copy to each member of the Congress of the United States from the Commonwealth with the request that they work to further these suggestions contained herein also copies to the Secretary of State and the President for his information

REQUESTING RESIGNATION OF CHIEF CLERK.

Mr. QUINN offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 11, 1933.

Whereas, Many days have elapsed since a Federal Jury convicted Eugene F. White, Chief Clerk of Assembly, of grave offenses against the laws of this Nation; and

Whereas, Ample time and opportunity have been afforded him to tender his resignation to the General Assembly; and

Whereas, It would appear that the continued enjoyment by him of the honors and emoluments of the office of Chief Clerk of this Assembly would tend to reflect upon this Assembly in the minds of the people of the State of Pennsylvania, and would tend to subject this Assembly to the criticism of all right-thinking people;

Now, Be It Resolved, That the said Eugene F. White be called upon to tender his resignation as Chief Clerk of this body, and that, in the event of his failure so to do, immediately upon the transmission of this Resolution to him, the said office be declared vacant and this body proceed to the election of a successor.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections? The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

The resolution lies over under the rules.

RESOLUTION No. 16

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 16, Printer's No. 92.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 5, 1933.

Whereas The local relief boards in some localities have required all recipients of relief to surrender the registration plates of their motor vehicles before granting relief and

Whereas In certain cases such actions have resulted in hardships since the owners of vehicles have been deprived of their use in necessary cases therefore be it

Resolved That the House of Representatives request the State Emergency Relief Board to instruct local relief boards to exercise care in enforcing the requirements that motor vehicle registration plates be surrendered by recipients of relief and that such plates be immediately restored to any persons if the same will enable the person to secure work or is required by such person for the transportation of water or other necessities of life

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the State Emergency Relief Board by the acting Chief Clerk

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION No. 5

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 5, Printer's No. 32.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, November 28, 1933.

Whereas, This House by its action has already passed upon the propriety of dispensing vinous and distilled liquor for consumption off the premises by State controlled stores and of the establishment and management of such stores by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board; and

Whereas, The sale of vinous and distilled liquors for consumption on the premises is a question which more intimately concerns the individual and should possibly be placed beyond the regulatory powers of a board not personally cognizant of local conditions and feelings; and

Whereas, There are communities in which a strong sentiment prevails against the prohibition placed by expected legislation upon the right of individuals to partake of liquor at bars; and

Whereas, The control of the sale of vinous and distilled liquors for consumption on the premises is a responsibility that could more intelligently and fairly be handled by local authorities who better know local conditions; therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of five members of this House to be appointed by the Speaker shall, immediately after the adjournment of this Extraordinary Session, undertake a study of this question and make a report to this House not later than February 1st, 1935, and shall accompany their report by bills which will have the effect, if enacted, of permitting counties to either adopt the system of sales of vinous and distilled liquors as contained in House Bill No. 10, or to provide for the licensing by proper local authorities of persons or places for the sale of such liquors for consumption on the premises in such manner as the committee shall determine; and be it further

Resolved, That the members of such committee shall be reimbursed for amounts actually expended for railroad fare and hotel accommodations, and shall have the power to appoint and fix the compensation of necessary stenographers, payments for which expenses and compensation shall be made out of an item to be inserted in an amendment to the General Appropriation Bill of 1933.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The Clerk proceeded to call the roll.

The SPEAKER. The Chair withdraws the calling of the roll and directs a new roll call. The Chair insists that the members answer when their names are called.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of information, may I ask are we voting on House Bill 62?

The SPEAKER. House Bill No. 62, Printer's No. 53.

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 62, Printer's No. 53, be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The SPEAKER. The Chair regrets to inform the gentleman that there is nothing before the body except the calling of the roll.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I inadvertently over looked the bill not realizing that House Bill No. 80 was improperly on the calendar and therefore I did not make any remarks on the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to permit the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, to discuss House Bill No. 6, Printer's No. 53, is that the request of the gentleman?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to discuss the bill and ask for further consideration of the bill.

The SPEAKER. That is the gentleman's privilege, and he will proceed.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia for the time being.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill in its present form is an appropriation to the Department of the Auditor General, to the Treasury Department and to the Department of Public Instruction. The appropriation to the Department of the Auditor General is increased from three hundred and sixty thousand dollars to eight hundred and eighty-two thousand dollars, and the appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction is in the sum of one hundred thousand dollars. The bill very clearly points out that the appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction is to provide funds out of the general fund with which to meet the expenses of that department in connection with the establishment of the state stores.

It is not necessary for me to assume that the increase in the amount of the appropriation to the Department of the Auditor General in some five hundred thousand dollars is also for the purpose of providing that department with funds that it believes necessary because of the added work that it will have on account of audits and other services in connection with state stores, but it is obvious to me that all of the money necessary to maintain and operate state stores within the contemplation of the Assembly is to come from the funds realized in undertaking the state store business.

If this bill passes it means that the funds that come into the state store fund will not be burdened with the expenses contemplated to be covered by the increases in this act to the Auditor General's Office or Department and the funds provided to the Department of Public Instruction.

For the reason, Mr. Speaker, I believe that the bill should at this time be placed on the postponed calendar until an adjustment of these differences might be made, and I make that motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Section 8 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WESTRICK. In my file, Mr. Speaker, I find that there is an error in the printing, on page four from line 19 to the bottom of the page, and it is pretty hard to interpret the thought that the bill means to give.

The SPEAKER. What is the point that the gentleman has raised? The Chair was unable to hear the gentleman.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, on page 4 of this bill from line 19 to the bottom of the page there seems to be a printer's error, and it is hard to get the interpretation of the thought. I would like to ask whether we are to consider this bill without making sure what thought it gives?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has not seen the print as yet. Does the gentleman have before him Printer's No. 52?

Mr. WESTRICK. I have Printer's No. 95, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair informs the gentleman that the Clerk has given the Chair the wrong Printer's Number. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Westrick, that lines 20 and 23 are simply transposed, and that would make sense in the reading of the bill. Does the gentleman object to the consideration of the bill insofar as the House is concerned, after having had an opportunity to read it?

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Speaker, I still do not get the sense, even though I have transposed those two lines.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman will refer to Printer's No. 52, then he will ascertain how the bill should read correctly. Is the gentleman now satisfied?

Mr. WESTRICK. I will withdraw the objection with the understanding, Mr. Speaker, that the bill will be corrected in the Senate.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman for calling his attention to the error, and the bill will be reprinted properly.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 169, entitled:

An Act authorizing the erection and construction by the Department of Property and Supplies of a State tuberculosis sanatorium; placing the sanatorium upon completion under the jurisdiction and control of the Department of Health, and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of this House, this bill, if I understand it correctly, seeks to authorize the erection and construction of a State tuberculosis sanatarium and appropriate for that purpose the sum of $800,000. No one will gainsay the worthiness of the cause, but everyone will admit that the Commonwealth cannot impose upon itself an obligation involving as much money as this bill involves without knowing from whence the money may come, and it seems to me that the House should move slowly before it proceeds to pass this measure.

I would like to call to the attention of the sponsor of the bill that there is now pending in the Senate, Senate Bill No. 1, introduced by Senator Scott, that seeks to set up a plan for the expenditure of what is commonly known as the State Public Works Buildings, and in that Act there is a provision that money raised under it shall be in part used for additional buildings and for improvements to buildings of State mental hospitals and other welfare institutions.

Now, it seems to me that if there is a great need in this Commonwealth for additional service in institutions of the type contemplated under the Act now under consideration, the sponsor of the bill will have his wish gratified by the use through the Department of Welfare of such funds as will come to it under Senate Bill No. 1, but gentlemen, I cannot too strongly emphasize that we cannot stand idly by and permit appropriation measures involving as much money as this one does to pass through this House or even give our affirmative vote to such a measure, assuming that it does not accumulate enough votes to pass, without first being definitely assured that the money is available for the purposes required under this Act, and until that information comes to the House, it seems to me to be the duty of the members of the House to vote "no" on the measure.

Mr. WILLIAM L. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if any of you will go over to Dr. Appel, you will find that they are not getting a tuberculosis patient in the Cresson Hospital. He states that there are a thousand or more on the waiting list.

I just took a patient over there recently, and was informed that some of them had to wait two years to get in there, so that I think for as worthy a cause as this we could surely raise some money for it.

Mr. BEECH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this session was called for humanitarian purposes. One of the most humanitarian purposes that could be put before the people of this state at the present time is to aid the suffering.

At the present time, according to the information received from Dr. Appel, we have two thousand people on the waiting list to go into the sanitariums. There are in the three hospitals at the present time three thousand beds. This hospital would take care of approximately one thousand beds, and I earnestly request and ask for the passage of this bill.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 192, entitled:

An Act making appripriations to the Department of Welfare for pensions for the blind and for the administration of the distribution of such pensions

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when this bill passes the House, this body during this special session will have approved appropriations slightly in excess of one hundred million dollars. We have voted eight million dollars for old age assistance, fifty million dollars for the soldiers, forty million dollars for unemployment relief, eight hundred thousand dollars for a sanitarium, and now one million three hundred thousand dollars for pensions for the blind.

At the regular session the tax payers from various parts of this state stormed this capital demanding reductions in expenditures and a curtailment in appropriations. Their answer and our answers to the exigencies of the times is to convene in special session under the name of social legislation and inaugurate our campaign by appropriating one hundred million dollars. The local communities, the counties, the municipalities, have all brought their problems to the doorstep of the state. We have the blind, we have the soldiers, we have the old aged, we have the schools, we have the roads. It is those back at home, the people that think that this legislature possesses some magic to touch the rock of bankruptcy and cause abundant revenues to flow forth. Business is prostrated. The formula of social legislation doesn't raise revenue. One hundred million dollars, gentlemen and there is not that much money; there is not that much money to dedicate to social legislation simply because the municipalities, the counties, and the people back home are avoiding their responsibility. I oppose this measure because it is wrong in principle. The people of Pennsylvania have approved the idea of pensions for the blind. I disapprove and disapproving I must stand by my convictions.

Schools for the blind, yes; institutional care and institutional training for the blind, yes; but pensions are an entirely different principle. There is no more reason why we should vote pensions in the home for the blind than there is that we should vote pensions in the home for the crippled or the deformed. There is no reason why this legislature should give preference to one particular form of affliction.

I am conscious of the fact that this bill will probably pass. We are in a strange period, gentlemen. We have only to say that this bill is a bill pertaining to social legislation and apparently there is no extravagence that we will not swallow because of that plea. One hundred million dollars, and by the end of the week I presume our enactments will total a hundred and twenty-five million dollars. As our reply to the distressed in business circles, and our truckling to the sentiment back home, which evades the responsibilities of the counties, which evades the responsibilities of the municipalities, which evades the responsibilities of the local taxpayers and brings every human problem and lays it upon the door step of the state. We cannot do it. You can try it but you are heading this state into bankruptcy.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think the speech made by my friend from Cambria was perhaps made before every Legislature consecutively for years and years. I do want to say, however, that the mandate of the people in this State was very plain on November 7th. If this Legislature is not big enough to take care of the social obligation of those who cannot see to take care of themselves, I think they deserve to go home and stay there, and I ask you, ladies and gentlemen of the House, to give to the sightless and the afflicted that which justly belongs to them, a bit of social sunshine. I ask you to vote for this bill.

Mr. LOSE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have only a word to add. Mr. Fitzgerald has already said part of that, that we have a mandate from the people to grant these pensions to the blind. The regulatory measures give the smallest amount that possibly can be given to the blind, that is a maximum of $30 a month to the needy blind; not all of the blind in the State, but to the needy blind. That is just a little more than the average of the twenty-two states in the Union that now grant pensions to the blind. This Assembly will either have to pass on this bill and have this bill put through at this time, or the thing would have to be done at the regular session, and it seems to me that it is hardly fair to the blind to ask them to wait a year and a half before the pensions are granted to them. This thing has been done just as carefully at it is possible to do it, and it seems to me the members of the House ought to vote in favor of this bill.

On the question recurring,

JOINT COMMITTEE TO MAKE AN INVESTIGATION CONCERNING THE COST OF MANUFACTURE AND IMPORTATION OF SPIRITUOUS ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Appropriations:

In the House of Representatives, December 5, 1933.

Whereas, The General Assembly of this Commonwealth has enacted or will hereafter enact certain measures imposing taxes on distilled and rectified spirits and wines; and

Whereas, The General Assembly intended to fix the tax at such a point that the Commonwealth could receive necessary revenue, and legitimate dealers in alcoholic beverages could dispense them at a price which would eliminate bootleggers, racketeers and moonshiners by making their trade unprofitable; and

Whereas, It now appears that the price of legal liquors and wines to the consumer is going to be higher than that charged by illegal dispensers of such products; and

Whereas, It was the intention of this Legislature to make alcoholic beverages available to those who want them at a price which would stop illegal trading in them; and

Whereas, The Twenty-first Amendment to the Federal Constitution imposes on the States, meaning the Legislators and Governors of the separate States, the power to control and regulate the handling of alcoholic beverages; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That a Joint Legislative Committee is hereby created to consist of three Members of the House to be appointed by the Speaker of the House and two Senators to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, for the purpose of determining the exact cost of the manufacture and importation of spirituous alcoholic beverages and the price at which such beverages should be sold in order to make unprofitable the trade of those unlawfully engaged in the sale thereof.

The said committee shall organize immediately after the appointment of the members thereof, and shall make a report to the General Assembly as expeditiously as possible, and shall accompany the same with such suggestions as they may decide will effectually discourage and prevent the illegal manufacture and sale of alcohol beverages; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the members of such committee shall be reimbursed for amounts actually expended for railroad fare and hotel accommodations, and shall have the power to appoint and fix the compensation of necessary stenographers, payments for which expenses and compensation shall be made out of an item to be inserted in an amendment to the General Appropriation Bill of 1933.

Almighty God, we thank Thee for the inspiration Thou hast vouchsafed to human instrumentality in the ordering of the affairs of men. When Thy servant Abraham struck out into new and untried ways Thou did'st promise to be with him and bless him. Let Thy blessing be upon this Legislature as it seeks to find new ways of correcting old wrongs. May they find and apply new principles, that the halt, the blind, the old, the young, the rich and the poor may live together on a broader basis of human brotherhood. Graciously enlighten the minds of these Thy servants as they study the principles and practices of our social order, and may they each enact laws in the light of human values and human needs. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that the resolutions offered last evening (December 11) are not on file. The Chair will endeavor to have them placed upon the desks of the members as soon as possible.

DISCHARGING COMMITTEE FROM CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 163

Mr. HOWARD offered a resolution which was twice read by the Clerk as follows:

December 11, 1933.

Resolved, That the Committee on Elections be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 163 and that the Bill be placed on the Calendar notwithstanding the action of the Committee.

On the question,
Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, may I say that the Committee on Elections has met every week of this session with the exception of the first week, in which they met and organized. The particular bill in question, House Bill No. 163, which is known as the "one party bill" provides against candidates for certain offices being candidates on more than one party ticket. This bill was considered by the committee on last Wednesday afternoon and at that time by vote of the committee was again postponed.

The sponsor of this bill spoke to me last night in the House and I gave him that information and told him out of courtesy to him, and because of his interest in the bill, and despite the fact that this is the only bill now in the Committee on Elections at the present time which has not been definitely postponed or reported to this House, I informed the sponsor that out of courtesy to him I would call a meeting of this committee today for the sole purpose of considering this bill.

That is all the information that I can give the House, except to say that this bill has had the consideration of the committee on last Wednesday and the action was almost unanimous to postpone action on the bill. I would, therefore ask the House to defeat the motion.

Mr. Speaker, may I also state in order to clear the atmosphere, that one of the objections raised to this bill is that it does not come within the call.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is the truth that Mr. Blumberg tells you, but this committee, I understand him to say, was to meet yesterday afternoon or yesterday evening and it has not done so.

All I ask is that this bill be brought to the floor of the House. I am not asking for any undue movement by the committee in favor of myself or anybody else, but I do think that this bill should come to the floor of the House. I don't think this is the time to pickle this bill, which I know is in progress today. I would like to see this bill placed upon the calendar. I have no censure against the committee. There are only seven members left and they did not even have notice to appear there. The meeting was not placed upon the board even.

I ask for the vote of this House and I ask for a roll call on this motion.

The request for a roll call was seconded by Mr. Cannon.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Howard and Mr. Cannon and were as follows:

SYMPATHY EXTENDED ON DEATH OF HONORABLE WILLIAM W. ROPER

Mr. CONNER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

In the House of Representatives, December 12, 1933.

Death has again reached out its discriminating hand and from the political life of Philadelphia has removed an outstanding figure and in the circle of those who devote their energies to the athletic training of the youth of the Nation has created an unfillable void.

As a bright scintillating athletic star during his college days at Princeton University and as the successful coach of the football teams of his Alma Mater, the Honorable William W. Roper was known throughout the Nation.

As a courageous and independent Republican and a member of councils in the City of Philadelphia who valiantly fought for those principles he so deeply believed were for the best interests of those he represented, he won the admiration, respect and esteem of all who knew him.

His outstanding qualities of courage and independence in all important matter effecting the city he so deeply loved, distinguished him throughout his public career, endeared him to his colleagues in councils and to the citizens of Philadelphia, therefore be it

Resolved, That in his sudden unexpected and untimely death, his friends, the City of Philadelphia, and the Commonwealth of Pennsyvania have sustained a serious loss, the councils of the City of Pennsylvania have lost a valued member and his constituents are deprived of the services of a warm, staunch and courageous advocate of their cause, and be it further

Resolved, That this resolution be spread upon the Journal of this House and that a copy thereof be forwarded to the sorrowing widow of the said Honorable William W. Roper.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I think there is a mistake in both House Bill No. 117, Printer's No. 103, on page 5 of today's calendar, the bill which has just been read, and House Bill No. 117, Printer's No. 103, on page 8 of today's calendar. If you will refer to page 8, you will find the same bill number and the same printer's number on a bill of which I am the sponsor, and I happen to know that that is the correct bill number and printer's number on my bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that the correct bill number for the bill on page 5 is House Bill No. 171, Printer's No. 119. The title as it appears on the calendar is correct. Are there objections to this bill being read the first time? The Chair hears none and the bill will be read.
